Insurance Man Is Promoted; Given Reception

Chas. E. Murphy Made Manager of Lynn Office

The Newton Staff of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, under the management of Mr. E. A. Robertson, tendered a farewell dinner to Mr. Charles E. Murphy, of 324 Adams street, this city, at the Copley-Plaza Hotel, Wednesday evening, Nov. 30. The dinner was in honor of Mr. Murphy's recent promotion to a manager with the company at Lynn, Mass.

Mr. Murphy entered the employ of the company seventeen years ago as an agent in the Worcester, Mass., District. Two years later he was promoted to be Assistant Manager in a detached office at Uxbridge, Mass., where he remained for six years. He was then transferred to the Newton District, where he remained until his promotion as manager.

Mr. E. A. Robertson acted as toastmaster, in his usual suave manner. Among those present from the Home Office at New York were Mr. Walter S. J. Shepherd, Superintendent of Agencies of New England; Mr. Andrew Gerry, and Mrs. Robert W. Jewell, Supervisors; also Mr. David McIntyre, Manager at Roxbury, and Mr. Arthur J. Murphy, Manager at South Boston, Dr. Francis Doherty, the company's physician, Mr. Edward Murphy, attorney, son of Charles E. Murphy.

Mr. Edward J. Barrett, senior Assistant Manager, made the presentation speech of the many gifts showered upon Mr. Murphy; also to Mr. Robert H. Stadtmann, who was promoted from an agent to a Home Office Inspector, and to Mr. Harry S. Orr, who was promoted to an Assistant Manager to succeed Mr. Murphy. Gifts were also presented to Mr. P. J. Brown, Mr. Alexander Ford, and Mr. Frank McLaughlin, three veterans who are retiring from active service on a pension, after serving over 30 years each.

Entertainment was furnished by Mr. Frank Bowen, pianist, an agent of the Newton office, Mr. Frank Riley, Mr. Larry Jenkins, and Mr. Frank Quinlan.

VOLKMAN CHRISTMAS SEAL ARTIST

The well known artist Volkman was the artist who designed the attractive seal being used this year by health organizations throughout the country in order to finance the coming year's work in the great fight against tuberculosis. Mr. Volkman used his own children as models in painting the design of the Christmas carolers.

Edward Davison To Lecture In West Newton

Popular English Poet-Critic at Unitarian Church Sunday

Edward Davison, noted young English poet and critic will be the speaker at the third in the Fall series of Lectures and recitals at the West Newton Unitarian Church on Sunday evening, December 4th, at eight o'clock. He will speak on "Poetry and the Practical Man." Possessing a fine singing voice, one of the most interesting phases of his lecture is his singing of illustrative English folk songs.

No English poet of the younger generation is so well known to American audiences. Since 1925 he has spoken to Universities, colleges, clubs, schools, and literary societies in thirty states. The number of his repeat engagements approaches a record, and he has been many times engaged by the same organization for two and even three successive years.

Born in Scotland in 1898 at the age of 16 he enlisted in the British naval service. After demobilization he studied at St. John's College, Cambridge, and from then on his rise as a leading literary figure has been rapid. He taught English for a while at Vassar College but resigned to take up work in the lecture field. In 1930 he was awarded a fellowship of the Guggenheim Foundation, an honor never previously conferred on an Englishman.

The lecture will be preceded by a half-hour organ recital by Wm. Ellis Weston, commencing at 7:30 P. M. The general public are cordially invited to attend.

JAMES P. GALLAGHER HONORED BY FRIENDS

More than 100 friends of James P. Gallagher gathered at the Sandy Burr Golf Club at Wayland on Wednesday night to congratulate him on his recent appointment as clerk of the Newton District Court. Thomas L. Ryan officiated as master of ceremonies. Among those who spoke were Mayor Weeks, Senator Arthur Hollis, Assistant District Attorneys Volpe and Andrews, Judge Lloyd Allen, Police Chief Hughes, Street Commissioner Stuart, Edward P. Gallagher, City Councilor of Boston, Hon. Daniel J. Gallagher of Dorchester, Senator Owen Gallagher of Dorchester, Dr. Thomas M. Gallagher, Thomas J. Lyons, James H. Brennan of the Governor's Council and ex-Senator John Brennan. In behalf of the gathering Mayor Weeks presented the guest of the evening with a mahogany office desk and chairs.

Ex-Mayor Childs Heads Salvation Army Campaign

Former Mayor Edwin O. Childs has accepted the chairmanship of the Salvation Army Appeal in Newton for $5000 which opened this week when more than 5000 letters were sent out carrying the army's message of mercy.

William M. Cahill, of the Newton Trust Company, is acting as treasurer for the local drive and the checks, money orders and cash donated is to be made payable to includes Hon. Sinclair Weeks, Miss Bertha Allen, Mrs. John F. Capron, Rev. Ray A. Eusden, D.D., John M. Fitzgerald, Edward J. Frost, Roland F. Gammons, Charles E. Hatfield, Rev. Everett C. Herrick, D.D., Michael T. Hughes, Harry L. Jones, James B. Melcher, Clarence W. Randlett, William T. Rich, Frank L. Richardson, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D.D., and Guy M. Winslow, P.H.D.

The drive will include all of the Newtons and will continue for about four weeks or through the week of Christmas. The Army participates in no way with other Newton charities, and its needs this year are more than ever before. A donation no matter how small will be gratefully acknowledged and will go a long way in relieving the sufferings and hardships visited upon many especially with the coming of winter.

Newton Policeman Takes Long Trip

Special Officer Frank Feeley of the Newton police started this week on the longest official journey ever taken by a Newton policeman. Accompanied by Inspector Daniel O'Connell of the Somerville police he went to Albuquerque, New Mexico, to bring back Thomas Silver, 24, of Bennett street, Waltham, who is charged with having been implicated in burglaries at Newton, Somerville, Acton and Stow. Silver was arrested in New Mexico for having committed an assault. He gave the name of Walter Ryan. His fingerprints were sent to the National Identification Bureau at Washington and his real identity thereby revealed.

Two alleged accomplices of Silver, young men who are residents of this city, were arrested sometime ago and are now prisoners in the Barnstable County Jail. The expense of sending the two policemen to New Mexico to get Silver will be borne by Middlesex County.

JUNIOR ASSEMBLY AT BRAE BURN

Mrs. Norman Bingham, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson and Mrs. H. Stanley Hyde of West Newton and Mrs. Hubert Carter of Newtonville were hostesses at a sub-deb junior assembly at the Brae Burn Country Club on Thanksgiving evening. Mr. Bradford Bachrach headed the list of ushers which included the following: William Bittenbender, Robert Cotton, Alonson Davis, Malcolm Floyd, Charles Bullock, Edward Rowe, Herbert Vose, George Lauriat, Duncan Cotting and Stewart Gibson.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Install Officers

The annual installation of officers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was held at the State Armory November 30. The installation was open to the public and an estimated crowd of about 1100 attended.

The installing officer was Comrade Chesley McKenzie, J. V. C., assisted by Degree Team of Sgt. A. Colleary, Post V. F. W. of Marlboro. After the installation the Degree team gave an exhibition drill.

The following were installed: David L. Keefe, Commander; Patrick Cooney, S. V. C.; Charles Marden, J. V. C.; Joseph Arata, Q. M.; Robert Murray, Chaplain; Bernard Feinstein, Surgeon; Hugh Boyd, Post Advocate; Arthur L. Gaw, O. D.; Harold Elliot, Adjutant; Ray Adams, Q. M. Sgt.; Christopher Norton, Sgt. Major; John Hickey, Historian; Thomas Treddin, Patriotic Instructor; Stewart Evans, Service Officer; Raymond W. Gaffo, Guard; Color Bearers, Harry Hersum, Warren Drury; Sentinel, Frank Regle.

State Dept. V. F. W. officers, City Officials and several comrades from neighboring cities attended the affair as well as several auxiliary members throughout the State.

A very impressive and solemn feature of the evening was when Commander Keefe called attention to every one in hall and in standing, faced to the West and at sounding of taps all paid tribute to all departed comrades.

Floral pieces were presented by Commander Keefe to Mrs. Richard Bannan, a sister of Eugene Joseph Daley, on behalf of the Post and to Miss Mary Keefe, sister of Past Commander Keefe to show appreciation for services rendered to her brother. A gold badge was pinned on to Past Commander Keefe by J. V. C. Chesley McKenzie on behalf of the post as a token of esteem. A huge floral piece was presented to Commander Keefe on behalf of the post.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS MAN LOSES VALUABLE PAPERS

A brief case containing valuable papers was stolen from the car of Harry P. Forte, 115 Allerton road, Newton Highlands, while it was parked in front of the University Club, Boston. The brief case was recovered the next day in a Boston pawnshop, but the papers were missing. A reward of $250 was offered for their return.

Red Cross Still Needs 1500 More Members

At the present time the Newton Red Cross Roll Call membership enrollments have reached 4572. The goal is 6000 members.

This year it has been difficult in the confusion of these hard times and in the confusion of money appeals from other sources to make clear the financial needs of the Red Cross. They exist and can be met as far as Newton's share of all expenses is concerned by the completion of the quota of 6000 members.

The Red Cross does not press the people of Newton to join but invites them to "stay with" their Red Cross organization which exists and subsists on the $1.00 a year membership fee per person and on the sympathetic personal support of each individual member.

The Newton Chapter at the present moment has a further need and that is for competent volunteers to assist in the sewing of garments that are being made for the needy of Newton. These garments are being cut and assembled under the direction of the Production Committee. It is urged that those who have already accepted sewing hurry the completion of the garments so that the distribution to the needy may take place as quickly as possible.

The address of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross is 12 Austin street, Newtonville, and the telephone number is Newton North 2717.

Ex-Policeman Fuller Honored

A reception was tendered "Bill" Fuller, retired police officer of Newtonville, at I. O. O. F. Hall, 15 South Gate Park, on Nov. 29 by about seventy-five of his friends in and around Newtonville. They even started with a reception during which music was furnished by a four piece orchestra. A short entertainment followed this after which Mr. Thomas Ryan introduced Ex Mayor Edwin O. Childs who after many complimentary remarks and praise for the work of "Friend Bill" and officers of Newton, presented Mr. Fuller with an electric clock and an easy chair. After a collation of sandwiches, cake and coffee was served the party retired to the hall where the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

$168,546 Pledged To Community Chest Fund

Upper Falls First Over Top and Auburndale Next

At the third meeting of the Community Chest workers, held last Monday night at the High School, it was announced that Newton Upper Falls had achieved the honor of being the first of the twelve villages to raise its quota, its workers having exceeded its quota of $950 by more than $100. It was also announced that Auburndale was second in the race with $15,228 of its $18,750 already pledged.

The grand total of $168,546 for the entire city had been pledged at the time of the meeting. Former Mayor Edwin O. Childs and Edward J. Frost addressed the workers. Leon B. Rogers, President of the Chest organization, presided.

It was announced that the campaign will be continued until December 12, in order that the large lists of names may be entirely covered by the working organization. Every house in the city is to be canvassed, and it is expected that this can be accomplished by the date set.

A feature of the meeting was the appearance of five newsboys calling an extra—the copy of the Newton Community Chest Crisis, which was later distributed all through the city through the courtesy of the Boston Herald-Traveler. The newsboys were recruited from the Stearns School, Nonantum, through the aid of Principal Kenell Winslow, and were the hit of the evening.

Several reports have come in of unauthorized solicitation for funds in the City, and the Newton Community Chest, Inc., has again announced that it is the only local organization at present authorized to seek welfare funds for the fifteen agencies comprising the Chest.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB REHEARSES FOR DEC. 13

The Highland Glee Club of Newton has been rehearsing during the past two months for its December concert to be given Tuesday, December 13th. There are more than sixty singing members this season and the program arranged by D. Ralph MacLean, Director, is one to delight all music lovers. In addition to the male voices, there will be selected voices of women from various parts of Newton, to assist in antiphonal singing. This feature will be an innovation in Glee Club singing.

Little Interest in City Election

Contests For Only 7 of 14 Aldermanic Seats; No Contests For School Committee

Either the citizens of Newton are quite satisfied with the men who comprise the City Government or there is pronounced apathy in this city over who is elected to the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee. Fourteen Aldermen and three members of the School Committee are to be elected on Dec. 13. Seven of the Aldermen to be elected will have no opposition. These fortunate individuals are—Thomas M. Gallagher, Alderman at Large from Ward 1; Roy V. Collins, Alderman at Large, and Donald M. Hill, Ward Alderman from Ward 2; Maynard Hutchinson who is the only candidate for Alderman at Large from Ward 3; Charles B. Floyd, Alderman at Large from Ward 4; James R. Chandler, Ward Alderman from Ward 5; Frederick A. Hawkins, Ward Alderman from Ward 7.

Gallagher first became a member of the Board of Aldermen in 1925, Collins in 1922, Hill in 1932, Floyd in 1929, Chandler in 1930, and Hawkins in 1926. Hutchinson is a candidate for Alderman for the first time.

In Ward 1, William A. Sprout of 14 Thornton street, who is serving his first year as Ward Alderman, has two opponents—Edward A. Fahey of 60 Allison street, Nonantum, and Edward F. Murphy of 324 Adams street, Newton. Sprout is a life-long resident of Newton Corner and has lived in Ward 1 for 40 years. He has been associated with the Walworth Manufacturing Company of Boston for over 25 years, and he has been prominent in fraternal organizations in this city. Edward A. Fahey, also a life-long resident of Newton, is 29 years of age and is a lawyer by profession. Heretofore he has not been active in politics. Edward F. Murphy is also a lawyer. He was born in Northbridge and has been a resident of this city for about 10 years. He has lived in Ward 1 only since 1930.

In Ward 3, Bernard D. Farrell, Jr., who is serving his first year as Ward Alderman, will have Alfred V. Guzzi of Mague place as an opponent. Farrell is engaged in the oil business and has been prominent in athletic and social activities at West Newton. Guzzi, who is 25 years old, is employed as a janitor at the Levi Warren School. He formerly was employed on the Street Department and is Vice President of Glee Club singing.

NEWTON GIRLS DEFEAT ALUMNI

The Newton High School varsity girls field hockey team defeated the alumni 3-1 last Friday. Despite the efforts of Ethel Brown, field hockey coach at Brookline, who made the only tally for the alumni, and Peg Fletcher, Barbara Furbush, who were rotating positions, the varsity had no trouble at all.

Elizabeth Quirk, Barbara Mildram, and Lucille Wing accounted for the varsity goals. Captain Phinney was again in the limelight with her passing and breaking up of the enemy shots.

Barbara Phinney's senior team gained the right to play in the finals of the class hockey title by defeating Barbara Wolley's team 1-0. Elizabeth Quirk, Newton's star forward, made the only goal.

Miss Waldron's juniors defeated a sophomore team captained by Harriet Morgan 1-0. Jane Arend made the only tally.

In the finals Phinney's team defeated Waldron's team 3-0. Elizabeth Quirk was the outstanding player. She passed, blocked, and made two goals. Miss Herlihy made the other goal. In this game the whole senior team acted as a unit, each one carrying out their assignments.

Deborah Wing, Jane Arund and Mary Waldron were the best players on the junior team.

SPORT NOTES

Lamb Elected Captain

The election of Captain Lamb of Newtonville as captain of the North-eastern University cross country team for next fall breaks a precedent at the Boston school in naming a sophomore as captain of a varsity sport. Lamb, who is 19 years old, has had a brilliant track career. When at Newton high he made two track letters and one cross country letter, placing well up in many races. Last year he starred for the freshman harrier team at N. U. This fall he has competed in 6 cross country races, 4 of which were dual meets. He placed 7th against N. H. and 4th against Bates but in both races was the first Husky to finish. In the race against Tufts Lamb waited for his teammates, Capt. Morang and Catley and the three finished in a tie for first. At the Harvard intercollegiate open race he helped the Huskies into third place as a team by finishing 6th. At the New England intercollegiate he placed 16th, the first Husky to score. In the final race against Mass. State the local youth was beaten by an eyelash by Catley in the final sprint to the tape after the pair had battled shoulder to shoulder all the way.

Wrestling for Tufts

Gordon Linberg, former Newton high athlete, is on the Tufts wrestling squad. He is New England intercollegiate heavyweight champion and is one of the mainstays of the Jumbos team.

Harrington May Play Forward

Dan Harrington who has starred for Boston University hockey team as a defense player the past two seasons may play a forward position as a third line forward. He will be a member of the second line which Coach Wayland Vaughan, a former Newton and Yale hockey star, is developing. A wealth of defense material will permit the shift. Harrington showed promise as a forward in one of the practice sessions this week when he was a high scorer.

Wilson Out of Hockey

Art Wilson, who surprised many two years ago by making the Boston University hockey team as a forward without having previously played organized team hockey, will not be on the Terrier squad this winter. Wilson underwent an operation during the summer and will confine his efforts to the baseball team next spring. He is captain-elect of the varsity nine.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

FOUR PLACES ON ALL-OPPONENT TEAM TO NEWTON PLAYERS

Newton High School football players win four of the thirteen places on the GRAPHIC'S All-opponent team for the 1932 season. This team is selected from a composite rating of players who have opposed Newton this year and have been selected on the various teams chosen by the sports writers of the daily papers. As would be expected Arlington, the only team to defeat Newton this season, Everett and Somerville, the latter giving Newton its hardest league battle, draw two places each while Waltham, Rindge, and Brookline with one each round out this eleven which is as strong as any all-team mentioned.

Warren Huston and Alexander, the two outstanding players on the Newton eleven, led all other candidates for the GRAPHIC team. Kevorkian, having been chosen on every all-scholastic team, this season rates as the leading tackle of the season. In our opinion Huston, though falling to the third place, is a player of the future. During the season he showed the qualities of leadership, in addition to playing ability on both offense and defense, to give him the award as the honorary captain of our eleven. Captain Ananis of Rindge, who was given a bit more recognition than Huston by various sports writers, is our fullback choice. Although a hard running back and a strong defensive player Huston is the more finished player of the two. Eddie Crovo of Arlington is a third member of our backfield who received general recognition this fall. Crovo was to the Arlington team what Ananis was to Rindge, the spark plug of the eleven. Joe Pini of Everett is awarded the other backfield berth in a close race with Palmer York of Newton and Yeto Blekaltis of Waltham captain. The Everett whirlwind was given the utility backfield berth on two elevens and a second team backfield berth on two others. York was given a utility backfield position on one eleven, a third team rating on two others, and a first team berth on the Suburban league team. As this selection is confined to players on but five teams it is not quite sufficient to give the edge over Blekaltis, who has the edge over Pini. York, however, has the edge over Blekaltis of Waltham for the utility backfield berth. The Waltham leader was given a second team rating by two sports writers and a third team rating by one. York's ability at running back punts was unsurpassed by any schoolboy of the season as far as we can learn. Five of his runs chalked up touchdowns for the orange and black eleven and enabled Newton to annex its victory over Cambridge Latin to start the Suburban league season in proper fashion. Possibly the value of York to the Newton team was overshadowed somewhat by Huston's presence. It need only be said that either one of the pair would be most welcome by any coach and the two together are responsible for a great part of Newton's success this season.

The end positions are won by Clarke of Arlington and Swartz of Brookline although Parker of Waltham was in the running all the way. While Parker seemed to have the edge over Swartz of Brookline in the games with Newton the latter's play throughout the season was apparently more consistent than that of the Watch City player. As we stated Kevorkian rates one of the tackle positions but his teammate on the opposite side of the line was one of the hardest selections to make. Murphy of Somerville, a consistent performer all season and particularly effective in the Newton game, gets the berth after careful deliberation. Houghton of Newton, Dumas of Everett, and Manoli of Arlington were other candidates who were possibilities. Having played at centre for Huntington two years ago and starting the 1932 season at end for Newton before moving to tackle we have given Houghton the utility line position on our eleven and the tackle berth to Murphy.

Luciano, Somerville captain, and Collura of Waltham draw the guard berths. Both were leading players on their respective elevens and were continually the main factors in stopping the Newton attack when it became threatening. Furness of Everett and Carpenter of Melrose were other good guards but we believe that Luciano and Collura were the season's standouts.

There was a dearth of centre material this season and had either Dick Francis or Charlie Thompson, Newton boys, been at this post all season we think it possible that either might have captured the berth which has been awarded to Moss of Everett. Francis was coming along in great fashion when an injury to his knee forced him to give up the sport for the remainder of the year. Thompson, who had been battling all season to wrest the starting position away from Francis jumped into the breach in great style and was a strong point in the Newton defense whenever in the game.

Thus the GRAPHIC team lines up as follows:
le—Swartz, Brookline.
lg—Kevorkian, Newton. lg—Collura, Waltham.
c—Moss, Everett.
rg—Luciano, Somerville.
rt—Murphy, Somerville.
ro—Clarke, Arlington.
qb—Huston, Newton, captain.
lhb—Crovo, Arlington.
rhb—Pini, Everett.
fb—Ananis, Rindge.
utility—York, Newton, back.
utility—Houghton, Newton, line.

An interesting comparison is found between the GRAPHIC team and that chosen as an All-opponent team by Coach Ralph Sanborn, who naturally refrains from naming his own players. Coach Sanborn's all team, based on the play in games against Newton puts Clarke of Arlington and Parker of Waltham at the ends; Collura of Waltham and Murphy of Somerville at the tackles; Luciano of Somerville and Manning of Rindge at the guard positions; Moss at centre; Ananis of Quincy at quarterback; Crovo and Blekaltis of Waltham as halfbacks, and Ananis at fullback.

THOMPSON TO CAPTAIN 1933 NEWTON ELEVEN

Charles Thompson, centre on the Newton High School football team the past season, has been elected to the captaincy of the 1933 eleven. The election took place at a meeting of the 27 letter men on Tuesday. Thompson is the first lineman named to lead the eleven since 1929 all captains since then having been backfield players.

Thompson is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Thompson of Walnut street, Newton Highlands. Last year as a sophomore he was one of the outstanding stars of the intermediate varsity team. This season he shared the pivot position with Dick Francis. Throughout the entire season Thompson battled on teams that on even terms for the starting honor. In several of the early season games Francis got the call because of his greater offensive charge although Thompson saw considerable action and was a defensive asset. In mid-season he injured his shoulder and was out of action for a couple of games which gave Francis the edge for the late October games. In the Rindge game, early in November, Francis hurt his knee and Thompson got another real chance to show his ability. His play in that game was worthy of note and Coach Murphy of Rindge voted Thompson as the best Suburban league centre his team had faced. Thompson continued his good game against Waltham and in the closing game with Brookline was outstanding. During the season Thompson was credited on several occasions with blocking an opponent's kick or recovering the ball after a teammate had done the actual blocking.

Coach Sanborn, in addition to Captain-elect Thompson, has a number of lettermen who were considered as regulars, that will be available next year. This group includes four backs, a pair of ends, and a guard. The backs are Francis "Red" McCarthy, Bob Whitney, Louis Miller and Frank Feola. The ends are Bertram Finberg and Teddy Johnson and the guard is Walter Rich. Other players on the varsity squad this season who failed to make their letters but will be on hand next fall are Charles Flagg, John Kulesza, and Masda, backs and Sheridan, Clavenger, and O'Neill, linemen. O'Neill is a center. Leading prospects from the intermediate and junior varsity teams are Gus Castoldi, Claude Frazier, Gilbert Myers, captain of the intermediate, Melvin Swig, John O'Connell and Norman Plukane. Clavenger, Castoldi and Myers each have two more years to play.

SPORT NOTES

Green Six Strengthened

Despite the loss of the brilliant Frank Spain who has withdrawn from college, the Dartmouth hockey team is looking forward to a successful season. A number of veterans and lettermen are available. Among the latter are Wilbur Powers, and Masda, former Newton high athlete, who have returned to eligibility and should be a power on the defence. The Green has been on ice this past week, two whole weeks ahead of the 1931 season.

City Club Nosed Out

The Newton City Club football team was defeated by the narrow margin of 6 to 3 last Sunday at the West Newton Common by the Waltham Town team. The locals took a 3 to 0 lead in the first period with Birdie Collins 22-yd. dropkick after Barry had recovered a fumbled kick by Mullen of Waltham. Ruse Cavallo recovered another fumbled kick in the second period and lost a touchdown when the referee's whistle blew stopping play. In the final period Ward of Waltham blocked a kick and converted the play into the winning touchdown by racing for the goal. The City Club, semi-pro champs of the city have dropped but two of the ten games played this year.

Town Team Closes Season

The Newton Town Team closed its football season on Thanksgiving Day with a scoreless tie in a game with the Wellesley Town team at Wellesley. The Townies won 4, tied 3, and lost 3 in ten games.

Gets Belmont Hill Letter

John Lawrence of Newtonville was among the letter winners in football at Belmont Hill school this fall. He graduates in June and expects to enter Harvard.

Play Face to Face

Bob Patterson and Horace Wood, former Newton high athletes and teammates, played as opponents this fall. Patterson played centre for Taft School and Wood centre for Loomis. Both were outstanding in the play of their respective elevens.

Two on Husky Sextet

Herb Gallagher, Newton youth and all-round athletic star at Northeastern, is one of several letter men available for hockey this winter. He plays a forward position. Henry Furdon, another former Newton high athlete, who played a reserve defence position last year, may play on the second forward line.

KEORKIAN OF NEWTON NAMED ON EVERY "ALL" TEAM

The popular pastime of selecting "All-scholastic" football teams of players in the high school ranks is just about concluded. Eight daily papers are unanimous in selecting Alexander Kevorkian, outstanding Newton linesman, at a tackle position on the first team chosen. Some papers confine themselves to but one team, others name a second, in a few instances a third team. The Waltham paper confines its selections to players on teams opposing Waltham. This latter instance alone prevents a backfield berth going to Captain Vito Ananis of Rindge along with Kevorkian as a unanimous choice. All seven of the Boston dailies award the Rindge leader a place and had he led his team against Waltham he undoubtedly would have made his eighth team.

Captain Warren Huston of Newton is named on four first teams and three second teams to follow closely upon the heels of Kevorkian and Ananis as outstanding players of the season. The outstanding play of George Ford of Belmont at quarterback caused some of the sports writers to give Huston a second team rating while other sports writers gave Huston a first-team halfback berth in recognition of his all-round ability. In addition the popular Newton captain was given the position as honorary captain on two of the teams.

Other players who were more or less general choices for first team berths who also played on teams that Newton faced the past season were Alphons Collura of Waltham who was picked by every writer for a first or second team position as a guard or in a utility line role and Captain Eddie Crovo of Arlington who was named on five first teams out of a possible seven (Waltham not having played Arlington).

Other Newton players who were given recognition Palmer York and Charles Houghton, York, with Huston and Kevorkian, was a unanimous choice for a halfback position on the Transcript's all-Suburban league aggregation chosen by a consensus vote of the coaches of the five teams in the league and for the utility backfield role on the Herald's first and only team mentioned. He was also given a third team rating by the American and the Waltham News. Houghton was given a third team tackle position by the American and the Post and a utility line position on the Waltham News third team.

The Transcript team, confined to Suburban league outfits, was one of the most unusual compiled in the history of voting for this honor by coaches of the five teams. Nine players were selected unanimously. Each coach refrains from naming his own players, thus four votes constitutes a unanimous selection. Players who received four votes each were Huston, Kevorkian, and York of Newton, Hamilton, Luciano and Arbene of Somerville, Ananis and Bernard of Rindge, and Swartz of Brookline. Boucher and Johnson of Cambridge Latin drew the other two positions with three votes each. Charles Thompson, captain-elect of the 1933 Newton team, was given one vote for centre by Coach Murphy of Rindge. No other Newton players were noted by other coaches of league teams, with the exception of the unanimous selections given.

Here are the selections of Newton players by the various papers:

WANT HELP FOR CHRISTMAS MAIL DELIVERY

The local postoffice is in need of extra help for the Christmas mail delivery. Unemployed married men with families are preferred. Owners with one or two-ton trucks are also desired.

Kiwanis Club

If a girl hugs the driver of an automobile, the man must pay the penalty when arrested for improper operating. The girl gets off "scot free" and this, in the opinion of Judge William F. Bacon, presiding justice of the Newton District Court, is "not entirely fair." Such cases are not uncommon, according to Judge Bacon, who has sat on the bench in Newton's Court for thirty years.

Judge Bacon cited many interesting cases in an address delivered yesterday at the Charles River Country Club before the Newton Kiwanians. He also gave an informative outline of the courts of the Commonwealth, and their functions, describing first the work of the Supreme Court, sitting as a body of seven learned judges; the Superior Court made up of a Chief Justice and 31 associate Justices, all sitting singly, and of the 72 District Courts of the State, where two special Justices assist the presiding justice in each of these courts.

Business in the Newton District Court, formerly called the Police Court, has greatly increased in recent years, he declared. In 1920, for example, there were 277 civil and 717 criminal cases entered, whereas in 1930, the Newton court handled 1625 civil cases, and 3235 criminal cases. "Most of the work of the courts today," he declared, "is taken up by cases arising out of automobile operation. Three-quarters of our cases are auto cases, I have nearly 90 per cent are in this class. Some of the methods of prosecution and many of the explanations of defence display the ingenuity both of prosecuting officers and defending attorneys."

His recital of the excuses frequently offered by offenders, particularly in "drunken driving" cases, proved to be unexpectedly humorous. He surprised his audience by showing how an "absolute teetotaler" might be found guilty of driving under the influence of liquor. Under the law, he explained, if a man lends his license to another, and rides with him, he is responsible for the other man's actions. Therefore, if his friend gets drunk and is arrested while operating, the sober man can be adjudged guilty of "drunken driving."

Attorney James P. Gallagher, Clerk of the Newton District Court, and Lieut.-Governor of the 5th Kiwanis District, introduced the speaker. Announcement was made by Charles A. Mahoney, Kiwanis President, that a joint meeting with Newton Rotary will be held December 12th. Election of officers will take place at the next meeting.

Report of the Paramount Theatre Kiwanis Thanksgiving meeting held last Monday evening, in the theatre, under the direction of John Snider, showed that the movie-vaudeville and gift night was largely attended by Kiwanian wives, and was one of the best meetings of the year.

the City Employees' Local. He has attended practically every meeting of the Board of Aldermen for the past six years and has taken an unusual interest in public affairs.

In Ward 4, Silvanus Smith who has been Ward Alderman for the past 4 years will have Dennis M. Cronin of 233 Auburn street, Auburndale, as an opponent. Smith is associated with the Carpenter, Morton Paint Company. Cronin, a life-long resident of the city, is a lawyer by profession.

In Ward 5, Henry W. Ball who has been a member of the Board for 10 years is not a candidate for reelection. There are two aspirants for the position he will vacate as Alderman at Large—Donald D. McKay of 46 Woodcliff road, Newton Highlands, and William A. Davidson of 182 Beethoven avenue, Waban. McKay, a dealer in bonds in Boston, has been prominent in civic affairs in this city. Davidson conducts an electrical business at Waban.

In Ward 6 a real fight is in progress between Sidney Holden who has been Ward Alderman for the past three years, and Alfred H. Whitney of 6 Braebury road, Holden, a life-long resident of Newton Centre, is in the real estate business. Whitney has resided in Newton Centre for 12 years and is engaged in the paper business in Boston. A second contest in Ward 6 is for the office of Alderman at Large to fill the vacancy which will be caused by the decision of Alderman Richard Harte not to run again. The candidates for this office are Ronald W. Cordingley of 8 Lee Road, Chestnut Hill, and Anthony Oliver of 1324 Centre street, Newton Centre. Cordingley is a native of the district where he resides and is 32 years old. He is in the wool business in Boston. Oliver, who conducts a barber shop at Newton Centre, is 22 years old. He also was a candidate for Alderman last year.

In Ward 7, Phillip S. Jamieson who is serving his fourth year as Alderman at Large has two opponents—Arthur H. Crane of 11 Sunset road, Newton, and Paul H. Drake of 56 Pembroke street, Newton. Jamieson has been a resident of the ward for 30 years and is engaged in the cotton yarn business in Boston. Crane has lived in the ward for 2 years and is a builder by occupation. Drake has been a resident of the ward for 4 years and is in the real estate business.

There are no contests for the three positions on the School Committee. In Ward 1, Franklin E. Smith of 56 Fairmount avenue, an attorney at law, will succeed Elliot B. Church. In Wards 4 and 7, Walter R. Amesbury and F. Marsena Butts will be reelected without opposition.

The Publicity Committee was greatly encouraged by the success of the new idea of having "Receiving stations" for Thanksgiving baskets. Stores were secured in Waban, Newton Highlands, Newton Centre, and Auburndale and at these places contributions from the girls were taken and baskets were packed by them for specified families. The Welfare Bureau co-operated with us to the extent of suggesting the families and delivering the baskets. Troops in the villages not mentioned distributed Thanksgiving baskets from their individual troops.

Rotary Club

Mr. James Mathews of the Babson Statistical organization and a member of the Boston Rotary Club was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club last Monday at the Woodland Golf Club. Mr. Mathews gave a Rotary talk that proved interesting to the members. His main theme was co-operative competition.

The next meeting of the Newton Rotary Club will be held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Monday, Dec. 5th. A change in the meeting place has been made necessary due to the closing of the Woodland Golf Club dining room for the winter.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The Young People's Conference of the Norumbega District, which took place in Waltham last Friday and Saturday, was attended by 170 young people. This conference on an exceptionally high level, called for real concentration on the theme "Toward An Understanding of Jesus." The response to the addresses and periods of meditation was most gratifying. A communion service provided a fitting climax on Saturday evening.

At the business session the following officers were elected for 1933:—President, Leighton Harris; Vice-President, Marion Hayes; Secretaries, Elizabeth Halliday and James Stewart; Treasurer, Fred Drew; Publicity chairman, Roland Jones.

The drama, "Brother Sun," presented at the Friday session of the Conference, was repeated for the assembly period last Monday evening at the Norumbega District School of Religious Education.

Miss O'Brien is the daughter of Robert Lincoln O'Brien and is said to have done more mountain-climbing than any woman in the world. Her colored slides of this country are unusual and exceedingly beautiful. Tea will be served at the close of the program by the Social committee, of which Mrs. Samuel La Rhetie is chairman and of which Mrs. Frederick Nichols and Mrs. Ralph H. Patterson are the hostesses for the afternoon.

Shakespeare Club

Miss Edith M. McCann, of 231 Upland avenue, will be the hostess for the Shakespeare Club, Saturday, December 3rd, at 2:30 p. m.

The president of the Club, Mrs. Allan McIntosh, will have charge of the program, introducing her audience through Acts I and II of "Twelfth Night" to the comedy of comedies, not having the elements of comic drama and comic satire represented, but relieved and heightened by an interwoven exquisite romance.

A most interesting afternoon is assured.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The International committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold the first of a series of monthly supper meetings on Monday, the 5th, at 6:30 p. m. Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Newtonville Woman's Club

Mather, professor of Geology at Harvard, will be the speaker and his subject: "The Quest for Security." Professor Mather, who is a forceful and interesting speaker, is also an author, a member and officer of many scientific societies, and a member of the Newton School Committee, besides which he devotes thought and energy to the problems of modern civilization.

A social hour will follow the afternoon program when tea will be served by a committee under the direction of Mrs. A. B. Ayers.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday, December 8th, the Newton Community Club will have for its speaker Mr. Wilfred Husband, whose subject will be "Round the World in Motion Pictures." Mr. Husband has sailed many seas and has contacted weird and gripping actualities of far-off places and people, and he has captured these unusual adventures with his motion picture camera, making the scenes most realistic.

indicative, too, of his many experiences which make such a lecture valuable, he has travelled extensively in Europe, has been awarded an A.B. in Journalism, has been an outstanding advertising writer, and has been associated with Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale. His many audiences most enthusiastically recommend him.

One week later, on the 15th, the Club will enjoy a most pleasurable event, in the Children's Christmas Party, one of the favorite projects of the president, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, and through her efforts a number of less fortunate children find great happiness in this activity inaugurated under her regime. Mr. Stanley Marshman, who is a Newton man, will entertain with a most fascinating miniature theatre. The affair is in charge of the Junior Club officers. Further details will be announced next week of many delightful plans for this afternoon.

The Club has arranged again for this year for the kindergarten class, which is in session during the hours of the meetings, to which mothers may bring their children and have them cared for by a trained teacher, who will give them kindergarten instruction or entertain them out-of-doors.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

An all-day meeting, starting at 10:30 a. m. is scheduled for the Club on Friday, December 9th, with the Federation committee, of which Mrs. John R. McLean is chairman, in charge of the arrangements. The morning hours will be given over to sewing for the Red Cross, under the direction of the Community Service committee, Mrs. Ethel Leach, chairman. At 12:30 the Interlocal Unity department will give an unusual program, originated and directed by the chairman, Mrs. William D. Keefe.

The luncheon at one o'clock, for which there will be no charge, is to be given by Mrs. Alfred E. Thayer, and her committee, of the American Home department. Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, president of the Newton Federation, and Mrs. Selden E. James, Twelfth District director, will be honor guests.

The Law Observance committee, Mrs. Arthur Teulon, chairman, will furnish a speaker for the afternoon session, and Mrs. O. Howard Frost, of the department of Fine Arts, will have charge of the music.

Club members are requested to bring their donations for disabled veterans and their wives, to Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield, at this meeting. Gifts for the Christmas Party at the Stone Institute will, also, be received at this time by Mrs. Henry L. Goodman.

State Federation

WAR VETERANS' CHRISTMAS. Mrs. Walter H. Woods, chairman, and her committee of Co-operation with War Veterans, is working busily for making Christmas a bit brighter for "our boys" in hospitals and for their families. Christmas gifts should be sent by December first, if possible; neckties, handkerchiefs, socks, writing paper, books, smokes, playing cards, games, picture puzzles, and stamped Christmas cards being always acceptable. The ex-service woman, too, should be remembered, for they can be made happy by remembrances of the same things that we all enjoy receiving.

There is always a demand for clothing of all kinds, especially for children. This may be sent to Mrs. Charles H. Jennings, 73 Mountford street, Boston, or to any member of Mrs. Woods' division.

Mrs. Woods says that the committee has had so many requests for the pattern of the hot water bag cover, which is desired in hospitals for the veterans, that she has decided that in spite of busy lives, most clubwomen still have time for a little sewing.

Perhaps one of the most touching things in one happy thought for gifts, is the delight with which the "boys" have discovered that their club friends are dressing dolls for them to send to their children. Mrs. John J. Williams, 1699 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, is in charge of this feature. There may yet be time to assist her. She has been sending dolls to be dressed, upon request, at 25 cents each. She also is eager to have pieces of silk or velvet for the tiny dresses and coats.

Uncle Eph In Person Attends Newton Party

One of the most enjoyable parties in recent years was held at the Hunnewell Club, Newton on Wednesday evening. About two hundred persons, in various original and unique costumes, attended the "Depression Dance" which was planned by the entertainment committee. The feature of the evening was the appearance of Uncle Eph in person. Uncle Eph is no other than Frank Dor, head of the Raymond Company, "Where U Bot the Hat." Uncle Eph is noted for his philanthropic consideration of his many employees, his geniality, and his interest in humanity. The local affair was greatly honored by Mr. Dor's presence as it was the first occasion of its kind that he had ever attended. Attired in his tall genuine Beaver hat he made a striking appearance. He acted as judge of the costumes and also presented the prizes to the various winners.

Mrs. Malcolm Price, Mrs. F. S. Bacon, F. Marsena Butts, and Ralph Emery were the prize winners. The hall was attractively decorated by an unusual arrangement of burlap and lanterns. Another feature was a bread line where water and hardtack was served. Refreshments concluded a most enjoyable evening.

The entertainment committee is planning a number of features for December which should attract many members and their friends. On Wednesday, Dec. 7th there will be a bridge party under the direction of the whist committee, both contract and auction tables will be in play. On Wednesday, Dec. 14 there will be a reception to the Hon. and Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall, of Chestnut Hill, Speaker of the House of Representatives. Mr. Saltonstall will speak on "Economy in Government—How Can We Get It?"

Mr. Arthur W. Blakemore will preside. On Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 28th there will be a Children's Christmas party with a Christmas tree, games, a magician, and refreshments. On Saturday, Dec. 31st the annual New Year's party will be held.

Scottish Tenor at Musical Service in Newton

The Community Sunday Evening Service at the Newton Methodist Church, corner of Centre and Wesley streets, Rev. Harry Belmont Hill, pastor, will prove unusually interesting this coming Sunday evening. William MacRobbie, the lyric tenor, will give a program of Scottish songs and sacred music dressed in his native costume. Mr. MacRobbie has achieved note, having sung in many outstanding churches throughout New England and with the Royal Scottish Concert Company. He is also a Radio Artist. He was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, and sings the songs and ballads of his country with rare ability. His facility of retaining his native dialect, coupled with a lyric tenor voice of fine quality, ideally interprets the ballads peculiar to his native land. He has also sung with J. K. Murray and Clara Lane, formerly of the Castle Square Opera Company.

In addition, Marie Bartlett, Dramatic Reader, will render a one-act play, "The Finger of God." Miss Bartlett, a graduate of the School of Expression, Boston, is a teacher of elocution. She possesses rare ability as an interpreter of spiritual values in dramatic fashion. The pastor will preach on the theme: "The Meaning of Conversion."

These services grow each week, the one last Sunday being the largest yet. You are invited.

SCHOOL AFFAIRS

At the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night the resignation of Helen Fales, a teacher at the Day Junior high school, was accepted; to take effect January 1. She is to get married. Irene Wilson was appointed to succeed Miss Fales.

Thirteen applications were received for the use of school buildings. Ten were granted. Three were held up pending further investigation. These are from the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Good Shepherd and the Woman's Association of the Waban Union Church to present motion pictures at the Angier School on Saturdays from December 10 to March 25; from Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R. to present entertainments in the school auditorium on the nights of January 23, 24 and 25; University Extension Bureau to present a course of lectures at the Technical High School on Wednesday evenings starting January 25.

Following an opinion received from City Solicitor Bartlett, the School Department has decided to educate the two children of Joseph Myrick of Prince Edward Island, Canada without charging tuition fees. Myrick paid fees in 1930 and 1931 under protest. He formerly resided on Otis street, Newtonville and his family continued to reside there. He went back to Prince Edward Island to conduct a store there, but he pays a poll tax in this city and he and his wife are registered as voters here. The City Solicitor ruled that Myrick's legal domicile can either be construed as being in Newton or in P. E. I. and that he could be required to pay the tuition, or exempted from paying it.

—The November meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs took place last Monday at the Newton Library. The next meeting will be on January 23rd, as it is customary to hold no meeting in December.

Mrs. Samuel N. Berman, president, emphasized the need of contributions of wearing apparel for the Clothing Chest at the old City Hall building in West Newton and spoke of the efficient management of Mrs. Arthur W. Lane and her committee who are devoting much time and thought to this project. More donations of clothing are very much needed.

The budget for next year was presented by Mrs. Harry E. Moore, chairman of Finance, after which the Board voted a contribution of twenty dollars to the Community Chest.

Reports of the various conferences of the Fall Meeting were given by the chairman who conducted them, and also reports were made by the Program and Social chairmen. Judging from the interest shown in these round table discussions, the committee members feel that the conferences are well worthwhile and also very interesting.

After considerable discussion resulting from reports of pictures unsuitable for children having been exhibited in a number of theatres, the consensus of opinion was that some organized effort be instituted to assure the exclusion from our city of unwholesome films on the dates featured as children's days. It was voted that petitions to that effect be circulated for signatures among the clubs of the Federation to be returned for the January meeting.

Mrs. Charles A. Riley, chairman of the Health Seal committee, answered several questions regarding the ways in which the receipts from the sale of seals may be spent and called attention to the need of a very generous response this year.

Rice To Teach Tennis

Larry B. Rice of Newton Centre, state singles champion, has joined the professional ranks as instructor at the Longwood Cricket Club. For eight years he has been teaching and coaching in an amateur way but the opportunity arose to accept the position which he will accept after formal ratification in January. Rice was practically the last New England bred tennis player to land in the first ten Americans. In 1921 he was ranked ninth. He has won five state singles championships and three doubles in partnership with Irving Wright. He was Davis Cup finalist some years ago but an attack of boils prevented his playing in important tournaments at the time. He was on the Yale varsity prior to his graduation in 1919 and in 1921 captured his first state singles title. That same year he conquered Bill Tilden on clay courts in Providence and in 1922 defeated Vinny Richards in Bermuda. His advent as instructor at Longwood will be of great interest to the young players who will benefit by his teaching and experience. Rice is the son of the late State Senator Abbott B. Rice. For the past several years he has taught the tennis players at Rivers School in Brookline.

Linberg Elected Marshal

Gordon C. Linberg of Stearns street, Newton Centre, a Tufts junior, has been reelected marshal of his class. He is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity and has been class marshal for three years. For the past two years he has been a member of the varsity football and wrestling teams. Last year he was vice-president of Sword and Shield, the honorary society of the sophomore class.

Y Wrestlers Win

The Newton Y wrestling team defeated Lynn Y in a meet at Newton on Wednesday, 24 to 22. Ten bouts were staged as the feature of the Newton Y. M. H. A. smoker at Columbus Hall. Joe Ruff, 125-lb.; George Curran, 135-lb.; Arthur Bogan, 145-lb.; Alex Pamp, 165-lb.; Henry Vachon, 165-lb., and Leonard Morrison, 175-lb., were the Newton winners.

Boston Pin Tourney Opens

The Newton league opened its Boston pin season Wednesday night with four matches. At the Hunnewell Club the local team won four points from the West Newton Neighborhood Club. Waban won three from Middlesex at the Arlington alleys. Winsor won three from University at University and Maugus won four from Weston at Wellesley. Ford, Cutler, Colburn, Loring and Colby comprised the Hunnewell Club team; Tyler, E. Esson, J. Esson, Rounds and Ladd comprised the West Newton Neighborhood Club five; Jenkins, Davis, Jones, Allen and Bloomfield rolled for Waban.

Places on All-Eleven

Albert Bouzan, fullback of the Sacred Heart School eleven in the Catholic league circuit, was awarded the reserve fullback position on the All-League team selected by votes of the coaches.

OVER A HUNDRED CANDIDATES OUT FOR HOCKEY TEAM

One hundred and fifteen candidates reported Wednesday afternoon to Coach Dr. Oscar Martin of the Newton high school hockey team. Conditioning work will be the main item until ice is available. The Newton coach has seven veterans on hand to form the nucleus of this year's sextet and prospects of finishing well up in the Interscholastic League circuit are good.

Captain Charles Houghton, star defenseman of last year, leads the six this season. With him on defense are Nate Stollito and Frank McCarthy. Foremost among the wing and centre candidates are Alex Kevorkian, Paul Kennedy, William Perry and Bob Manning. Kevorkian, in all probability will take over the centre berth.

Rotary Club

Herbert J. Kellaway of Newton Centre, a member of the Newton Planning Board, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club. Mr. Kellaway, who was introduced by James B. Melcher, gave an interesting talk upon city planning. The Planning Board operates under two legislative acts—the Planning Board Act and the Board of Survey Act. It has several functions including the study of the possibilities of the city in the future, the laying out of streets, zoning problems, etc. Public hearings on various matters must be advertised and held. The Planning Board in the past has eliminated spite strips. It has ruled against the further duplication of names of streets in various parts of the city and is also attempting to eliminate the present duplication of some street names. The Board is trying to eliminate dead end streets and is prohibiting the further development of streets of this nature. It is desirous of restricting subdivision of estates to lots of at least 5,000 square feet as the smallest. Street grades are another problem to which it gives considerable attention. The alignment of streets opposite each other where they intersect another street at right angles is another desirable end. Mr. Kellaway demonstrated that the shortest route between points on opposite sides of a hill was not always over the top and that it was the same distance around the hill.

Mr. Kellaway stated that the zoning ordinance was a great thing for the city. The difficulties in putting it into effect came from differences of opinion. He believed that, if possible, it should be even more restrictive to make it more unlikely that apartment house blocks should come in. He told of the relation of the Planning Board of the City government that the former must be given the opportunity to consider and report upon matters pertaining to streets, zone, etc. He told of the proposed traffic circle at Washington street and Commonwealth avenue and of the need for consideration of future playgrounds in various parts of the city. Turning to the future Mr. Kellaway predicted that the Oak Hill section of the city would provide much of the tax-producing property. One-third of the city is yet untouched and he shall miss many things that ought to be done if we do not look ahead. In the Oak Hill section we must have schools, playgrounds, sewers, water, and other municipal improvements that will require the expenditure of a great amount of money. The speaker told of the attempt being made to restrict gasoline stations within 500 feet of public buildings and of the opposition which was raised to the restriction of enlargement of present gas stations, sales, and service establishments now in this zone. This latter feature of the plan, he stated, could probably be revised so that there would be no hardship endured on the present business. He also intimated that some years from now these stations may all be a thing of the past—that some method of propulsion of some type of fuel will be developed which will make gas stations unnecessary. He cited the passing of the horse-car and other vehicular methods as an illustration.

Mr. Kellaway also referred to various places of architectural beauty in the city which have been developed as the result of foresight in the past and for the need of planning for the future.

Two new members were received by President Walter McCammon and Charles Ansley, representing the Rotary Education Committee. They were Roy Edwards and Milton Heath. Next week Monday the Kiwanis Club will meet with the Rotary Club in a joint meeting of the Service Clubs at Brae Burn.

THE RUTH BROOKS' CROSS WORD PUZZLE BOOK

By Ruth Brooks, Cross Word Puzzle
Editor of the Boston Herald

Fifty-two puzzles never before in print, with keys, one for each week in the year, if you can make yourself wait.

Cross word puzzles are no temporary craze, but a permanent benefit to the public. To younger minds, they give the delight of knowledge gained while pursuing an absorbing sport; to the older and more experienced, they bring a challenge that tests ripe scholarship and keen ability and at the same time the great joy of reminiscence.

Miss Brooks' puzzles have no equals for entertainment of this nature. For six years they have appeared in the Boston Herald and the Newark Evening News. They please all kinds of people. She has received friendly letters from judges, physicians, clergymen, policemen, night clerks, invalids, college professors, recluses, storekeepers, and every other class of thinking individuals. There is a constant charm in the whimsical ingenuity with which many definitions are given. Her knowledge seems universal, yet never pedantic. These puzzles give a complete mental diversion without irritation. At all bookstores, $1.35—Published by Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Co.

CARE OF CANARY BIRDS

Many books are written on canaries and their care but as many know, experience is the best teacher; the following may help beginners:

DON'T fail to see that your bird has fresh seed and water daily.
DON'T fail to see that your bird has sufficient gravel in its cage.
DON'T leave your bird in the room, in the winter, when you open the windows to air.
DON'T leave your bird where he can be subject to draughts.
DON'T leave your bird in the room while you are sweeping or cleaning.
DON'T give your bird any sweets; that is cake, candy, sugar, etc.
DON'T fail to see that your bird has a piece of lettuce or apple once a week.
DON'T fail to see that your bird has a bath in tepid water at least every other day.
DON'T feed your bird common and unclean seed which tends to ruin his health.
DON'T fail to see that your bird is given at least every other day a little tested condition food.
DON'T let your bird fly about the room, if you want him to sing.
DON'T fail to thoroughly sterilize the cage at least once in two weeks, removing the top to look for lice.
For other advice or assistance you may obtain it from Mrs. Mildred G. Cooke, 58 Playstead road, Newton.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The Assembly program last Monday evening at the Training School was the telling of a Christmas story by Miss Doris Bigglestone of Newton Centre. Announcements were made by Miss Lulona Barker of the enterprises planned for the winter months of January to April, 1933.

The officers of the Young People's District Council will meet on Sunday afternoon at Central Church, at 3 p. m., to make plans for the annual election of new Council members.

The District executive secretary is assisting this month at the Belmont Street Baptist Church, in the High School Department. She will be glad to recommend Christmas stories and worship materials, if consulted. Telephone Middlesex 3012.

A Christmas story service open to the public is being conducted at 1:10 p. m., at the Boston University School of Religious Education, 20 Mt. Vernon street, at which time Mrs. W. T. Powell, one of the instructors in the Norumbega District School, will tell stories.

WOMEN NOT KEEN TO LEARN ABOUT AUTOMOBILES

A course of lectures under the University Extension of the Mass. Department of Education started—and finished at the Technical High School on Monday night. The course was labelled "What Every Woman Should Know About Automobiles." Only 10 women appeared to get wised up on motor cars, so John Wostrum, supervisor of the course, informed those present that no further lectures will be given until at least 20 women will have enrolled.

Girl Scouts

At a special meeting held by Troop 20 of Newton last week, the following girls were awarded First Class Badges by Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, Commissioner: Deborah Wing, Betty Wright, and Jean Patterson. Mrs. Redfield also made a short address and read the speech made by Mrs. Hoover at the Girl Scout Convention. Miss Caroline L. Freeman, Local Director, awarded merit badges to various girls in the troop, and awarded five-year service stripes to Mary Ryan, Deborah Wing, Betty Wright, and Roxanna Martin. Mrs. L. H. Moseley of Needham, Editor of the "Trail Maker," gave an inspirational talk to the girls and their parents. At the close of the meeting they had a good-night circle in which the parents joined.

Troop 27 of Newton Centre devoted their meeting last week to the investing of the following Tenderfoot Scouts: Barbara Beyer, Eileen Coughlan, Julia Dalrymple, Helena Dalrymple, Betty Hutchinson, Margaret Kent, Madeline Sowles, Charlotte Walker, Elizabeth Walker, Jean Wright, Janet Percy, Carolyn Kenney, Patricia Kerr, Sybil Martinez, and Florence Driscoll. Second Class badges were awarded to Jane Lutes, Barbara Kraft, Phyllis Kraft, Jane Hutchinson, and Madeline Proctor. Patrol Leaders and Corporals received their badges as also did the Scribe and Treasurer. The remainder of the meeting was devoted to an inter-patrol knot tying contest and a treasure hunt. Approximately 25 mothers were present and heard an appeal from Mrs. B. K. Thorogood, Troop Committee Chairman, asking for their support and co-operation.

Mr. Ralph B. Emery, Scout Master of Troop 5, Newton Centre, will instruct the training course that is being held at Newton Headquarters.

Boiler Blast Injures Janitor

Friday morning about 11 the Court House at West Newton was shaken by a blast from one of the heaters in the basement. Court was in session at the time and there was considerable excitement for a minute. Serg. Bart Cullen rushed into the basement and found Fritz Anderson, the janitor and fireman, in a dazed condition from a bad cut on the forehead. Anderson's right arm was burned also. Cullen shut off the fuel supply and rushed Anderson to the Newton Hospital for treatment. Anderson was starting one of the oil burners in the basement, and apparently the fire chamber became filled with oil vapor which exploded, blowing open the door of the heater. Judge Bacon ordered that the company which installed the heating equipment be instructed to make an investigation and also repair the damaged heater.

BURGLARY AT NEWTON CENTRE

Last Saturday the Sally Wheeler Frock Shop and the office of the Stuart-Marshall Company in the Stuart Building at Newton Centre were broken into. From the frock shop 35 dresses valued at about $500 were taken and from the office several dollars worth of postage stamps. An attempt to sell the latter at Norwood caused the police of that town to arrest Cecil Kurth, 44, no home. Kurth admitted the thefts but would not tell where he disposed of the dresses. Bargain's tools were found in his possession. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and his trial continued to December 12.

NOVEMBER BUILDING REPORT

The November report of the Public Buildings Department of Newton shows that 48 permits were issued during the month. Of these 14 were for single dwellings with an estimated cost of $145,500; 13 for private garages to cost $3550 and 17 for alterations on buildings to cost $10,433. The total estimated cost of all permits issued during the month was $163,033. For the first 11 months of 1932 the permits issued totalled 482 as compared with 865 for a corresponding period in 1931 and 1006 in 1930. The estimated cost of the permits issued in 1932 was $1,207,183; in 1931 it was $4,660,014; in 1930 it was $5,369,517.

Scouts To Play Santa Claus

Newton's Boy Scouts are taking on as part of their Christmas celebration a most ambitious project, it was announced yesterday from the headquarters of Norumbega Council.

In cooperation with the Newton Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, the troops of Boy Scouts plan to make a number of needy Newton boys a Christmas present of a complete outfit of winter clothing. Each troop will outfit a boy, at a cost of $10.

In order to raise the $10, each patrol will raise its share of the money—the individual boys taking on any job that will bring in some cash. It will mean that every Scout will have to raise about thirty cents before Christmas, in order to carry out the plan.

In addition, the Boy Scouts are working with the Newton Welfare Bureau, mending toys for poor children. Anyone having old or broken toys, or out-grown playthings, is urged to take them to the Bureau, 12 Austin street, Newtonville, where the Scouts will get them, and with paint, nails and tools put them into shape to make many poor children believe again in Santa Claus, even though he may come down the chimney in a Boy Scout uniform.

EMBLEM CLUB WHIST

A bridge and whist party will be held in the Home of Watertown Lodge of Elks on Arlington street on Friday, December 16, at 2:30 in aid of the magazine of the Supreme Emblem Club, "Emblem Topics."

Mrs. Bernard S. McHugh, Past Supreme President of Watertown is in charge and will be assisted by Mrs. James Burns, Supreme Financial Secretary of Newton. Mrs. William V. Shyne of Quincy, Editor of the magazine and other members of the staff. Many beautiful and valuable prizes have been donated.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Let's have a motto that everybody is agreed upon—"Plenty of good cheer by Christmas."

Oddments

Talked with a man employed in a store which hold-up men had visited on three occasions within six months. Each time the gunmen had taken all the cash, after locking the storekeeper and his two assistants in the cellar. The only difference in the method employed was that one hold-up occurred in the morning, another in the afternoon and another in the evening. And all this transpired in Boston. I asked the man if his nerves were not jumpy and he replied that he became used to it. He had made up his mind, he said, that the robbers could have the money as long as they didn't shoot. Sounds like Chicago.

Massachusetts may expect to have its share of liquor legislation during the coming session of the General Court. A few bills have already been filed for the purpose of speeding the advent of real beer. Then, too, a special commission has been appointed by the Governor in anticipation of a modification of the Federal prohibition act. Just why the eagerness to clear the way? Talk about preparedness!

Took a bookkeeper's holiday recently and ran over the figures reported in the list of taxrates in cities and towns. Found that Newton has the lowest of any city in the Commonwealth. And look at the grand new City Hall we have, too! How about a slogan, "Newton: Lowest taxrate and biggest city hall."

Unwise Wisecracking

The habit of wisecracking is deplored in a public utterance of Governor John Gilbert Winant of New Hampshire, who observed, "Too much wisecracking and smart witticism have been a contributing cause to the difficulties the country has been facing." In my opinion there is no doubt but this is a true statement. However, I am willing to leave to prominent statesmen and others of large affairs the task of reforming our National wisecrackers.

For my own part I feel it within my power to do something along individual lines and warn persons who, in their daily lives, give utterance to smart sayings on matters of little or no importance to the country at large. It is easy to put into epigrammatic phrases words that hurt the other fellow's feelings but which accomplish no good whatever. They draw good audiences, groups of friends, I mean, who get a large laugh at the expense of someone other than themselves. "I'd like to hear what Soandso will say to that?" says one of the number. Thereupon they trot off to find Soandso and listen to witty thrusts at a helpless victim. It's good fun but it doesn't get the wisecracker anything except the enjoyment of applause.

Perhaps I wouldn't feel so strongly on this point if I did not know of cases where "wisecrackers" have brought disaster upon themselves. Oh, not personal injury or physical discomfort, but embarrassment and distinct disadvantage on a subsequent occasion. One of the brightest men I know waited until I had roared with laughter at his comment on a well known citizen. Then he became solemn and said, "You think that funny. Well, the truth is I am too fresh. I think of wisecracks and, instead of holding my tongue as I should, I shoot them out."

"No harm in it, is there?" I stupidly remarked.

"Harm," he went on. "You know that a lawyer wants all the practice he can get these days. The fact is that at a public dinner I said something about a man who sat at the head table with me. It caused a riot of mirth but afterwards this man's partner told me that the man was about to give me a case that would have meant thousands of dollars to me. When he heard me wisecrack about him he folded-up and I was out just so much money."

There are numerous other incidents with a similar moral that I could repeat. One of them explains the discharge from a newspaper of one of the most brilliant writers that ever took up journalism. I knew him as a sayer of smart sayings but was surprised when he lost his place. Inquiring of the management they explained, "He wisecracked himself out of a job, that's all."

The string of horrible examples is too long. In all walks of life I've seen men, and women, too, whose tongues were too sharp. Many of them suffered the loss of employment, failure to attain elective office they sought or merely an advance in business. Some not as bad as others, but all "too fresh" for their own good.

Taking the Count

Now comes a bill for the Legislature which provides that the cost of recounting votes in an election shall be borne by the petitioner or petitioners if the results fail to make any material change in the figures produced by the original count. Seems to me that's sort of imposing something on somebody. Sort of clipping the wings of the eagle of liberty.

I must admit, however, that my experience in watching recounts, for lo, these many years, has shown that after all the outcome has seldom favored the original loser. Maybe in a small district you'll find that a close vote has been improperly counted, but in a great wide field the balance is frequently maintained. One man will gain here and lose there. The loser gathers votes in that place and drops them in another. You'll find, I am pretty sure, that the whole thing is eventually evened-up as they say.

Still, I don't favor the idea of making the petitioner pay the bills if things do not turn out in his favor. After all this is a free country and the system of representative government, no matter what the cynics may say, is the best that has been organized. If a man is permitted, because of the fact that he is a free-born American citizen, to run for office he should be allowed to scrutinize the result of the balloting and question it if he sees fit. Recounts may be a waste of time and money but after all the administration of justice in other lines is not to be had without somebody footing the bills.

Taken Under Advisement

"Dear L. D. G. B.—If my wife and I send out as many Christmas cards this year as last it's going to cost half as much again in stamps. You know that yourself. We can't drop anybody from the list without feeling cheap about it. That advance in postage from two to three cents is something I'd like explained. Would you say that it proves our friendship has increased fifty per cent when the price of everything else is going down? How about it? Yours, Clem."

COMING EVENTS

Auburndale Woman's Club

Attention, all Newton Clubwomen, this notice is meant for you all! A RADIO CARNIVAL is coming, and on us we hope you will call. The date is the thirteenth of December; at eleven the doors open wide; No tickets of admission are needed; surprises await you inside. New stations, nowhere else listed, will broadcast their bargains to you. They will meet all your holiday problems, and will suit your pocket-book, too.

W.K.I. and F.M.L. will be awaiting to greet you. S.F.Y. and B.N.E., too, F.O.B. and A.K.B. have dainties to serve fresh from the ovens to you. Many menus does the Cafeteria offer at prices to make your heart glad. At three-thirty o'clock in the Tea Room, free tea by all may be had. At four comes the crowning feature, the latest one of the age—Television, most modern invention, free to all will be seen on the stage.

"Turn in" at A.W.C. next Tuesday morning, and plan to stay all day. Your money will go three times farther, for our bargains are ones which will pay. With the above curiosity-piquing invitation, written by the Club poet, the Auburndale Woman's Club makes known their prime event of the week, the great RADIO CARNIVAL, for which the Activities committee of the Club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Walter Wells, has been working for months. Six "broadcasting stations" will supply all holiday needs; dainty and useful articles for all ages, toys for the youngsters, bridge prizes, lingerie, and freshly-cooked foods, at prices guaranteed to be far below actual value, and customers will find their dollars purchasing three times as much as they would at many shops. The public, whether clubwomen or not, is invited to "turn in" at the Auburndale Club House at 11 o'clock, and spend an enjoyable day; at noon a cafeteria with appetizing menus at low cost; at 3:30 tea served free of charge; and at 4 o'clock, from the main station on the stage, also free to the public, the first presentation of "Television," a feature no one can afford to miss.

Newton Community Club

Club members and guests are looking forward with keen anticipation to the holiday festivity of the Club which comes on Thursday, December 15th, in the second annual Children's Christmas Party, a feature inaugurated last year by the president, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, and which was so successful and enjoyable. Mr. Stanley Marshall, who is a Newton man, will come at that time, with a miniature theatre, which has light and sound effects most complete and unusual. His marionette plays have delighted many people, and the children will find it most entertaining. The Party is in charge of Junior Club officers, and is for a number of the less fortunate children of the city. The president of the Junior Club is Miss Elizabeth Barba. Members of the Club have dressed dolls, one of which will be given to each child. Also, a toy, some candy, an apple, and an orange will be given to each. There will be refreshments of ice cream and cake. The meeting will be held as usual in Underwood School Hall at 2:30 o'clock.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Dramatic committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold the third of a series of Play Readings on Monday afternoon, December 12th, at 2 p. m. One of the plays will be read by Mrs. Montague Ford and the following cast: Mrs. Karl Bowman, Mrs. Foster Cousins, Mrs. Watson H. Caudill, Mrs. Douglas Francis, Mrs. Thomas H. Peterson, Mrs. Jacob Randolph, and Mrs. F. W. Swindells. The tea hostess will be Mrs. Arklay S. Richards and Mrs. Myron E. Byrant. A silver offering will be taken.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Sunday, December 11th, from 2 to 10 p. m., is the date and time of the Annual Exhibit of Creches, to be held in the Workshop. The Garden Club, the Music committee and the Art committee are uniting to make this exhibit more delightful and interesting than ever. Decorated wreaths will be displayed by the Garden Club, and there will be carol singing led by the Music committee. Members of the Club and friends are invited to attend and enjoy the Christmas spirit.

Community Service Club

Under the auspices of the Community Service Club of West Newton, the next Book Talk by Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond will be held in the Second Church, at 10 a. m., on December 13th, when the book to be reviewed will be "Not to be Repealed," the European Merry-Go-Round, which contains authentic inside information concerning European affairs, and is published anonymously. Mrs. Bond is able to make these reviews of current books intensely interesting and enlightening.

On December 16th, in the Unitarian Parish House, at 10:30 a. m., Mrs. Claude U. Gilson, world traveller and lecturer, will continue the course of ten Current Events lectures.

Both of these courses are available to non-members of the Club.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The members of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will study "Background of International Relations," under the leadership of Mrs. Francis A. Rugg, and Current Events will be given by Mrs. Mark H. Ward and Mrs. William E. Leonard at their meeting to be held on Monday, December 12, at 2:30 p. m., in the home of the hostess, Mrs. Edward G. Swift, 25 Woodcliff road, Newton Highlands.

The first in a series of Current Events lectures on "International Affairs" will be given by Dr. Warren A. Ault, of Boston University, on Tuesday, December 13th, at 2:30 p. m., at the Club House. These lectures are open to Club members and guests. Tickets may be obtained at 50 cents. Miss Lizzette P. Henderson, LL.B., will give the last lecture in the series of "Law and Everyday Life," on December 15th, at 10:30 a. m., at the home of Mrs. Percy Woodward, 125 Highland street. These talks have been most instructive and enlightening, and those who have heard the previous lectures are looking forward to this final one on "Investments," with much interest, although regretting that this informing series is coming to an end.

Auburndale Review Club

On the morning of December 13th, Mrs. William Medlicott will be the hostess for the sixth meeting of the Auburndale Review Club. A review of "A Great Physician," by Edith G. Reid, will be given by Mrs. Charles W. Blood, chairman of the morning. Miss Eleanor M. Pinkham will review "Once a Grand Duke," by Alexander of Russia; and Mrs. T. Franklin Rider will review "Discretions," by Francis of Warwick.

Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club

The Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club will hold its Mothers' Day meeting on Wednesday afternoon, December 14th, at 3 p. m., in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. An excellent program has been arranged with Mrs. I. William Crowell, chairman of the Junior Membership of Massachusetts, as guest speaker. Music will be furnished by Club members. A small exhibition of work done this season will be on display. Members of the Senior Club, as well as Mothers, are cordially invited to this meeting. The Junior Club girls, under the leadership of their president, Miss Martha P. Wright, recently entertained eighty children at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children. Each child was given a gift, and twelve having birthdays in November had special favors. Refreshments were served to all. Also, twenty girls from the Junior Club assisted at the Bazaar held recently at the Woman's Club.

Social Science Club

"Personal Experiences" will be the subject of a paper which Miss Mary Lewis Spare will read to the Social Science Club on Wednesday, December 14th, at 10 o'clock in the Channing Church Parlor.

This will be the last meeting of the Club until after the holidays. Mrs. George Agry and Mrs. George E. Merrill will act as hostesses.

RECENT EVENTS

Community Service Club of West Newton

An interested and appreciative audience attended the Annual Fall Entertainment, given under the auspices of the Community Service Club of West Newton, on Wednesday evening, November 30th, in the Newton High School Auditorium.

The program opened with the reading by Hortense Creede Rallsback of Austin Strong's three-act play "Seventh Heaven." Besides her remarkable ability as a dramatic reader, Mrs. Rallsback brings to the portrayal of her characters a charming personality and grace of manner which makes at once a personal contact with the audience, and her pleasing interpretation, of this play was received with sincere appreciation.

In contrast to the pathos of this play of Paris underworld life in war time was the much-heralded debate by four well-known Newton citizens on the subject "Resolved: Are Women People?" Mr. Guyas Williams and Dr. Cecil W. Clark, in their effort to prove the affirmative, produced merriment in their contention that Women Are People, and Mr. Edward E. Whitling brought "cold facts of logic" to convince his hearers to the contrary, and concluded with the satisfactory deduction that Women Are Not People—they are angels; Mr. Neal O'Hara, Mr. Whitling's colleague, received hearty applause for many humorous stories, in support of his contention of the negative of this important question.

Judge Thomas Weston presided and introduced the contestants. A group of twenty well-known and attractive young women served as ushers, under the chairmanship of Mrs. G. F. Earnshaw.

State Federation

JUNIOR CLUBS. A most interesting innovation is found in the December number of Federation Topics, just issued—a page to be devoted entirely to the Junior Clubs of Massachusetts, edited by Betty Button, who was the official delegate from Massachusetts sent to the General Federation Biennial at Seattle, last June. Mrs. Charles C. Wilson, of Auburndale, a member of the State Junior Membership committee, of which Mrs. I. William Crowell, as chairman, is featuring this presentation, is the senior adviser for the page.

Betty Button has an editorial centered in the page, just below her picture, in which she says that in this Junior page a dream has been realized, as giving opportunity such as the senior clubs have had, whose activities have been read by the Juniors for years with interest. She cites the advantage offered to gain new ideas for programs, projects, and points of organization, and the means of contact with other clubs which will go far to promote the spirit of friendliness among all Junior girls. She asks that accounts of outstanding club activities be sent to her by the first of each month, at 109 Olive Davis Hall, Wellesley, signed by the Junior writer. Important announcements are also to be featured regularly, and a question box, limited to five questions.

On this first Club Page, attention is especially called at this time to the sponsorship this year of the following contests among Junior clubs, by topics, for outstanding programs, to be judged on cultural and constructive value: Poetry, drama, garden club, and travel scholarship. With the exception of the Poetry contest, for which the General Federation offers the prize, the contests are conducted by the State Junior Membership committee, Mrs. Crowell, chairman, and prizes will be awarded by carefully-chosen judges. All these write-ups of outstanding features of the contest topic programs should be sent to Mrs. Crowell, 32 Upland road, Winthrop, by April first, 1933. Clubs entering the Drama contest should advise her at once, so that judging committees may attend performances.

RADIO. Mrs. Beatrice Walker Nichols, Reader, will give a program which she entitles "Memory Gems," on the State Federation broadcast tomorrow morning, December 10th, during the half-hour 11:30 to 12 noon. The city of Quincy seems to be the entertaining city for that morning, for Mrs. Nichols is secretary of the Quincy Women's Club, and the singer for the program is Mrs. Howard S. Bishop, Soprano, of Quincy. At this holiday season, too, Mrs. Walter H. Woods, chairman of the State committee of Cooperation with War Veterans, will speak on the topic "Spreading Christmas Cheer," giving plans and hopes for brightening Christmas for "our Boys."

The program for December 17th is to be a Musicales given by the Allison Quintette, instrumentalists, presented by the State division of Music.

Twelfth District

Mrs. Charles L. Taylor, director of the Fifth District, and Mrs. Seldon E. James, director of the Twelfth, presided jointly at the Conference of these two districts held on Tuesday, November 29th, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., at the Wellesley Hills Congregational church. The morning session opened with greetings from the Rev. Carl M. Gates, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Frederick N. Peirce, president of the Wellesley Hills Woman's Club, the Hostess Club. Mrs. Taylor responded and presented in turn the various department and division chairmen of the State Federation, who brought messages from their committee work. At noon the Conference assembled for round table discussions, followed by luncheon at 1 p. m., at the church.

The afternoon session opened with an organ recital by Miss Merle Ferguson, church organist, and musical selections by the West Roxbury Club Chorus, Mrs. William N. Oedel, conductor. The speakers for this meeting included Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, State president; Mrs. Carl L. Schrad, Massachusetts director; Mrs. Frederick G. Smith, chairman of Federation Memorials; and Mrs. George A. Mellen, chairman of Club Institutes. Mrs. Mabel G. Barstow led community singing.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

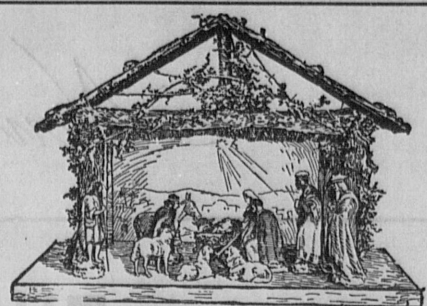

The Annual Arts and Crafts Sale by the Art committee, Mrs. Don J. Edwards, chairman, was held in the Workshop, Friday and Saturday, December 2nd and 3rd. Proceeds from this sale will go to emergency relief work in Newton Highlands.

The Club Chorus, Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn, director, sang at the Thursday Morning Musicales in Brookline, December 8th. Mrs. Harry P. Forte was the soloist. "The Haunted House," a three act comedy by Owen Davis, was presented under the direction of Winifred M. Douglas, in the auditorium of the John W. Weeks Junior High School, on Tuesday evening, December 6th, to a large and appreciative audience of the unusual talent shown by the cast. Mrs. Herbert N. Owdell, chairman of Dramatics, was in charge; Mrs. James Gove was stage manager; and Sumner Smith assistant stage manager.

The ushers were Mr. Robert Alingham, Mr. Preble Blake, Mr. Ralph Boyd, Mr. Ralph Emery, Mr. Harry Forte, Mr. Clarence R. Hickox, Mr. Earle Johnson, Mr. Herbert Odell, Mr. Charles Pierce, and Mr. Theron Walker.

The candy girls, in charge of Mrs. Ralph B. Emery, were Kathryn Carrick, Frances Coveney, Priscilla Gibbs, Sarah Godsoe, Marion Hessler, Bessie Hunter, Marjorie Prescott, Mary Ruby, Dorothy Sweeney, and Martha Thompson.

Music was furnished by Miss Alice B. Gadois, violin; Miss Gertrude L. (Continued on Page 9)

Social Activities

Friday, December 2, the Ninth Grade held its first social. Kenneth Wayland entertained with a tap dance; Jason Brown and his assistant, Ned Good, with a series of rope-spinning intricacies; and William Harrison sang a few popular songs. Carl Tucker and Garret Fuller presented a skit which was a take off on Ed Wynn and Mr. Converse and Henry Evans consented to tap dance. Following this entertainment there was dancing and for those who preferred not to dance there were games, generously provided by various pupils. Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served. The ninth grade wishes to extend a vote of thanks to those families who furnished the cakes.

Assembly

Beatrice Olen announced the opening of the Transmitter drive following which the assembly was turned over to Home Room 112 with Raymond Finnegan, their chairman, in charge.

The pupils participating were: Norbert Brady, Richard Benzaguin, Pauline MacGillivray, Jean Budding, Lincoln Norton, and Ray Arnold. The object of this play was to acquaint the pupils with new and interesting books.

Warren Soccer Champions

Thursday, Warren played Weeks on its own field. This was a very important game because the soccer championship rested on this encounter. The thing that stood out most of all was the wonderful goal keeping displayed by the Weeks goalie. Nevertheless S. Mazzazo's Warren's forward line, kicked a goal near the end of the last period giving Warren the game 1-0 and also the Junior High School soccer championship.

Basketball Season Opens

On Monday thirty-five boys reported for the first basketball practice and it was shown that Warren has excellent material for the coming season.

Boston College Law School "Class A"

So Rated by American Bar Association

The approval of the Boston College Law School as a "Class A" school has just been received by Dean Dennis A. Dooley from the headquarters of the American Bar Association in Chicago. This action was taken recently by the Council on Legal Education of the American Bar Association upon the recommendation of Will Shafroth of Denver, Colorado, Adviser for this section, who made two visits to the Boston College Law School during the past year.

By reason of this recognition, the Boston College Law School is added to the eighty-one law schools throughout the country on the approved list. An approved school must comply with the standards of the American Bar Association in every particular, including school equipment, requirements for admission, and course of study. Of the other New England law schools, only Harvard, Yale and Boston University have received this approval and in securing this recognition at this time, the law school of Boston College establishes a record by the fact that it is the first school in the country to be thus rated within three years of the admission of its first students.

Weeks Junior High

A new type of assembly program was introduced on Wednesday. Its purpose was to describe the customs, habits, and life of the people in certain lands of the world. William Diman, as chairman, introduced the participants. China was represented by Barbara White; Russia, Bernard Shafroth; Eskimos, Leo Nawa; Arabia, Douglas Tilley; Spain, June Crockery; Holland, Sylvia Bennett; Tennessee, Joel Covington; Sweden, Robert Waugaman; India, Robert Howley. A special feature was an exhibition of baton whirling by Jean Budding of the Warren Junior High. A saxophone solo by Eldora Kilron and an Irish jig by Margaret Jackson were additional features.

The class soccer championships have been announced as follows: seventh grade, Room 309; eighth grade, Room 313; ninth grade, Room 104. Athletics have now turned their efforts to basketball. The home room teams start practice on December 9. The games for the Weeks Varsity will begin January 11. Before this date Varsity will play the Weeks 1931-1932 team and the men's faculty team.

Harvey Cibul has been chosen manager of the basketball team; William Diman, assistant manager; Edward Hurd, scorer; Arnold Gay, manager of B squad.

The Art Needle Club consists of twenty-six girls who are interested in artistic and worthwhile handwork. Each girl is making an attractive woven purse or useful ornaments for the home, such as, table runners, scarfs, pillow covers, chair backs and arms, and dollies.

"Filling Chest Of Joash" A Success

"Filling the Chest of Joash" was the form taken by the Central Congregational church in making its annual pledges for 1933, at the service last Sunday. Pageantry and symbolism suggested in a very effective way the significance of giving in the worship of the church.

The morning worship consisted of a musical program with Miss Mary Clark, harpist, and Miss Irene Forte, violinist, assisting the organist, Miss Lillian West. Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, the pastor, read from the story of Joash, about the offerings placed in a chest for the restoration of the temple, and from Paul's directions to the Corinthians recommending system and proportionate giving. The sermon was based on the thought that the giving of money represents the giving of self and is a symbol of life dedication. In addition to the agreement, or pledge cards, enlistment cards were circulated on which offers of assistance in various forms of church activities were written.

JUNIOR LEGION AUXILIARY

The members of the Junior Auxiliary who appeared for the first time in public in the Armistice Day parade, were organized into a unit on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 6, by Mrs. Emma Lovejoy, Past State President of the American Legion Auxiliary. Mrs. Lovejoy explained to the girls in a most inspiring and instructive way the ideals and purposes of the Auxiliary and the way similar units were carried on. Mrs. Marcia Budaick, Past President of Melrose unit, and Manager of the Junior Drill team of that unit, also gave a very helpful talk on the work that had been done by her group. Mrs. Florence Vinton, also of Melrose talked on various activities of this group.

Under the direction of Mrs. Lovejoy, the officers for the coming year were appointed by Mrs. Helen Henderson, Leader of the Newton Juniors: President, Margaret House; Vice President, Eldora Kilron; Vice President, Martha Mayer; Secretary, Laura Hathaway; Treasurer, Doris Viles; Historian, Laura House; Chaplain, Claire Heald; Sergeant-at-Arms, Jacqueline Wilcox.

Meetings will be held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month at the new Memorial Building. Any girl whose father was in service during the World War is eligible providing that her father is a member of the American Legion or will join. If the father is no longer living she can join.

A drill team will be formed in the near future, and a Glee Club. Any girl having musical talent will be royally welcomed.

THE CITY ELECTION

Next Tuesday the voters of Newton will have the opportunity of electing fourteen Aldermen who will conduct the legislative affairs of the City of Newton for the next year along with the seven members whose terms have not expired. Three members of the School Committee will also be elected. Inasmuch as the three latter candidates are unopposed the make-up of the School Committee is already determined. Two of these candidates will be re-elected, the third is a candidate to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Mr. Elliott B. Church. Mr. Church has served the city faithfully for several years and Mr. Franklin E. Smith who will fill the position, has the ability and understanding to carry on this important function.

The make-up of the Board of Aldermen for the coming year is not definitely settled. Some of the candidates are members of the present board, other candidates believe they are qualified to hold the office and are opposing candidates for re-election. Two vacancies are caused by the withdrawals of Alderman Bail in Ward 5 and Alderman Harte in Ward 6. In both these instances contests are offered. We have long believed in contests for public office in the belief that better government is the result. Candidates for re-election, survive or suffer defeat upon their records of service. Opposing candidates who have not previously held office win or lose upon their personality, knowledge of city affairs and needs, and upon their ability to make themselves known to the voters who elect them.

The Newton Board of Aldermen has been in keeping with the traditions of excellent government of the city. We trust that it will always remain of high type. It cannot if voters repeatedly fail to take an interest in the election. This week Mayor Weeks issued a proclamation calling upon all voters to exercise their privilege to vote and pointing out to them the responsibilities they carry as citizens of Newton. We believe the idea is an excellent one and hope that it will be effective. Unless greater interest is taken in city elections by Newton voters there is danger that minority groups, often seeking personal gain above municipal welfare, may gain some control of public affairs.

GRAVEL PITS

More and more frequently our news columns tell of protests being made over the granting of licenses for sand and gravel companies to operate in various sections of the city. In some instances these companies strip and sell the loam in order to get at the gravel deposits beneath. Operations then begun sooner or later leave unsightly holes that sometime in the not too distant future will be detrimental to the city. Now is the time to correct such evils and insure for coming generations the natural beauty that has brought Newton its reputation as the Garden City. We recommend that the Planning Board, Aldermen, and other city officials take this situation under immediate advisement and present a plan which will prevent the disfigurement of Newton properties.

The Newton Business Associates show excellent judgment in the election of Mr. Wilfred Chagnon as president for the coming year.

Candidates For Aldermen Address City Employees

At a meeting of Newton City Employees' Local at Bay State Hall, Newton, last Friday night a number of candidates for Aldermen in the coming city election were present and spoke before the gathering. William A. Sproat of Thornton street, candidate for reelection as Ward Alderman from Ward 1, stated that he has endeavored since he became an Alderman last January to assist in keeping the city employees at work and that he has conferred on this matter several times with Mayor Weeks. Edward A. Fahey of Allison street, Nonantum, also a candidate for this office, told of having been educated at M. I. T., and Northeastern Law School. He argued that inasmuch as Precinct 3 of Ward 1 now has the three Aldermen from the Ward and the School Committee member, Precinct 1, the Nonantum district, is entitled to some representation. Edward E. Murphy of 324 Adams street, Newton, the third candidate for the Ward 1 office, told of graduating from Holy Cross College and Harvard Law School and asserted he can be of considerable assistance to the city employees.

Alfred Guzzi of Mague place, West Newton, candidate for Ward Alderman from Ward 3, told of his efforts to obtain benefits for the Ward and his work in behalf of the city employees. Guzzi, who is Vice President of the Local, received the endorsement of that body. His opponent, Bernard D. Farrell of Cherry place, present Ward Alderman, did not attend the meeting. Dennis M. Cronin, of Auburn street, Auburndale, contended that his opponent, Alderman Silvanus Smith, has not displayed much constructive ability during the four years he has been a member of the Board.

Donald D. McKay of Woodcliff road, Newton Highlands, and William A. Davidson of Beethoven avenue, Newton Highlands, candidates for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 5, were both present. Mr. McKay said he has been a resident of the Ward for 17 years and has given much time to various civic activities. Mr. Davidson said that he is a resident of the Newton Highlands precinct, and not of the Waban precinct, as has been stated. He referred to inquiries made by those opposing his candidacy to ascertain if he has been receiving compensation as a disabled soldier. He asserted that although he received 22 wounds in the World War and has been rated 50% disabled, he has never drawn one cent for compensation and will not as long as he is able to work.

Ronald Cordingley of Chestnut Hill, candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 6, sent a letter expressing his regrets for not being able to attend the meeting. Anthony Oliver of Newton Centre, also a candidate for this office, read a short speech telling of the efforts he will make to better the city, if elected.

Philip Jamieson, candidate for reelection as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7, told of the many improvements made in the city during the four years he has been an Alderman and of the co-operation he has given Mayor Weeks in these projects. Arthur H. Crane of Sunset road, one of Mr. Jamieson's opponents, told of his experience as a master builder and how this qualifies him to be of value in the city government. He stated that he employs union labor. Paul H. Drake of Pembroke street, Newton, the third candidate for the Ward 7 office, told of the many improvements made in the city during the four years he has been an Alderman and of the co-operation he has given Mayor Weeks in these projects. Arthur H. Crane of Sunset road, one of Mr. Jamieson's opponents, told of his experience as a master builder and how this qualifies him to be of value in the city government. NEWTON OFFICIALS SUMMONED IN ELECTION FIGHT individually sealed in each block's envelope. The ballot boxes were sealed, as has been the custom in Newton, this protest was not pushed when it was ascertained that in Boston, where Mr. Swift obtained a large majority, this same method had been followed. The protest against the result in Newton which was heard before the Supreme Court was based on the fact that many of the ballots cast in Newton did not bear an eligible imprint of the rubber stamp which is attached inside of each ballot box and from which an impression is supposed to be made on a ballot as it is cast in the box. The explanation for this is—that due to the heavy voting on the recent election day, so many ballots were cast that the ink supply for the rubber stamps inside the ballot boxes was used before all the ballots passed into the boxes. The same thing happened in many other places. The court on Wednesday suggested that the lawyers representing Mr. Swift and Mr. Bacon hold a conference before further action is taken.

TWO POLICEMEN RETIRED

Two more veteran policemen of Newton were retired on pensions this week. One is Horace A. Bailey of 85 Floral street, Newton Highlands, who has been day patrolman in that village for many years. He was retired on Wednesday, having reached the age limit of 65. He was appointed to the force in August, 1895. John J. Foristall of 208 Auburn street, Auburndale, was retired on Tuesday at his own request, because of physical disability. He is 61 years old and was appointed on November 1, 1905. He has been a day patrolman at Auburndale.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Have you had or have you a case of the grip which is now so prevalent? We have been struggling with it for the past 10 days and find it a persistent pest. One day you think you are better, and the next day you realize you ain't. Anyhow, it must have been our attack of the grip which caused us last Monday night to drive up to the old City Hall at West Newton to attend the meeting of the Board of Aldermen. Then, we realized that the Aldermen now meet in the new City Hall near Cold Spring Village.

Most citizens will commend any reasonable attempt to lower the expenses of government and lessen the tax burden. But, when an economy is effected by jeopardizing the safety of the public, such a savings is poor policy. Last year Newton adopted a radical policy in the operation of its police department. It abandoned the long established method of having the city protected nights by policemen patrolling routes on foot. Seven automobiles were purchased to be used as patrol cars, each to be manned by two policemen. These cars were equipped with radios. Only the business section in each of the larger villages would be patrolled by a policeman on foot. But, as a result of protests from Farlow Hill section at Newton Corner and from Chestnut Hill, these districts continued to be patrolled by policemen on foot.

When Alderman Bail, as Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board, explained the proposed workings of the new system on the night that the appropriation was made to purchase the seven automobiles to motorize the police department, he stated that the abolition of the foot patrolmen would effect a decided savings as it would no longer be necessary to retain on active duty the 10 members of the reserve force. He added, that the force would be kept at its existing numerical strength and that there would be four vacancies developing from retirement during the coming year, which would provide appointments for four of the reserve policemen who were to be laid off. This policy has not been adhered to. Two vacancies which have occurred in the police force have not been filled and it has been announced that vacancies are not to be filled at present because the change from patrolling routes on foot to patrolling them in automobiles permits a lessening in the number of policemen.

Prior to this year eight members of the Newton police force operated motorcycles to regulate part of each traffic during a larger part of each year. Four of these motorcycle officers were on duty days and four nights. During the Winter months most of them were assigned to other duties. During this year, as a result of the motorization of the police department, only two policemen were on regular motorcycle duty in this city, and both of these during the day hours. The result has been an increase in the amount of speeding and reckless driving in this city nights when not one motorcycle officer has been on traffic duty. In our opinion, there is much more need to control speeders and reckless drivers during the early night hours than during the daylight hours. This fact has been continually brought to our attention since the improved Washington street was opened to traffic some months ago. The speeding on this street has become so prevalent that thousands of Newton residents are talking about it. An autoist endeavoring to drive onto Washington street and making a left turn from one of the many side streets, does so with peril. Pedestrians crossing the street must dodge and run to avoid being hit. The condition, had enough in the daytime, is aggravated at night when traffic is heavy. And one judge in this city is alleged to have stated that a speed of 40 miles an hour is reasonable on Washington street.

Towns in this vicinity, much smaller than Newton, can have motorcycle officers on night duty to protect their citizens. There should certainly be a motorcycle officer on Washington street nights, and more motorcycle officers should be on duty in this city the coming year than were on duty this year. The death rate from automobile accidents is growing in Massachusetts and the number of automobile accidents in Newton appears to be increasing.

In 1916 the citizens of Newton voted to have municipal elections in this city conducted on a non-partisan basis. They realized, as did the citizens of many cities and towns in this country the ridiculousness of conducting local elections on a partisan basis; of confusing national issues with local issues. They knew that frequently men of superior qualifications had been defeated by inferior opponents when municipal elections were conducted on the partisan method. Since that year attempts have been made to change the non-partisan method of conducting Newton's city elections, but these attempts have failed.

Since the citizens of Newton continue to favor the non-partisan method, it is consistent, is it proper for the Republican City Committee of Newton, or for the Democratic Ward Committees to endorse candidates for office at our city elections? Our opinion is "No!" If the citizens of Newton believe in the non-partisan method of electing their city government, they should ignore such partisan endorsements.

His Excellency, Joseph B. Ely, Governor of Massachusetts, urges that a retrogressive policy be adopted on the labor laws of this State in the hope that the cotton industry of this Commonwealth may be able to compete with Southern mills. Governor Ely believes that if the laws prohibiting the employment of women in mills in Massachusetts during night hours are revoked, and women are permitted to labor longer hours in the textile mills, the closed factories here may start again, and our remaining active mills will be kept busy.

Governor Ely never worked in a textile mill. The writer did. We heard Massachusetts mill executives, men with human kindness in their hearts, say that they would rather see the textile industry vanish from this State than have Massachusetts descend to the level of human exploitation permitted by Southern States where women and children are worked day and night, where human beings are sacrificed to greed. It is peculiar logic on the part of Governor Ely that in a time when millions are idle because of labor surplus, in a time when the need is for fewer working hours per day to take up the slack in employment, he should advocate a reversion to longer working hours. Why doesn't Governor Ely use his prestige as a leading Democrat to influence President-Elect Roosevelt and the overwhelmingly Democratic Congress which will be in power to pass Federal laws that will compel the Southern States, the States of the solid Democratic South, to cease working women and children days and nights in their textile mills? If Governor Ely endeavors to walk backward, he is apt to stub a heel against some obstacle. And so will others who travel in reverse.

More publicity was given to the lame duck captured in the pond near City Hall than to any child in this city made lame by having been hit by an automobile. Some of the children hit are to blame for the injuries so received. Many youngsters in this city stand in the path of automobiles and instead of moving when an autoist sounds a warning signal, they brazenly refuse to move, and even shout insults at the autoist who is driving carefully. The impu usually do not get hit. It's the child who dashes off a sidewalk or runs from behind a parked car.

Aldermen Meet

The Board of Aldermen held a regular meeting on Monday night. The meeting was advertised to start at 7:45 and at that hour 40 citizens of Newton were assembled in the hall to attend hearings scheduled at the meeting. They were kept waiting until 8:34 before the Aldermen assembled and the meeting began.

The first matter on the docket was a hearing on the petition of the Edison Company for a pole location on Walnut street, near Boylston street. None appeared to favor or oppose this petition. The second hearing was on the petition of Coleman Brothers (contractors on the Worcester turnpike) for a permit to install a 500 gallon gasoline tank and pump at the corner of Ellis and Boylston streets, Upper Falls, for private use only. Alderman Temperley said that the petitioners should have appeared at the hearing to explain concerning the locus of the tank and pump. He asserted that the proposed locus will either be on Ellis street, on city land, or on Metropolitan Parkway land, and in either case the Aldermen have no legal right to grant such a permit. He asked for information from the City Solicitor. The City Solicitor will investigate this matter. Some weeks ago the tank and pump were illegally installed without any permit.

An attorney named Luce appeared for the Standard Oil Company on its petition for a covered lubricatorium in connection with the filling station at the corner of Beacon and Walnut streets. He did not want to gladly answer any questions concerning this petition. "Lubricatorium" is the new, high-toned way to designate a greasing station.

Alderman Hawkins of the Licenses Committee announced that James V. Gerraughty had withdrawn his petition for a permit to conduct a garage pair shop at 416-r Watertown street, when the hearing on this matter was called.

Several protests were received against the proposed location of the high level sewer which is soon to be built under Mount Ida. The city will take a title interest in a number of parcels of private property under which the sewer will be tunneled. Everett McCassey of Newtonville avenue entered a protest. Residents of Claremont street asked for more information on this matter. They stated that all the information they had received was a legal notice to the effect that the city intended to seize easements on their properties. President Collins of the Board asked one of these protesters why he did not inquire of City Engineer Morse? The Claremont street resident answered that he had inquired of Mr. Morse and had been told by that official that he was unable to give details.

Attorney Hugh Boyd, representing two property owners on East Side Parkway, objected to the sewer going between these two houses which are but 20 feet apart. Mr. Boyd said that if the city builds the sewer as planned, it will ruin the values of these two parcels of property. He stated that in justice to the owners the sewer should be diverted at this point so that it will continue along the line of a street and not go through these private properties, even though the cost to the city is somewhat more.

The Aldermen voted to authorize a bond issue of $300,000 to finance the building of this sewer. An appropriation of $13,000 was also voted to pay the fee of the engineer on this project. Other appropriations included: sewer crossings on Boylston street, $250; pension for John J. Forristal, retired policeman, $33.75; Welfare Department, $10,500; Soldier's Relief, $500; Rent for G. A. R. quarters, $50; Health Department, care of disease, $200; Water Department, care of automobiles, $400; office expenses, $20.

Alderman Bail, chairman of the Finance Committee, explained that the depression is responsible for the larger appropriations. More children are being sent to the hospital to be treated while ill with scarlet fever, because their parents can't care for them at home. The Soldier's Relief expense is constantly increasing; $5000 were appropriated for this purpose at the preceding meeting held two weeks before, and another $5000 will probably have to be appropriated before the end of the month. The Finance Committee is trying to obtain figures from other cities so that a comparison can be made to ascertain how soldier's relief is handled in those cities. Regarding the Welfare Department expense, Mr. Bail said that the appropriation made Monday night brings the total for this purpose this year to $79,400, and it is hoped this will suffice for the remainder of the year.

The Board voted to concur with the Metropolitan District Commission in the taking of certain rights and easements in land of the Boston & Albany Railroad for the construction of the Hammond Pond Parkway between Chestnut Hill and Newton Centre. Alderman Murray explained that this would involve no expense to the city. At 9:02 the Board took one of its customary short recesses which lasted until 10:48. This recess was to permit certain committees to meet and confer. The committees do much of their work during these recesses at supposedly regular Board meetings.

When the meeting was resumed Alderman Grebenstein, chairman of the Claims Committee, reported that he had withdrawn had been given to several claimants. These included one from Carl Hilly, a Marathon runner, who fell opposite 194 Commonwealth avenue on April 12th, 1932, while training for the race. He alleged a defect in the street. The claim of Alexander Cook for injuries to his son when the latter collided with an automobile driven by a member of the City Engineer's staff was rejected because the city is not liable. Mr. Grebenstein said an agreement had been reached between the claimant and the driver of the car. The claim of L. E. Maynard for damage to his automobile caused by defective condition of Commonwealth avenue near Islington rd. was rejected because the contractors, Coleman Brothers, and not the city, are liable. The Claims Committee contended that the city is not liable for the destruction of the bicycle of John Plantedost which fell into a hole on Walnut street, Newtonville, a few months ago when the tunnel carrying Laundry Brookaved in as a huge truck was passing over it. The truck fell into the cave-in and the boy narrowly escaped being crushed.

On the recommendation of the Licenses Committee the Board gave leave to withdraw on the following petitions—Lawrence DeLuca, 3 pool tables at 200 Adams street, Nonantum; John T. Burns permits for 4 two-car garages at Hunnewell Circle and Washington street, and 2 four-car garages at Hunnewell Circle. The last two petitions were withdrawn at Mr. Burns request. A permit was granted to the Walker Fuel Company for a renewal of the gasoline permit originally issued to the Mass. Wharf Coal Company at 285 Newtonville avenue; 100 gallons to be kept for private use only.

The permit of the Highland Sqd & Gravel Company to operate its equipment at the gravel pits near Dedham street and Winslow Lane, Oak Hill, was renewed for 6 months.

The meeting adjourned at 11:15. Time spent in open meeting 55 minutes; time spent in committee rooms 155 minutes.

DR. LINDSAY SPEAKS ON RUSSIA

The Rev. Dr. Samuel M. Lindsay of Brookline spoke on "Russia" at the monthly meeting of the Woman's Association of the Methodist Church on Wednesday. Dr. Lindsay based his talk on observations made on a recent visit to Russia. He found the same varieties of scenery and climate as in the United States. In fact his verbal pictures were mostly either comparisons or contrasts with conditions in this country. The southern part of Russia with its pine forests resembles the state of Maine while the heart of the country is flat and rolling like Ohio and Indiana, and the Ural Mountain region is similar to Colorado.

The speaker said that the eyes of the world are on Russia for the stand she has taken on religion. An average of fifty churches are being torn down each month and the children are taught to say over and over "There is No God." Again Russia is the first country to try Communism. Her vast area comprising one sixth of the known land surface of the world and her population of 168,000,000 also make her an outstanding country.

Dr. Lindsay and his party found the railroad trains similar to those of the Boston and Albany railroad with a better first class service. They were met at the station in Moscow with a Rolls Royce machine and a woman guide. They found red and green traffic lights in the streets. The food consisted of cabbage soup, black bread, cheese, a little meat and, and the children are well looking after and given one pint each of milk and buttermilk and a pound of black bread every day.

In Russia everything is standardized. All receive the same wages whether employed or idle or pensioned. Even in the jails the prisoners are paid and allowed to go home for the week-end. They always go back rather than be shot as they would in here if they did not return. Food and clothes are the same for all. Here again the prisoners share alike with those outside. Immorality is largely controlled by rigid laws. Infidelity is punishable by a three-year term in jail and stealing means death by shooting. The children attend school between the ages of seven and fourteen, after which they divide the time equally between work and school. They marry young and still attend school part of the time.

Since history of all time has shown that human beings are naturally religious, Dr. Lindsay believes that religion will come back to Russia, perhaps through famine or war or through the vision of a man like John Wesley who once saved England from near Communism.

The women of the Association sewed during the morning for the Hattie B. Community Centre in Boston. Mrs. Kenneth C. Dundon and her group served the luncheon. Mrs. Ernest P. Rallsback, the President, opened the afternoon meeting and Mrs. W. H. Timble read one of the Bible Christmas stories. The address followed.

Newton Highlands Woman Is Sued For $100,000

Mrs. Alice Worley of 15 Woodward street, Newton Highlands, has been sued for $100,000 by Victor G. Flaig, her former son-in-law. He alleges that through malice and ill-will towards her, Mrs. Worley persuaded his former wife, Frances H. Worley, to divorce him and resume her maiden name.

Really "Brow-Study"

The word "brow" in the phrase, "In a brow study," is a corruption of "brow-study."

DAUGHTERS OF UNION VETERANS OF THE CIVIL WAR

Daughters' Day, on Dec. 12th, is one of the special days on which to fly our American flag.

On December 12, 1885, at Massillon, Ohio, fourteen patriotic young ladies met and organized the Daughters of Veterans Tent No. 1, after having assisted with the Grand Army of the Republic at the Cemetery on Memorial Day, naming it "Mrs. Major McKinley Tent" for the wife of Major McKinley, later the President of the United States.

The same year Tents were organized in other States, and on September 18, 1890, the first Tent in Massachusetts was organized, and on the same date, the Mrs. A. E. Cunningham, Tent No. 2, of Newton, was organized with a charter membership of twenty. Of these, Mrs. Ida J. Allen and Mrs. Matilda Cauldwell still retain their membership. From the start they have been closely allied with Post 62, G. A. R. of Newton, and have taken an active part in all the patriotic and charitable work of that organization—caring for the flowers all over the City for Memorial Day—maintaining a room at the Soldiers' Home in Chelsea, and assisting at the John A. Andrew Home for Veterans, and their wives at Newtonville.

Meetings are held at the G. A. R. Headquarters in the new War Memorial Building at Newton Centre on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month, at 8 o'clock, at which time the officers and members of the Mrs. A. E. Cunningham, Tent No. 2, of U. V. of Civil War, invite all eligible daughters and granddaughters of the Union Veterans to join their organization to help perpetuate the memory of those who so bravely fought, that this United States of ours might be one undivided country. Tent 2 has been honored by having had a National president in Miss Katherine A. Flood and a National treasurer in Mrs. Ida J. Allen.

Anyone eligible and interested is urged to consult with the President, Mrs. Corabelle Francis, 49 Pembroke street, Newton, Mass.

Electrical Gifts

COST LESS THIS YEAR

We all may feel poorer this year, but are we really when Easy's biggest $99.50 wringer-type washer has just been reduced to $69.50, the Edicraft Toaster that used to be $15 now under $10 and so on all along the line? . . . That's what we mean when we say that the electrical gifts on display at the Edison Shop and dealers "cost less this year."

WESTINGHOUSE REFRIGERATOR

— Reduced $36 — Christmas morning and a Westinghouse dual-automatic refrigerator bursts upon your gaze! Inside you have a happy feeling that your husband wanted you to have more than just an ordinary refrigerator. You resolve to be a better wife all next year! This refrigerator has just been reduced from $165.00 to $129.00.

$99.50 — EASY WASHER — Now $69.50

— Easy's biggest wringer-type agitator washer has just been reduced in price — a breath-taking $30 cut. What news for Christmas shoppers! It has an electric pump, electric switch, largest capacity tub, largest agitator, and Easy's biggest and best wringer. Don't miss this value.

EDICRAFT TOASTER — $9.95

— Slip in two slices of bread, set the lever for the degree of "brownness" you like best, and suddenly it pops open to present you two slices of toast, hot and crisp. It's lovely to look at—simple lines and very lustrous.

HEWITT HEAT PAD — $6.50

— Sleep in fresh, cold, wintry air if you will, but first slide a Hewitt Heat Pad over the shivery sheets, then cuddle up in its soft warmth, and enjoy sweet dreams! Has six degrees of heat — a treasure in the case of pains and aches. Choose it in peach or lavender.

And here's good news—the Westinghouse and Easy can be bought on convenient terms at a slight additional charge

Letters To The Editor

ALDERMAN FARRELL EXPLAINS

December 7, 1932.
Editor, Newton Graphic:
Dear Sir:—

Your paper quoted me as stating that "the city is employing more men than are needed just to keep them employed." While this is so, it is, however, an incomplete sentence; and an extract from a speech descriptive of the depression and its local effects relative to Soldier's Relief and Welfare Work. The complete thought is as follows—"This city is employing more men than are needed in order that they may live, and the Welfare is taking care of more men than ever before so that they may not die."

This statement in no way, no manner referred to any of the regular departments of the city.
Respectfully yours,
BERNARD D. FARRELL, JR.,
(Alderman from Ward 3)

THE HAMMOND POND PARKWAY

November 30, 1932.

To the Editor,
Newton Graphic,
Entirely through rumor, it has come to my knowledge that there is apparently much misunderstanding among Newton Centre residents as to the possible extension of the Hammond Pond Parkway from Beacon street to Commonwealth avenue.

I am enclosing copies of two letters on the subject which are self-explanatory. It is my opinion that the Newton GRAPHIC could do a real service to Ward Six citizens if it should print these statements of the Hon. Leverett Saltonstall and Mayor Sinclair Weeks.

Very truly yours,
SYDNEY B. HOLDEN,
Alderman, Ward Six.
City of Newton, Massachusetts
Mayor's Office
November 18, 1932.

Mr. Sydney B. Holden,
38 Braeland avenue,
Newton Centre, Mass.
Dear Sydney:
I have before me your request about the possible extension of the Hammondwood Parkway north from Beacon street, and I am very glad to give you, herewith my opinion about this matter.

If after the construction of the Parkway as far as Beacon street any balance remains in the appropriation already made, this balance may, under Chapter 301 of the Acts of 1932, be applied by the Metropolitan District Commission towards a further extension northward of the Parkway, but only after action by the Board of Aldermen on or before Dec. 31, 1933.

As I read the act, the actual route shall be determined by the Commission, but subject, under Section 3 of the Act, to review by the Board of Aldermen.

From the above it will be clearly seen that, while the matter may very likely have to be acted upon prior to December 31, 1933, it is not in any sense a live question at this time. Personally, while I have some casual opinion with respect to the matter, I have neither had occasion nor opportunity myself to give it the time and study which a proper solution would naturally demand, and my impression is that this same statement could truthfully be made by all the present members of the Board of Aldermen.

Whatever course may finally be taken, I have understood that you feel, as I do, that we should make every effort to route such traffic as may come through from the south of Newton in such a manner as to protect the residential sections of Newton Centre in every possible way. If I have not answered your questions, I shall be very happy to hear from you again with regard to this problem.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) SINCLAIR WEEKS.

DISCUSSES PRINCIPAL CARR'S ADDRESS

In last week's GRAPHIC you printed an address by Principal Carr of the Weeks Junior High School entitled "Only Those Adapted Should Go to College," and concluding with the following amazing sentence: "If I have made it a bit easier for any boy or girl who should not go to college but who is now being pushed in that direction, then I shall be satisfied."

It has been evident for some time that the attitude in the Newton School System is to deter children from going to college rather than assist them to that end, and this is the first time I have seen it publicly stated in quite such brazen terms.

May a parent who is himself a college graduate, and whose wife is also one, ask a few pertinent questions?

1—If we, as a result of our own experience and intimate knowledge of our own children, decide that we want our boy and girl to receive the benefits of college education, should we be balked or hampered by teachers who place obstacles in their way because they may have decided that our children are not "adapted for college?" Is it likely that they know our affairs as well as we do? Are they responsible for our children's welfare and future or are we?

2—What alternative does Principal Carr suggest for those whom he has been successful in steering away from college? Graduating, we assume, at around 18 from high school; shall we then put our children to work—if they can find jobs? Or does he recommend vocational schools for every one? Perhaps the girl might sit around home awaiting for some one to marry her.

3—What opportunity, outside of college, does Mr. Carr and his ilk see for boys and girls to pursue cultural subjects—fine arts, advanced literature, foreign languages, economics, sociology, etc. Or do they perhaps deny the desirability of any one except honor students acquainting themselves with such fields? We as parents think that the broadening influence might be beneficial to our children even if they did not excel in their classes. It is something to be able to distinguish between a David and a Corot even if one cannot remember whether Michael Angelo was a sculptor or a prime minister.

4—Because Newton is a comparatively wealthy city and because her schools are undoubtedly crowded, have the dictators of school policy decided that those of us who want to send our children to college can afford to send them first to Exeter or Dana Hall, thus relieving the Newton schools of many pupils yearly?

This last question is prompted by the easily proved facts regarding the large number of children of well to do families in this city who, discouraged and hindered, have been taken out of High School and sent to preparatory schools where they have done well. One case came to my attention recently of a boy who was flunked in two subjects in Newton High School and told flatly by the head of one of the major departments that he was not college material. His father was one of those fortunate ones who could afford to take him out of high school and send him away to prep school—where he did. The boy became a honor student almost at once, and this was a prep school of first rank with standards acknowledged to be of the highest. The boy is now in college doing Phi Beta Kappa work. Alas! all of us are not in the happy financial position of that boy's father. What about our sons when some irritated teacher sneers at their college aspirations?

One more comment to show how contrary Mr. Carr's ideas are to those held by parents with whom I have talked and who are themselves college people so that they know what they are talking about. He says that students graduating from high school at 18 are fair college risks, those at 17 are likely to succeed and those at 16 will probably be honor pupils, with the natural inference that the earlier they go to college the better it will be for them. As a matter of fact the reverse is true. The ideal age for college life is from 18 to 22 and except in rare cases any one younger than that is too immature to reap the maximum benefits of the college curriculum, atmosphere and activities.

The Newton schools have done well in recognizing that there are many sides of life worth cultivating besides book-learning. They have introduced many innovations intended to round out a pupil's development of which I approve heartily. But I think that their attitude toward college is incomprehensible and indefensible, and not in accord with the times nor enlightened opinion nor practice elsewhere.

Signed,
HAROLD C. BOND,
22 Fair Oaks avenue,
Newtonville, Mass.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Gadbois, cello; and George Russell Loud, piano.

The cast, which was composed of husbands, sons, and daughters of members of the Club, was as follows: Byrne Hudson, Dorothy Shute Brown, Jack Purple, John D. Haughey, Jr., Isabelle Thompson Williams, Lloyd Yeager, Mary Z. Mackay, Henry A. Shute, Sewall Logan, Edwin Smith and John D. Haughey.

The net proceeds from the evening's entertainment will go to the Newton Community Chest.

Auburndale Woman's Club

An exceptionally beautiful musical program was given before the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday, December 6th, by the Durrell String Quartette, composed of Josephine Durrell, and Edith Roubour, violins; Anna Golden, viola; and Mildred Ridley, cello.

Mrs. John B. Starkweather was Day chairman.

A meeting of the International Relations committee of the Club was held on Monday morning, December 5th. The chairman, Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, presided, and a general discussion was held on The League of Nations Court.

The next meeting of this committee will take place on January 9th.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club drew from the talent of its own members when a program was presented on Tuesday, December 6th, at the Club house, the entertainment consisting of selections by the Glee Clubs and a lecture by Alice Dixon Bond.

At this meeting, the children's dresses that have been made, and the dolls that have been dressed, by the Children's Christmas Party committee, were on exhibition. A substantial amount of money was donated also to buy additional comforts for the sixty children that the club will entertain at the Christmas Party.

After a short business meeting, over which Mrs. Herbert F. Blair presided, the Glee Club opened the program with a group of four selections. Miss Dorothy A. Curtiss led and accompanied the singers in "Oh Lovely Night," by Michael Praetorius; "Big Brown Bear," by Nance-Zucca; "Sandman Am A-Sleeping," by Dvorak; and "Take Joy Home," by Karolyn Bassett. The Glee Club, always a welcome feature on the program was exceptionally well received by the audience. Mrs. William H. Fish, Jr., the music chairman, also has charge of the Glee Club.

Alice Dixon Bond gave an unusually fine lecture on "Literature and Life." Mrs. Bond sketched the early references in the life of the Greeks to their literature and making comparisons in the different phases of literature and life, brought the illustrations down the ages to the latter-day effects of literature on life. It is always inspiring to hear Mrs. Bond talk, for her lectures stimulate the interest, and create the desire for good literature which is the open sesame to life.

Police News

Tony DeVito of 47 Lexington street,
West Newton, was fined $20 in the Newton court last Friday for going away after causing injury to property without revealing his identity. Judge found DeVito not guilty of going away after causing injury to a person. The judge commented that he did not believe the impact of the collision between a car driven by DeVito and one driven by Patrolman Walker of the Newton police was severe enough to injure the latter. The collision occurred near the corner of Lexington street and Rumford avenue.

Donald Bowen of 42 Parsons street,
West Newton, was in the Newton court on Monday charged with reckless driving and driving a car without proper brakes. On the first charge he was given a suspended sentence of 30 days in prison. On the second charge he was fined $20. Bowen was the driver of a car which last week ran across a sidewalk on Crafts street, near Watertown street,
Newtonville, and painfully injured a 7-year-old girl on her way to school.

Elmer Blair, 23, of 826 Watertown street, West Newton, was arrested Monday charged with hit and run driving. It is alleged that Blair was the driver of the car which last Saturday evening hit Philip Kyle, 13, of 119 Austin street, Newtonville, as he was riding a bicycle on Crafts street, Newtonville. The car continued on as another autoist chased it and caught up with it in about a quarter of a mile. The pursuing autoist asked the fleeing driver why he didn't stop, and the latter is alleged to have put on more speed and continued to vamoose.

House Warming In City Hall Cafeteria

One hundred and ten persons, including His Honor, Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Aldermen Holden, Hawkins,
Hill, Temperley, Smith and Farrell, the Heads of the City Departments, and the employees of the various departments, gathered in the cafeteria of the New City Hall on the evening of December 6th, for a house-warming, including a supper, entertainment and dancing.

Charles A. Mahoney, President of the City Hall Associates, was master of ceremonies. After the supper, President Mahoney introduced the department heads and aldermen, Mr. and Mrs. Ewart, Superintendent and Matron of the City Infirmary, and Mr.
Alan Duff, reorganizer of the City Hall departments, all of whom sat at the head table with him and Mayor Weeks, and each of whom bowed in acknowledgment.

President Mahoney then made a brief address in which he praised the service of the City Hall employees of the department heads, and paid tribute to Mayor Weeks as the most efficient executive the city has ever had.

Mayor Weeks said that he was proud of his official family and trusted that all of them would continue to give the same efficient and courteous service which they had rendered in the past.
He added that if the citizens of Newton could see the group gathered at the occasion, they would be proud of their public servants.

President Mahoney read a poem, entitled "A Dream Takes Shape," written by Miss Gertrude C. Estes of the City Clerk's Department. The poem dealt with the new city hall and its employees.

An entertainment consisting entirely of "home talent" was presented, the program being:

1. "Ezra, Martha, and Hiram," a one-act play, with Miss Lillian Swartz, Miss Helen Kavanagh, and Miss Cathleen McKernan.

Talking Dummy," a ventriloquist act,

Edward H. Cannon.

Bridge and dancing followed the entertainment the first of its kind to be presented in many years by the City Hall Associates.

All-Girls Assembly Held At Newton High School On Wednesday, Dec. 14

Principal Elicker Gives Address and Makes Awards For Various Athletic Activities

The annual all girls' assembly at the Newton High School was held on Wednesday morning, December 14. Jane Forte, Girls' Vice President of the Newton High School Association, presided. She told of all the splendid opportunities for Physical Education work offered to the girls of Newton High School and urged all girls to come out and participate in the activities offered after school. Our aim is "A team for every girl and every girl on a team."

The activities offered are: Field Hockey, soccer, tennis, archery in the fall season; basketball, volleyball, Ping Pong in the winter season; and tennis, archery, baseball and track in the spring season.

Elizabeth Quirk, manager of Field Hockey, gave a report of the 1932 season. One hundred and twenty girls signed up for this sport and were all placed on teams and played in the tournament. Games were played by the first and second teams with Waltham, Watertown and Brookline.

The Alumnae gave the season with a 3-1 victory for Newton High School. Our girls had the opportunity of being hostesses at a "Field Hockey Meet" in which thirteen high schools from greater Boston participated.

Constance Ober was the next speaker and told of the advantages of tennis. The fall tennis tournament, in which ninety-five girls participated, was won by Caroline Whitaker. The tennis team will be picked in the spring and games will be played with Brookline, Winchester, Arlington and Watertown.

Deborah Wing summarized the sports: Archery, Baseball, Soccer and Track, in which only intra-mural competition is permitted, and told of the great amount of interest in these activities.

Jane Forte told about the Basketball organization. About 200 girls have signed up and all will be given an opportunity to play on the tournament teams. Later on in the season the class teams will play with Waltham, Needham, Cambridge Latin and Watertown, and the varsity team will play the Faculty and Alumnae teams.

Mr. Elicker gave a few very interesting facts on the history of the athletic field and its development at Newton High School.

"The area now used for athletic fields was originally a farm belonging to General Hull. Later it passed into the hands of the Governor of the Commonwealth, Governor Claflin, after whom the field is named. At that time there was a stately mansion adjacent to the south of the technical building which was named Old Elms by John Greenleaf Whittier, a frequent visitor to the Claflin estate. These grounds were used for athletic games even in those early days. Stately ladies in hoop skirts and chivalrous gentlemen in knee breeches had exciting and thrilling games of croquet on the very spot where you girls now play your fast and furious games of hockey, soccer, and baseball. Henry Ward Beecher and his sister Harriet Beecher Stowe were staunch devotees of the game and they often played in pouring rain and late at night."

With the passing of Governor Claflin some men of vision, Robert Gorham, Frank A. Day, Edwin B. Haskell, Charles Dennison, Charles E. Kelsey, and James A. Lowell formed the Claflin Homestead Committee and purchased in 1906 five acres of the area for $20,000. The next year another portion of land was obtained and all of it decided to the city for the express purpose of using this field for athletic purposes for the high school. The remaining portion of the area included between Walnut St. and Lowell avenue and Elm road and Hull street was bought by Mr. Frank A. Day and later sold to the city by Mrs. Day.

The city of Newton after a few years began a period of development and now we are the proud possessor of one of the finest athletic fields in New England. The dream that far sighted citizens whole-hearted, unselfish in their purpose, charitable and generous, had realized after some twenty-five years of untiring efforts. Let's cherish it and instill in those who use this field the deep feeling of appreciation of our benefactors."

Mr. Elicker presented the awards and said in part, "All of you are commended for your keen interest, your sportsmanship under all circumstances, and your high type of fair play in winning these awards. You typify the high and noble purposes of the men and women of vision who made your athletic field a reality. Cherish it and instill in others the same kind of appreciation you have had for all this city has given to you."

Chest Workers Rest For The Holidays

Have Raised $208,000 of Sum Set As Goal

With nearly $208,000 raised for the fifteen welfare agencies which are raising their budgets through the Newton Community Chest, at the request of Leon B. Rogers, President of the Chest, the workers will suspend activities until after the Christmas holidays.

Newton Upper Falls which some time ago reached its quota has now exceeded its goal of $950 by more than 50%, and Auburndale lacks but $750 of having reached its quota of $18,500.

Urging the group of campaign workers to consider that they have done a big task and done it well, Mr. Rogers pointed out at the final meeting for 1932 that two things have been accomplished—the acquainting Newton with the fact that it is now up to date in its charity giving shown by its approval of the Community Chest of which more than 9,000 Newtonites have become members, and in raising one of the finest working organizations ever seen in Newton in about five weeks.

It is now the plan of the Community Chest, Mr. Rogers stated, to study the gifts made and see if in some way another $75,000 can be raised. The budgets of the agencies must be scaled down to meet the shortage, he said. He also stated that as times begin to grow better, many donors who were modest in their giving will feel able to increase the amount of their gifts.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., was held last evening at Brae Burn Country Club for the purpose of studying plans to carry on still further the Chest campaign. Mr. Rogers presided.

Red Cross Quota Reached

Announcement has been made from the headquarters Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, at 12 Austin street, Newtonville, that its quota of 6,000 members has been reached. This has been accomplished by a mail campaign characteristic of Newton which reflects credit upon the character of the city.

Those who have not yet joined may still do so by sending one dollar to the Newton Chapter headquarters. Every dollar will help to finance the heavy demand upon the organization for relief funds.

One of the most interesting of all Red Cross Activities carried on in Newton is the Braille work for the Blind in charge of Mrs. George W. Rechel of Newtonville, Chairman of Braille Work for the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Rechel has transcribed two Braille books this season and is about to begin a text book on American History. There is always a scarcity of this literature for the blind and the Red Cross always welcomes to the work those who are willing to learn to print Braille and who are willing to give their time in transcribing selected books.

Leach Fined $100; Drove Auto In Fatal Accident

Charles F. Leach of 206 Beethoven avenue, Waban, who was the driver of the car involved in a fatal accident on Beacon street, Chestnut Hill, at 2:30 a. m. on May 30th, pleaded guilty in the Superior Court at Cambridge on December 5th to the charges of driving while under the influence of liquor, and driving to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Judge Daniel O'Connell fined Leach $75 on the first charge and $25 on the second. In the accident Natalie Young, 23, of Woburn was killed; James Shaw of Waban received a fractured skull and broken leg; Lucy Campbell of Boston received fractures of the jaw, nose and left leg. The three were riding in the car driven by Leach when it crashed head on into a big truck owned by the Deerfoot Farms.

Leach was arraigned in the Newton court on July 7. No defense was offered and he was bound over to the Grand Jury. On Sept. 19 he pleaded not guilty to charges of driving while under the influence of liquor, driving to endanger and manslaughter. The manslaughter charge was later noloing for the District Attorney. On November 18 Leach pleaded not guilty in the Superior Court to the charges on which he later pleaded guilty.

Cook Gains In Recount of Newton Vote

Nets 175 Votes Over Opponent Buckley

The recount of the vote cast in this city at the State Election on November 8th for the office of Secretary of State was held at City Hall on Sunday. The result was a net gain of 175 votes for Secretary of State Frederick W. Cook. Cook gained 159 votes and John F. Buckley, his opponent, in whose interest the recount was held, lost 26 votes.

Rotary and Kiwanis Hold Joint Meeting

The two Service Clubs of Newton gathered Monday in a joint meeting at the Brae Burn Country Club where the Rotary Club were the hosts of the Kiwanis Club. Vice-president Harry Hanson of the Rotary Club presided in the absence of Pres. Walter McCammon. Mr. Hanson welcomed the Kiwanians and Pres. Charles Mahoney of that organization responded.

George White of Newton was presented as the incoming president of the Kiwanis Club for 1933. The guest speaker was Mr. H. Philip Patey of Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville. He was introduced by George Edmonds of the Rotary Club as a Newton resident and a former Dartmouth star athlete in baseball and football. Mr. Patey spoke on "Baseball and Life." His interesting manner of delivery, his apparent acquaintance with the works of many authors, and his application of baseball technique to everyday life were noted in every way that the avid student of every other subject which those present showed.

Mr. Patey opened his talk with the words "life is a game similar to baseball—not one of us can live it alone." His first point was that of co-operation. A baseball pitcher cannot win a game alone, he must have the support of every other player on the team. Another important angle of life and to baseball—is that of looking ahead. In a baseball game he saw George Kelly, Giants first baseman, knock down a grounder and throw a man out at the plate by a eyelash instead of getting the runner at first by several steps. Why? Because Kelly looked ahead, knew that cutting off the run was more important than getting the man at first. Doing the harder thing almost always brings the greater result. If the going is hard stand up and take it. Confidence is thus acquired and with it the ability to do better. If there is each victory will help to win another later on.

Wholeheartedness is as essential in life as in baseball. Doing things with all you have in you is half the battle. Sacrifice is another attribute. The speaker told of Babe Ruth coming to bat with a man on first base and the crowds shouting themselves hoarse with cries for a home run. What did the mighty Babe do? Laid down a perfect bunt, sacrificed the runner to second form which base he scored on a following batter. Ruth sacrificed the glory of a home run with his bunt but won the game. The never-say-die spirit often brings victory when everyone else has given up the cause as lost. Give all you have for victory—if you think you will lose you have lost. Having frequently quoted verses from the Bible the speaker paused to explain that he did so because the verses hit him as he heard far better than any quotation from Shakespeare, Browning or others. There is no other book like it.

Mr. Patey's next point was that of clean living. One must hold himself ready and fit to respond to the call of duty. The greatest baseball player in history was Soxalexis whose playing gave the Cleveland team the name they now bear—Cleveland Indians. Telling of various highlights of the Indian's famous career Mr. Patey told how false friends ruined him and through carousing he soon passed into oblivion.

In closing Mr. Patey told how in life we must have authority as in baseball we have the umpire, the rulebook and the captain. The greatest need of the country today is more reverence for authority. He likened the voice of conscience in life to the umpire in baseball. If we obey the small voice of conscience it grows upon us and keeps clear. If we disobey it it flims over and is gradually clouded out.

The rulebook of life is the Bible. It gives us faith, doctrine, morals and religion. Mr. Patey told of the feeling for the Bible that has been expressed by Daniel Webster, John Ruskin, and Dean Charles R. Brown of the Yale Theological School.

A captain of a baseball team is chosen largely for the inspiration of his leadership as well as for his knowledge of the game. In life where shall we look for such a leader? Where else but to Jesus Christ who will be with us in our trials in life throughout.

Route 2 By Hammond Pond $23,000 More

Alternate Route Asked For By Chestnut Hill Residents

Bids on the alternate routes of the Hammond Pond parkway were opened several days ago by the Metropolitan District Commission. The lowest bid on route 1, the original route favored by the Metropolitan District Commission and the Newton Planning Board was $99,769; the lowest bid on Route 2, the route desired by a group of Chestnut Hill residents, was $123,386; a difference of over $23,000.

It was on the matter of asking for legislation to authorize bids for this alternate route that the Newton Board of Aldermen executed an "about face" on May 16th, 1932, after having voted unanimously the preceding Monday night not to seek such legislation. Several hearings were held subsequently before Legislative committees and the Metropolitan Commission. At the hearing before the latter body on June 23rd, proponents of Route 2 repeated what they had stated at previous hearings—that they would not favor this route if it would be much more expensive than Route 1. At this hearing Mayor Weeks, who favored Route 2, said he would not favor this route if it would cost over $15,000 or $20,000 more than Route 1.

Speaker Saltonstall Talks on Economy At Hunnewell Club

Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, Speaker of the Mass. House of Representatives, spoke on "Economy in Government" at Wednesday night at a large gathering of members, wives and friends of the Hunnewell Club at Newton. Mr. Arthur Blakemore presided and introduced Speaker Saltonstall whose address was of great interest to those present. He stated the fundamental functions of government and of the increased services, with resultant increased expenses, that the state began to provide for its citizens. There are three ways in which the government can be run. First by increasing taxation to provide for governmental expenses, secondly by borrowing on the future, thereby increasing the state debt and depending upon the ability of succeeding generations to become wealthy enough to take care of it, and thirdly by the reduction in present expenses. In the latter instances difficult problems are faced. It means the loss of jobs to some individuals and a great deal of difference of opinion as to just what services should be reduced or eliminated. Everyone is prone to object to reductions in ways in which they have an interest and seek to have the reductions made in matters in which they have no concern.

An informal reception followed the address with Hon. and Mrs. Saltonstall and President and Mrs. Moore in the receiving line. Refreshments were served to conclude an enjoyable and interesting evening. The affair was under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Bacon of the entertainment committee.

Less Than Third of Newton Electorate Went to Polls In Tuesday's Municipal Election

Slate Endorsed by Republican Committee Elected With One Exception

The usual small vote was cast at the city election on Tuesday, despite Mayor Weeks' appeal asking the citizens to go to the polls. Less than 32% of the registered voters performed their civic duty; the total number of votes cast were 10,134. That the number was this large was in a considerable degree to the contests for Ward Aldermen in Wards 1, 3, 4 and 6.

All the candidates for re-election were successful except Ward Alderman Silvanus Smith in Ward 4. He was defeated by Dennis M. Cronin of Auburn street, an attorney at law, who won by a comfortable majority. Incidentally Smith was the only candidate on the slate endorsed by the Republican City Committee who was defeated.

In Ward 1 the three cornered contest between Ward Alderman William Sproat, Edward A. Fahey and Edward F. Murphy resulted in a victory for Sproat who polled nearly double the combined votes cast for his opponents. A well organized committee worked energetically for Sproat and a large percentage of the voters in Precinct 1 of the Ward went to the polling place.

In Ward 3 Bernard Farrell, Jr., candidate for re-election as Ward Alderman obtained about double the number of votes cast for Alfred Guzzi, his opponent. The latter waged an active campaign, but the strong support given Farrell by the Republican City Committee, as well as the Democratic Ward Committee swept aside the opposition. In Ward 4 Dennis M. Cronin won by a substantial margin over Alderman Silvanus Smith. While Cronin's victory did not come as a big surprise to some of the politically wise, few expected that he would defeat Smith so decisively. The latter had made no campaign, while Cronin and supporters did quiet, effective work.

Donald D. McKay of Newton Highlands won by about two to one over William A. Davidson in the fight for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 5. In Ward 6 Ronald Cordingley of Chestnut Hill won easily over Anthony O'Leary of Newton Centre in the contest for Alderman-at-Large. The real fight in Ward 6 was for the office of Ward Alderman between Sidney Holden, who sought reelection, and Alfred H. Whitney. Much work had been done for both these candidates. Holden, with the support of Mayor Weeks, Leverett Saltonstall and other prominent citizens, obtained nearly twice as many votes as Whitney.

In the contest for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7 Arthur H. Crane made a creditable showing against Alderman Philip S. Jamieson, who sought reelection. Paul H. Drake was a poor third.

The tabulated vote follows:—

Y. M. C. A.

At the December Directors' Meeting held recently, Mr. Lewis C. Bills, Chairman of the Membership Committee, reported that on Nov. 30th there were 644 men and 399 boys in the active membership.

Perhaps it is not so generally known that in addition to the more than 1000 men and boys who are in the membership, that the Newton Y. M. C. A. offers its privileges once a week to groups of young men and boys who are not members of the Association.

These groups come from churches, Scout troops, schools, and other organizations. The only requirement is that these groups be accompanied and supervised by adult leaders. Last week, not counting the Annual Boy Scout Swimming Meet at which there were a large number present, there were forty-four such groups using the "Y" with an attendance of 524. The directors regard this Community Service as a most important feature of the Association work.

Hi-Y Clubs

It was Talent Night on Tuesday, Dec. 13th, at the Newton Hi-Y Club meeting. Every member took some part in the program and some latent talent among the different members was brought to light. Next week the Club is giving a Christmas Party to a group of underprivileged boys in Newton. The boys will be given a chicken dinner and on the tree will be many useful presents as well as candy and other things which will delight the heart of a boy.

The regular Christmas Party of the Newton Hi-Y Club will be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Monday, Dec. 26, which will take the form of a dance held for the benefit of the Club. John Sullivan's Georgians will furnish the music and the Hostesses will be invited by the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

On Dec. 21st the Watertown Hi-Y Club will have Dr. DeWitt G. Wilcox of Newton Center for their speaker. Both groups will entertain next week the Alumni who are home for the Christmas vacation.

Bowling

At the beginning of the Second Round of the Boston Pin Tournament Team 6 composed of Joseph F. Faragher, Charles Hammond, Dr. George N. Abbott, Holland Hazen, and William H. Haynes is leading by one point. Team 2 composed of A. F. Tucker, Eldred M. Peterson, O. F. Dennis, Carl A. Wheeler, and Walter Cooper is second.

Mr. Tucker, up to date, not only has the High Single of 161, but the High 3 String of 369 and the High Average of 105. Mr. Cooper stands second with a High Single of 139 and the High Average of 105. Mr. Frank Howarth is second in the High 3 String with 357.

Camp Frank A. Day Reunion

Camp Frank A. Day will hold its mid-year Reunion on Thursday, Dec. 22nd, with a banquet at 6:30. At this time the boys who have attended camp during the past season will get together and exchange greetings and talk over the good times they have had at the camp.

Following the banquet Mr. Robert E. Laveaga, Director of Recreation and Health at the Boston Y. M. C. A., will speak about the Olympics which took place in California last summer. He witnessed all the games and will give us first-hand information of the high points in that great athletic event. Music will be furnished by the Masqueraders and an entertainment

IMPORTANT CHANGES EXPECTED IN NEWTON FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

While the 1933 Newton high school football schedule has not been officially approved by the school athletic authorities considerable publicity is being given to a number of expected changes in the list. As Thanksgiving Day next year does not come until the last day of the month the opportunity exists to arrange four November clashes instead of the customary three. This will make a ten-game schedule without making necessary an earlier start in September. As the month of September will have five Saturdays the season will open on September 23, the fourth Saturday in the month as usual.

The schedule being planned for next season includes games with Watertown, Brockton and Manchester high schools if agreements on dates can be reached. The home-and-home agreement with Arlington High for the opening game on the Newton schedule has not been altered so as to bring about a more balanced league season and Newton will again meet Cambridge Latin as its second game of the season. This year's contest having been staged at Cambridge the 1933 game will be played at Newtonville.

For some years Newton has met Everett on Columbus Day or the Saturday previous but as the nearest Saturday date to the holiday next year is on Oct. 14 the Everett faculty manager saved that day for the Newton game and scheduled another contest for Oct. 7th. Watertown High has accepted an offer to play at Newton on Oct. 7th and Everett will be entertained at the Dickinson Stadium on Oct. 14th.

Quincy High for several years past has always followed Everett on the Newton schedule but in 1933 this game has been shifted in order that Newton and Brockton could get together in the first of what is hoped will be an annual meeting between the two, with the probability that next year's contest will be staged at Brockton.

Somerville's withdrawal from the Suburban league and the unsatisfactory playing conditions at Dilboy Field, Somerville, have caused the Newton authorities to forego meeting with the Somerville high school in a series which has been one of the longest in Newton athletic rivalry. The Somerville date, the last Saturday in October, has been given to Quincy with game to be played on the 28th at Newton.

As usual Newton's annual game with Rindge Tech will be played on November 4th, the first Saturday of the month with Newton going to Cambridge next year in defense of its Suburban league title of 1932.

If Newton is successful in arranging a game with Manchester High of New Hampshire it will be played on Nov. 11th, Armistice Day at Newton. With two high schools in Manchester the two teams have a tentative agreement to play each other on this date and the chances of Manchester's trip to Newton depend upon the possibility that this tentative date can be changed. Definite announcement is expected shortly. As in the years the Newton-Waltham game will be played on days preceding Thanksgiving and the Newton-Brookline game on the holiday. In 1933 Waltham will come to Newton on Nov. 18th and Newton will wind up its season at Brookline.

The prospects of next season's schedule then give Coach Sanborn's team six games at home and games at home and games away with Arlington, Brockton, Rindge, and Brookline. As soon as definite word comes on the Manchester game Faculty Manager Dr. Martin will submit the schedule to the athletic committee for approval.

will be presented by the different boys from the camp.

This reunion is not only open to boys who have been at camp, but also their parents and boys who are thinking of going to camp next season. At the reunion will be the time to file applications for next summer and already many inquiries have been made regarding the camp program for 1933. The rates will hold the same as in former years and the season will be divided into three 3-week periods or the complete season of 9 weeks.

At a recent meeting of the Camp Committee additions and improvements were discussed which are beginning to take form. Clyde G. Hess, Director, is already lining up men who will serve on the staff next summer.

NOVEMBER HEALTH REPORT

The November report of the Newton Board of Health shows that 47 deaths occurred in the city, 22 males and 25 females. Diphtheria caused 1 death, pulmonary tuberculosis 2, cancer 4, cerebral attacks 5, heart ailments 10, arteriosclerosis 3, pneumonia 4, automobile accidents 2. Nine of those who died were over 80 years of age, and seven over 70. The death rate per 1000 for the month was 8.27, as compared with 9.31 for November, 1931.

Communicable diseases reported during the month included 37 cases of scarlet fever, measles 1, mumps 1, whooping cough 2, chickenpox 26.

PATENTS ISSUED TO TWO NEWTON MEN

The United States Patent Office has recently announced 22 patents issued to Bay State men among whom were Arthur C. Badger of Newton, for a fire extinguisher, and Albert F. Bancroft of West Newton, for footwear.

ANDOVER TO STAGE ANNUAL TRACK MEET FOR SCHOOLBOYS

Reversing its previous decision not to hold its annual interscholastic meet this winter the Andover academy authorities announced this week that the meet would be held as usual. This affair has long been an attraction for the track teams of many schools and on Feb. 18th next the Case Memorial cage will again hum to the tune of thrilling competition.

Favorable action was taken after M. Lawrence Shields, assistant track coach and manager of the meet, received a set of resolutions adopted by the schoolboy track coaches at their meeting last Saturday. These resolutions commended previous Andover meets and regretted the dropping of the affair this year. The schoolboy track coaches went on record as favoring the continuance of the meet as usual and stripped of all expenses such as prizes, medals and other items. The only other change from the usual form of the meet is a possible small entry fee for each athlete.

SPORT NOTES

Burton Wins Mile

Fred Burton of Auburndale, captain-elect of the 1933 Bowdoin cross team, scored an upset at the Christmas gambol at Brunswick on Wednesday by capturing the mile run from Tom Unacke, former Huntington school star. For eleven laps Unacke led the race with a 50-foot lead over Burton; on the last lap Burton uncorked one of the most sensational sprints ever seen on the Bowdoin track to nose Unacke out at the tape.

Fletcher Tallies Once

Captain Allie Fletcher, Newton youth on the Yale varsity hockey team, tallied one of the Ellis goals which enabled the Blue to beat the Boston Hockey Club, 5 to 3, Wednesday at New Haven. Warren Colby, Yale sophomore from Newton Highlands, retains his right wing position on the Yale team with Joe Gilligan of Newtonville playing a spare defense position.

On Bridgeton Squad

James Sutcliffe, former Newton high athlete, is a promising member of the Bridgeton Academy varsity hockey squad. He is brother of Bill Sutcliffe former Bridgeton star now at Harvard.

On Basketball Squad

John McCarthy and Bradford Dyer, former Newton High athletes, are on the Bridgeton academy basketball squad. McCarthy is one of seven former school athletes on the squad and is expected to rate a varsity berth. Dyer has also been showing up well and has survived the initial cut in the squad.

Wins Exbury Letter

Gould Decker of Newtonville was awarded his varsity football letter at Roxbury (Cheshire, Conn.) School this week at the annual grid dinner. Decker is a former Newton High athlete. His activities are not confined to football as he also is a member of the varsity basketball squad. He is preparing for Yale.

On Trip With Coaches

The annual week-end trip of schoolboy coaches begins this afternoon. Every December, for the past several years, the custom of the Hines director of athletics at Brookline High, to invite the Suburban league coaches and faculty managers to his camp at Windsor, N. H. Late last year coaches have been invited to go along and this year the gathering will number thirty. Coaches Jeff Jones of baseball, Enoch of track, and John Sullivan of the Trade School will be Newton's representatives in the party.

DONATION SHOW AT PARAMOUNT SATURDAY A. M.

Everything is set for the children's performance tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 10 o'clock at the Paramount Theatre, Newton. The admission for this performance will be gifts, such as canned goods, vegetables, shoes and clothing and other articles which can be used for the unfortunate families and children in Newton this coming winter. This is the second year that the Paramount has given a Christmas benefit show. The staff of the theatre are donating their services. Manager Snyder has made this a different show from that which will be given the remainder of the day and hopes that the attendance will be large.

The program for the first part of the week will be Clark Gable and Jean Harlow in "Red Dust." This is a South American rubber plantation story in which these two stars have made quite a hit. On the same program will be "Rackety Rax," a college story featuring Victor McLaglen, Allen Dinehart, Greta Nissen and Nell O'Day. For the last half of the week, starting Thursday, Joan Bennett, and Charles Farrell will be seen in "The Wild Girl" and on the same program Richard Cromwell and Mae Marsh in "That's My Boy," a football drama which has been liked by every audience which has seen it. There will be the usual bargain matinees on Monday and Friday.

The management desires to call special attention to its reduction in prices. In consideration of the fact that during the coming season many purse strings must be kept tightly drawn, prices have been made to fit the circumstances of all play lovers. Besides the bargain matinees when all seats are extremely low in price, at every performance there are a large number of good seats within the reach of everyone. All who enjoy good films may now attend the Paramount without straining the budget.

NEWTON HAS SEVERAL VETERANS FOR HOCKEY TEAM

Coach Dr. Martin of the Newton High School hockey team has a number of veteran players to serve as a nucleus for the 1933 sextet which will represent the orange and black on the ice this season. Charles Houghton, veteran defense player, is captain of the sextet and will undoubtedly have as his teammate at the points, Nate Sostillo, another letter-wearer from the 1932 six. Jack Hennessey is slated to take over the goal-tending berth left vacant by the graduation of Jackson Skillings and Elliot Robinson. Hennessey saw some service last winter and is considered in the veteran class. Alex Kovorkian, another defense player last year, will probably be shifted to a forward berth unless a wealth of material is developed to make him more valuable as a defense spare.

There is likely to be a close battle for the Greater Boston Interscholastic league honors this season with several teams reporting a number of veterans and outstanding stars on hand ready to carry on from last year. Belmont will be right in the thick of the fight with its captain and star, George Ford, the greatest individual star of the league. Medford will prove a team for any of the other members of the league with more than 150 boys having reported for the squad when practice was begun. Melrose is expected to put on its usual strong team and has several players from last year on hand. Other teams have considerable prospective strength and the coming season should witness some thrilling games on the ice.

TO ORGANIZE TRADE SCHOOL BASKETBALL FIVE

The Newton Trade School is planning to organize a basketball team which will play a few interscholastic games this coming season. At present an intramural program is progressing satisfactorily under the direction of Coach John L. Sullivan. Ninety-two boys have reported for one-hour practice sessions late in the afternoon after classes end. The faculty of the Trade School has offered a trophy to go to the winner of the intramural series. As soon as the intramural program has advanced more Coach Sullivan plans to devote several practice sessions to the formation of a varsity team from the outstanding players on the various teams. The squad is playing its games on the old drill shed which has been renovated with a new floor and new lighting system. Lawrence Drury of the Trade School faculty is faculty manager of athletics.

Receive Tilton Letters

Tom Molloy of Newton and Louis C. Adams, Jr. of West Newton have received football letters at Tilton School. Molloy was a member of the varsity squad, playing at end, which had an undefeated season. He also received a gold watch charm emblematic of this fact. Adams received a junior varsity letter. Both will be home at the end of this week for the annual Christmas holidays.

Retained On Crimson Squad

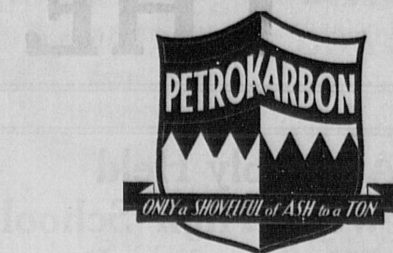

Coach Joe Stubbs of Harvard reduced the varsity hockey squad to 21 players early this week. Among those retained were Francis Gleason, Newton youth and former Country Day athlete, who is one of several lettermen available for this year's sextet. Don Gleason, a Harvard sophomore, and younger brother of Francis, will play with the second varsity team.

Athletic Committee Meets

The track committee of the Mass. High School Athletic Ass'n met last Saturday to make plans for the State track meet at the Boston Garden on Feb. 25th. E. Marion Roberts, veteran Brockton mentor, has been named chairman of this committee for 1933. Dr. Oscar Martin of Newton High is a member of the committee. No action was taken by the committee on conducting events as it was believed that any such action should not be taken until the colleges have announced their decisions on the question and the committee of track coaches which was appointed at the Coaches' Association meeting, to study the matter, have been given an opportunity to report their findings. Coach Don Enoch of Newton High is a member of this investigating committee which will report at the spring meeting of the coaches.

Newton Policeman
Brings Prisoner
From New Mexico

Special Officer Frank Feeley of the Newton police and Inspector O'Connell of the Somerville police appeared in the Middlesex Superior Court last Friday with Thomas Silver (alias Scallan) of Bennett street, Waltham, who is accused of having committed a number of burglaries in Middlesex County. Feeley and O'Connell went to Albuquerque, New Mexico, to get Silver. Just before the two Massachusetts policemen got to Albuquerque Silver and a number of other prisoners in the jail there nearly made a wholesale escape. After getting the prisoner in their custody, Feeley's suspicions were aroused by Silver's actions and a search of the prisoner revealed that he had two saw blades concealed in one of his shoes. Judge Daniel O'Connell of the Superior Court held Silver for trial and fixed the amount of his bail at $20,000.

In connection with the arrest of Silver, Feeley in conjunction with Inspector McKenna of the Waltham police last Friday arrested William Sullivan, 19, and Joseph Cody, 19, of Cutter street, Waltham; and James F. Powers, 22, of Friend street, Waltham. They are charged with having been implicated with Silver in a burglary at the Albermarle Golf Club in Newtonville on March 29th, 1932. At that time the clubhouse was robbed of golfing articles valued at $830. Another burglary occurred at the clubhouse on April 26th, but the three Waltham young men have not been charged, as yet, with this break. They were arraigned in the Newton court on Saturday and held in $5000 bail each for the Grand Jury.

NATHAN FULLER
CHAPTER D. R.

Mrs. John W. Merrill opened her home at 190 Pleasant street, Newton Centre, to the members of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R., for their December meeting which was held on the thirteenth. The Regent, Miss Barbara Estabrook, presided.

A letter from the teachers of the Rice School in Newton Centre was read thanking the Chapter for the picture of "George Washington at Prayer at Valley Forge" which was presented to the school as the George Washington Bicentennial work of the chapter. The picture is to hang in the room having the highest percentage of attendance for a given length of time.

The chairman of War Veteran Work, Mrs. John Merrill, reported that seventeen Christmas boxes had been sent to Newton men and nurses in Veterans' Hospitals and nine letters had been written.

The chapter representative to the State Council, Mrs. Henry Cross, stressed the importance of joining the National Economy League and also reminded the members of the Tea Party Day Luncheon which is to be held under the auspices of the State Society at the Chamber of Commerce on Friday, December sixteenth.

There were three recommendations of the executive board read and accepted. First, that the chapter renew its subscription to the National Geographic Magazine for the U. S. Veterans Hospital at Northampton and the subscription to the Saturday Evening Post for the U. S. Veterans Hospital at Bedford. Second, that the Nathan Fuller Chapter supply a needy family with food and clothing at Christmas time and that each member give a small donation of staple food and clothing. The third recommendation was that the Chapter give a small Christmas gift to each child at the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children.

The next chapter meeting will be held on January tenth at the home of Mrs. E. P. Leonard, Jr., 6 Willard street, Newton. After the business meeting adjourned, Mrs. John Merrill and Mrs. Reginald Eastman played two piano solos after which Miss Dolora Palasheva spoke on "Belgaria in the Big World Family." Assisting the hostess at tea, the pourers were Mrs. John H. Field, Jr., and Mrs. John L. Stearns.

The aim of the performance of the musical clubs was to show the genuine co-operation and teamwork of the musicians, not to exhibit the individual work of soloists. In his opening words Mr. Parker announced the enrollment of the band as seventy members and that of the orchestra as forty-one. He further stated that twenty-five pupils are now receiving instruction in the playing of instruments through Mr. Spaulding.

Selections were rendered by the band and orchestra and the combined groups under the leadership of Edith Pratt, Mr. Carr, and Mr. Parker. Those who took part in quartettes and solo work in the selections were: saxophone; Kenneth Nelson, Eldora Kirton, Jack Camp, Dorothy Briday, trumpet; Anson Piper, Maurice Reidy, Ada Merriam, Thomas Bowman.

With the score 29 to 28 the Weeks team defeated the Alumni last Wednesday. Class basketball games are now under way. Mr. Merrill is in charge of the seventh and eighth grade leagues, and the ninth grade is under Mr. MacConnell's supervision. James DeMichele has been elected captain of varsity basketball. The colorful nut cups, which have been made by the Crepe Paper Club, will add a bit of good cheer to the Christmas festivities at the Veterans' Hospital in Bedford. This gay collection has been on exhibition in one of the show cases.

An anniversary cake and a three pound box of home made fudge were donated by Mrs. Edith Gillis, the club chaplain. The cake was won by Miss Mary Monahan and the candy by Mrs. Herlihy.

A very pleasing entertainment was enjoyed after which a buffet supper was served.

Another person said of the Bible class, "This course has answered the very questions that people are asking now about the life of Christ."

The District Executive Committee will meet next Tuesday evening, Dec. 20, at the Elliot Church, to consider the Home Study leaflet and other plans for the next three months.

A new eligibility rule has gone into effect concerning junior high school athletics that any boy who has reached his seventeenth birthday is not allowed to play on varsity teams.

WEEKS JUNIOR H. S.

A splendid musical program in charge of Mr. Parker was presented at the assembly. As an outstanding feature on the program Mr. Carr introduced Mr. Arthur Fiedler, director of Boston Symphony Pop-Concerts. In response Mr. Fiedler spoke a word of encouragement to those pupil-musicians who aspire to a musical career. He recalled his early efforts as a pupil in the musical organizations at the Boston Latin School. At the conclusion of his remarks, he led an overture which was played by both band and orchestra.

The aim of the performance of the musical clubs was to show the genuine co-operation and teamwork of the musicians, not to exhibit the individual work of soloists. In his opening words Mr. Parker announced the enrollment of the band as seventy members and that of the orchestra as forty-one. Crowded House
Greets Highland
Glee Club

Novelties in Program Go Over
With Enthusiasm

A crowded and enthusiastic house greeted the fall performance of the Highland Glee Club at its fall performance on Tuesday evening in the new War Memorial Auditorium at City Hall. Repeated encores throughout the performance showed the keen delight of the audience and its enjoyment of the innovations introduced into the program.

Following the customary entrance singing of "Ecce Quam Bonum," the program opened with John Denmore's virile "Roadways," which was followed by "Home on the Range" and "Jolly Roger." The latter was repeated in response to the applause.

An innovation in the Club program was introduced when the third selection, "Glory to God in the Highest," was rendered with antiphonal response by a chorus of women's voices singing from the balcony. "Celtic Hymn," also with antiphonal response, was received with applause.

The entire audience was invited to participate in the old Christmas hymn, "O come, all ye Faithful." Following this were three selections, "Farewell," "Celia Thaxter's poem set to music; "In Piccadilly," which was particularly effective in view of the unusually splendid acoustic properties of the new auditorium, and Handel's "Let Their Celestial Concerts All Unite." This concluded the first half of the program.

Following the intermission the Club rendered "A Sprit Flower" with great effect, followed by "Mother Earth," "Mariner's Hymn" and "Route Marchin'" by Kipling.

Another innovation was the selection "Maiden Fair," by a trio composed of Mr. Paul Thayer, Mr. James Clark and Mr. H. E. Walter. The mock operatic acting was most humorous and the effect was irresistible on the audience.

Other selections which followed were "Come to the Fair," and Brahms' "Lullaby," which was particularly effective under the very advantageous singing conditions in the new hall. "Omnipotence" by Schubert ended one of the most unusual programs ever presented by the Club to its Newton audience.

Day Jr. High School

The Eighth Grade is organized with Elliston Whitmore, president; Geraldine Wisbach, vice-president; Marcia Renard, secretary; Richard Whitney, treasurer.

Professor Bancroft Beatley from Harvard University addressed the teachers at their meeting on Tuesday, December 6th. His subject was "Has the Junior High School Justified Itself?" Professor Beatley maintained that education is a service of which you cannot get an over production.

The school radio is used to produce bird calls for the Bird Club by phonographic pick-up to Room 27. The Junior Red Cross Club is making jigsaw puzzles and crepe paper novelties for hospitals. A new drop on which is painted our beautiful city hall was in use during the performance of a skit by the Marionette Club on December 6th. Mutt and Jeff are two of the newest puppets. William Wrigley, Stuart White, Ruth-Jean Erret, William Krause, and Weston Littlefield manipulated the various puppets to the delight of the Camera Club members. Recently the boys showed their marionettes at Tremont Temple. The Kite Club challenged the Sports Club to a soccer game at which the latter were the winners—3-0.

Sally Cushing of the seventh grade introduced Lucille Morrison, a former Day pupil in a program of piano selections during the weekly assembly recently. A travel movie entitled "A Trip from New York to Los Angeles" then followed.

On December 14th two more travel movies of the Canadian Rockies were shown. An experiment is being tried in the 7th periods four days a week. The library and room 11 are open to those pupils who wish to listen to the radio broadcasts of the American School of the Air programs!

THE CITY ELECTION

A few more than ten thousand voters attended the polls on Tuesday at the election. With more than thirty thousand registered voters in the city this is approximately but a one-third vote. Such a vote is smaller than it should be to insure an administration of city affairs in keeping with the wishes of the majority of the citizens. True this thirty-three per cent vote is a greater vote than at any other "off-year" city election of recent years. In 1926 a little less than twenty-nine per cent of the voters turned out; in 1928 the vote fell off to twenty-four per cent and in 1930 to as low as fourteen per cent. Three factors contributed to the slightly increased vote of this week over that in 1926. In that year there were but four contests on the ballot, one for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4, and the others for Ward Aldermen from three of the seven wards. This year there were seven contests, three for Aldermen-at-large and four for Ward Aldermen. There was a contest of considerable interest in every Ward of the city except in Ward 2. There was additional interest in Ward 6 where there were contests for both office as Alderman-at-large and for Ward Alderman. This fact caused more voters of each Ward to go to the polls than would have had there been no contest as evidenced by the fact that the percentage of the vote cast in Ward 2 ran behind that of the rest of the city. A second factor in all probability was in keeping the polls open until eight o'clock in the evening, as in the primary and national elections this fall. The issuance of a proclamation by Mayor Weeks a few days before Election Day, in which the citizens of Newton were urged not to neglect the primary duty of citizenship, doubtless had some effect in increasing the vote. We approve of the idea—it serves a good purpose in bringing home the real duty carried by the citizens. But its value lies in its unexpectedness—consistent use of the proclamation until the citizens know that it is coming and consequently fail to give it much attention soon destroys its usefulness. The answer to the problem of getting out the vote lies in making the election of more importance. While "off-year" elections are of importance in the sense of good government, they are not of sufficient significance to enthrone the majority of voters.

OUR NEW ALDERMEN

The Newton Board of Aldermen for 1933 will be comprised of seventeen members of the present board and four newly elected members. We congratulate the newly elected members, Messrs. Maynard Hutchinson of Ward 3, Dennis M. Cronin of Ward 4, Donald McKay of Ward 5, and Ronald W. Cordingley of Ward 6. We have no hesitation in stating that we believe these gentlemen will maintain the high standards of representation which for many years have been set by their predecessors in office. The re-election of Alderman Jamieson from Ward 7, William A. Sproat of Ward 1, Bernard D. Farrell, Jr., of Ward 3, and Sydney Holden of Ward 6 expresses the feeling of the majority of the more than ten thousand voters who cast their ballots on Tuesday, that the affairs of the city are in capable hands.

DRAWN FOR JURY DUTY

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night names of the following were drawn to serve as jurors at the January sessions of the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge: John M. Ferguson, 9 Oakwood road; Andreas Hartell, 3rd, 77 Withington road; Charles R. Clifford, 17 Irving street; Henry P. Curtis, 169 Washington street; Lowell D. McNutt, 20 Vista avenue. William P. Sullivan of 164 Ward street was drawn to serve on the Grand Jury.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the voters of Newton for their wholehearted support in my behalf and I also wish Mr. Jamieson success in his new term of office.
A. H. Crane.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

With the growing transition from coal to oil for household fuel purposes one sees frequently tank-trucks delivering oil to homes on Sundays. This practice should be stopped. Coal is not delivered to homes on the Sabbath Day. Why should the delivery of oil be permitted? If the law were strictly enforced it would be. Men who work for oil companies are entitled to have Sundays as days of rest, even as are men in other occupations. If the forgetful persons whose supply of fuel oil is allowed to become exhausted on Sundays were compelled to drive to some filling station and carry home an emergency supply, they would not be apt to forget a second time.

This is a tale about a cat. It is not a delectable story. It should not be read just before eating, or immediately after. On Monday night, December 5th, a gray cat attempted to cross Pearl street, Newton, near Jackson road, in front of a swiftly moving automobile. The result was the wiping out of one of that cat's nine lives. There is much automobile traffic along Pearl street and on the following Tuesday morning the defunct cat was not a pleasing object to observe. We supposed that the remains of the feline would be removed on that day, but on Wednesday the cadaver of the cat was still spread out on the street after the style of a miniature tiger rug. Wednesday afternoon we spoke to the day patrolman on the route along the ornament on our street. He is an efficient policeman, so it did not surprise us when he stated that he had on the previous day reported the matter to a Street Department employee. He at once made another report from the signal box to police headquarters.

Came Thursday and Friday. All that remained mortal of the cat was still on the street; in applique effect. Early Friday afternoon we telephoned Street Department headquarters at City Hall and made an urgent request that the object be removed from the gaze of the public. But, on Saturday morning it continued on exhibition. Shortly before noon last Saturday we happened to be at police headquarters and we told of the attraction on Pearl street. Another notice was sent to the Street Department, and finally on Saturday noon puss's pelt was scraped off the street.

Parents who permit their children to coast on public highways do not show much consideration for the lives of the children. Already a number of fatalities have been reported from various places, caused by children coasting on streets colliding with automobiles.

In this column last week we criticized the action of the Republican City Committee of Newton in endorsing aldermanic candidates because of the fact that city elections in Newton are non-partisan. Certain interested individuals were quite peeved because of our criticism. The BOSTON HERALD is acknowledged to be the leading Republican newspaper of Boston, and perhaps of New England. Last Friday, December 9th, the HERALD had an editorial headed—"A City As A Unit." This editorial referred to New York City in particular and to Nicholas Murray Butler's statement that—"There is no Democratic and no Republican way of administering the affairs of the city of New York."

The HERALD editorial said—"This opinion, of course, is not new. It is held by virtually all students of municipal government. It is represented in Boston, for example, by the charter's insistence on non-partisan elections. Municipalities are essentially administrative, not legislative units and there is no reason why principles which divide our political parties should play any part in city government."

Only 29 persons killed by automobiles in Massachusetts last week; 18 of the victims pedestrians. Well, what are 29 lives, when the advantage of speedy travel is taken into consideration?

The newspapers last week contained an Associated Press item telling that Prof. William D. Harkins of the University of Chicago had filled space partly with a new kind of matter discovered this year, known as "neutron." According to the scientists "neutron" is smaller than an electron or a proton. It exists largely in the space of the universe outside the stars. It may explain the riddle of creation, and if this creation theory is verified, it will cause the scientists to believe that life of some sort is immortal.

Ages ago, before erudite scientists existed, before cumulative knowledge had acquainted scientists with protons, electrons, and neutrons, simple folks, with little or no book education, believed that life of some sort is immortal. These old-timers had no schooling, but they possessed wisdom and understanding. If the scientists would devote less of their time endeavoring to grope in the outer spaces to discover truths already known, if they would be less concerned as to whether fossilized bones found in Asia are 1,000,000 or 100,000,000 years old, and if they became more interested in the affairs of this earth, such as finding employment for some of our idle millions of humans, it would do more good now and in the near future. We have a lot of pressing problems to be solved right here on this planet, and at the present.

Get in touch with your Legislators from Newton, including Senator Hollis and the four Representatives to protest against any further diversion of the State tax on gasoline for purposes other than for improvement of public highways. Why should cities and towns poorly governed and extravagant be allowed to draw on gasoline taxes levied from citizens all over the State?

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

It is also important to do your Christmas tying early; likewise securely. You know why.

Peril besets the path of pedestrians who cross the fine stretch of the thoroughfare provided for Washington street. At points distant from business centers some motorists are seized with an uncontrollable impulse to let 'er out. At Jewett and Church streets, particularly, folks on foot must stop, look and run for their lives. How about traffic signals at this point?

It is always interesting at this time of year to observe the throngs on downtown Boston streets. Means vary from the contents of a dime bank to the check-book of a millionaire. Still, they come and go. One thing that takes the edge off of it for me is the presence of unfortunates who seek aid and to make their trade brisk exhibit their afflictions to excite the pity of shoppers.

So many of the old ideas are coming back. Nevertheless, it is difficult to tell which will be accepted and which will be spurned as terribly old-fashioned. When there weren't so many decorations available at low prices for Christmas trees it was the custom to string popcorn and drapery over it over the branches of the evergreen. Simple and inexpensive, also a lot of fun popping the corn and wielding the needle. Why not a general revival of popcorn trimmings in these days of rigid economy?

Must Do Something

From Auburndale, W. W. C. writes: "My dear Mr. Bentley—Always reading with interest your weekly letters in the Graphic, I was particularly impressed by the reference, Dec. 2, to people who place bundles and bags in empty seats on trains and trolleys. I wish to ask you as an expert what should be the attitude of a man, who always wishes to act the gentleman, in the case of women who enter Pullman cars and throw their fur coats over the backs of their chairs into the laps of unfortunate passengers occupying the seats behind."

"On a recent trip to New York I carried a fur collar upon my lap the entire distance. Again, on a Thanksgiving visit to Syracuse I performed a similar service from Boston to Albany and also, on the return trip, from Syracuse to Albany. In both instances the ladies left the train at this point and I am sending devout thanks for Albany."

"The temperature of the cars in all these cases was such that I had no need for extra covering in order to provide greater warmth. 'Now I am contemplating a Christmas visit to Philadelphia and I am seriously thinking of rising up in my might and taking the firm stand that no longer shall my lap be used as the resting place for a fur collar.'"

What Newton Means

Of course the demands of the approaching holiday season crowd our daylight hours and often those of night. Any spare time that comes to Newton people might well be utilized with an inspection of the new City Hall. For many years families have visited the State House and other historic points in Boston. I am glad to say that the custom is still observed, although instead of the guidance of fathers and mothers the young people often make these excursions with their classmates and under the direction of the school teacher. It really doesn't matter as long as they manage to get there somehow.

My suggestion now is "See Newton First," which means that a tour of our new municipal building is something that should be undertaken at the earliest possible moment. The Christmas vacation, it strikes me, would be a splendid time. The fact is there is something to view, something to interest the youngsters. Moreover, it is bound to implant in the juvenile mind thoughts of the importance of local government. Maybe it will offset a lot of things the boys and girls hear in criticism of the management of cities such as the "talkies" like to emphasize in certain hair-raising pictures.

For all I know the public schools may teach this very thing. Assuming the grown-ups are interested it seems to me that they might well encourage children to visit City Hall. The structure is more than an office building, as those who have seen it can testify. Very well then, since it is something that impresses young and old they might well show an early appreciation of that fact.

I picked up a copy of the document published by the Commonwealth, "Historical data relating to counties, cities and towns in Massachusetts." It gives a sort of sketchy idea of the origin of Newton but does not compare with the pamphlet prepared by Mr. John R. Prescott of the Board of Assessors. Combining a reading of this brief history of Newton with an inspection of the new City Hall would offer more than a lesson to the young people. It would, I feel confident, arouse that spirit of patriotism which should possess the hearts of young and old. When people who live in other places go out of their way to speak enthusiastically of the new structure, Newton residents of all ages, as I look at the situation, ought to thoroughly inform themselves.

Warning!

Dear Santa Claus—I understand that you have secret agents engaged in looking over gifts received last year but which did not appeal to the recipients and will therefore be used again. That's all right by me. You can even go further and canvass the bargain basements in the interest of economy. However, there is one thing against which I seek to warn you, dear friend. Do not attempt to work off any of the leftover ballots in last Tuesday's city

Here's to the Yuletide spirit. Snow arrived a week early. Hope it stays. Tobogganing. Skiing. Skating. Lend much to the holiday pleasures. Is Brae Burn having a carnival? From Virginia comes Jackie Matthews for a bit of our northern weather. On December twenty-seventh comes the next Brae Burn. A Waban College Dance. December twenty-third. Come one. Come all. Helen Pierce to spend vacation. Way out in Kansas. Waban's Eleanor Denham sang in New York, Thursday, with Mount Holyoke Glee Club. To visit college friends. Over week end. To return Monday for holidays. Could a telephone call from Culver, Indiana, cause Miss Brandt's especially gay mood at this time. Lib Roe to desert Michigan University for vacation days. The Newtons well represented at Tech Fraternity dances last Friday evening. "Blinds" are fun. Especially for football dinner dances. How about it, Janie. The latest trick. Group taxing from college. Lots of fun. What say you Beacon Street's Ruth. Ex-Hasty Pudding Club's Ted Cole. Fast becoming popular at Copley Plaza.

ODDS AND ENDS

One-cent-a-pound admission for girls at M. I. T.'s dormitory discretion dance. Premium of fifteen cents on blonds. Twenty cents on red heads. They say checker playing has become popular. Keeps one on the move. Expect to spy some day college boy with whole alphabet on car. Letters fast becoming a fad. Bob (big brother) Emery only "mike" man officially approved by the Boston Board of Education. To speak at schools. Does Spyglass see Newton's football schedule increased to ten games next fall. In 1932's All-Suburban Eleven. Alexander Kevorkian, tackle. Warren Huston, quarterback. Palmer York, full-back. All Newton High players. Congratulations. Here's looking at you! NATALIE NORTH.

CENTRAL CHURCH WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

A little sailor boy greeted the members of the Woman's Association of Central Church as they gathered for the meeting on Wednesday afternoon, December 14. The chapel with the members seated at small tables presented a picture of a ship. On the platform an American flag and a model of a ship were the center of interest.
Mrs. W. E. Strong, a Vice-President of the Woman's Seamen's Friend Society, presided. Mrs. Randolph Merrill led a short devotional service appropriate to the occasion after which Mrs. Strong introduced the speaker, Mrs. Franklin W. White, Chairman of the Extension Committee of the Society. She described the Recreation Hut that has been built as an annex to the Marine Hospital at Chelsea Hill. Here convalescents can get away from the hospital atmosphere, play games, write letters and listen to the radio or play the piano.
Gifts were brought to help make a more cheerful Christmas for the sailors. At the close of the meeting, a silver offering for the purchase of Christmas trees for the sailors was taken by the little sailor "boy" who was Barbara Lounsbury, Mrs. Strong's granddaughter. Coffee and sandwiches were served by Mrs. James D. Bennett's group.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

COMING EVENTS

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The time of the Community Musical Hour, to be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, on Sunday afternoon, December 18th, has been changed from 3 p. m. to 3:30 p. m., so as not to conflict with certain church services.

This occasion marks the tenth anniversary of the dedication of the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. Christmas Carols will be sung, under the direction of Mme. Appoline Blair, and added attractions will be a chorus number, and viola solos played by Mrs. Anna Golden. Mrs. Golden is a member of the music faculty of Phillips Andover Academy, the viola player of the Durrell String Quartet and a member of the 17th Century Ensemble, and as solo artist of the afternoon will offer a most pleasing program.

All are invited to come and join in the Community Singing. There is no charge for admission.

Waban Woman's Club

On Monday, December 19th, Major Thomas Coulson will talk to the Waban Woman's Club on "Famous Women Spies and Their Methods." Major Coulson, author of "Mati Hari," served in the British Intelligence Service during the war and has many unusual and interesting facts to relate. Mrs. Selden E. James, director of the Twelfth District, will be the guest of honor and bring a brief message to the members. The chairman for the afternoon is Mrs. Solomon Townsend, vice president of the Club. Mrs. William F. Trefrey and Mrs. William C. Tobin will be the hostesses at the social hour which follows the afternoon program.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Following the custom of several years, the Newtonville Woman's Club again will be hostess to sixty especially-invited children, at the Annual Christmas Party which will be given on Tuesday, December 20th, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Club House.

Preparations have been in progress for this annual event for some time and the Christmas Party committee, of which Mrs. Howard M. Waybright is chairman, has been busy sewing clothes for the children and dressing dolls for the little girls. The Newton Firemen, Hose Number 1, have again given their services in reconditioning the toys that were donated by club members.

For the entertainment of the little guests, William H. Fish, Jr., a son of one of the club members, will present a Marionette Show, including well-known fairy-tales, and a Punch and Judy performance. There will also be xylophone selections by Richard Whitney, another club member's son, accompanied by Walter Abbott.

At the close of this program refreshments will be served to the guest children, while Santa Claus, in person, assisted by two little brownies, will distribute gifts to them.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Friday, December 23rd, the Club will give a Christmas Party to the members of Stone Institute, a home for the aged.

A decorated box of fruit, candy, and gifts will be given to each one in the home. Mrs. Henry L. Goodman has charge of the arrangements, and she will be glad to receive at her home, 29 Hawthorne avenue, Auburndale, donations from club members to be used in filling the boxes.

Those of the Club wishing transportation to be at the Unitarian Parish House not later than 2:10 p. m. on the afternoon of the Party.

With so many parties being given to the children, which seems to be so prevalently the thought in the Christmas season, it is a delightful bit of thoughtfulness to give a Party, as well, to those in the sunset days of life.

State Federation

RADIO. A Musical, sponsored by the State chairman of Music, Mrs. George F. Schroeder, is the feature of the broadcast over WBZ, for Saturday, the 17th, at 11:30 o'clock, as has already been announced in detail.

For December 24th, Mrs. Fuller, Radio director, has achieved the distinction of presenting as guest speaker the famous Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, who talks on the topic "The Key to Prosperity," as chairman of the National Economy League. Newton clubwomen will be interested in the reader of the program, Lila Newdick, of Newtonville, who will read under the title "All the World's a Stage." Music will be given by Elsie Anderson Cowles, of Brockton, a contralto singer.

CHORUS. Mrs. Schroeder is requesting that all club singers join the Chorus, which, under the direction of George Sawyer Dunham, is rehearsing from 10 to 11 o'clock each Friday morning, at the Copple Plaza, Boston. This Chorus will sing at the Choral Festival Alliance at Symphony Hall, on the 4th of February.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

An unusual all-day meeting was enjoyed by members of the Educational Club and their guests, on Friday, December 9th, plans for which were made by six departments of the Federation committee of the Club, of which Mrs. John R. McLean is chairman.

The morning hours were devoted entirely to sewing on garments greatly needed by the Red Cross, under the direction of the Community Service department, Mrs. Ethel Leach, chairman, in the attractive, sunny room of the Unitarian Parish House.

At noon, the Interracial Unity department presented an original pageant "The Parade of the Nations," by Mrs. William D. Keefe, chairman of the department. She read verse descriptive of the outstanding historical events of each country represented.

The "parade" might well typify the settling of America, since it opened with the majestic Indian, who viewed his vast, unspoiled domain, and following him, each in turn signified the arrival of the other races: Norway with bright apron and kirtle; Spain with brilliant mantilla; England, sturdy, reliable, intellectual, in tailor-made garb; France and Sweden, gay with artistry and practical with house-wifely talent; Hebrew, a modest Rebecca with flowing black veil; Scotland, a brave addie who played his drum; Russia, in helmet and armour, entering with a great outburst of noise and reminding of the Soviet, indeed; China, a delightful little lady, bowed in humility, as she shuffled along on her slippers; Switzerland, whose fluted wide bonnet framed the picture of bright colored garments; Ireland, surely emerald in color; Africa, startling black, with gleaming eyes, and adorned with many trinkets, as is the joy of their race; Rumania, Germany, colorful again; Hindustan, an arresting figure all in white of flowing robe and hood; Japan, the gliding small-footed, sweet-voiced singer of cherry blossoms, whose kimono pictured them; Italy, immigrant, indeed, in raiment, and with red handkerchief, her suitcase of earthly goods—these crossed the wide hall to the foot of the balcony, each bearing her nation's flag, and lo, there appeared upon the upper balcony the inspiring white-robed, gold-crowned figure of Liberty, who graciously cast to these her children the white streamers which welded all nations into one, beneath her tender care!

Those who played these parts, in their order of appearance, as given above, were: Mrs. Percival Waters, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Mrs. Gordon S. Heath, Mrs. Thomas Hayden, Mrs. Louise Filene, Mrs. Francis T. Johnson, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, Master Robert Stinson, Mrs. Harry L. Harding, Mrs. Raymond R. Forte, Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, Mrs. Patrick Duncan, Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones, Mrs. Francis McCrudden, Mrs. D. Webster Anders, Mrs. Arthur M. Teulon, Mrs. George N. Abbott, Mrs. John B. Shaw, and Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald.

The luncheon, upstairs, was in charge of the American Home department, with Mrs. C. A. Stims, Mrs. B. Howard Lester, Mrs. June Chipman, and Mrs. Francis E. Nowers in the kitchen, and it was served by Mrs. George D. Thomas, Mrs. Carl Thomas, Mrs. Willard C. Church, Mrs. Fred Fowle, Mrs. Max J. Hamant, Mrs. Edwin M. Wolley, Mrs. Harry P. Durkee, and Mrs. Louis A. Bacon.

A novel feature of the luncheon was a "Personality Pudding," written by Mrs. Alfred E. Thayer, chairman of the American Home department, in which she introduced various classes, committees, and officers of the Club in a most amusing way. Those who responded were: Mrs. Roy A. Stinson, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, Mrs. June Chipman, Mrs. George H. Jackson, Mrs. John R. McLean, Mrs. Percival Waters, Mrs. Charles E. Quinn, Mrs. William D. Keefe, Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg, Mrs. Louise Filene, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Mrs. D. Webster Anders, and Mrs. John S. Franklin.

Mrs. Waters, the stately Indian of the past, became the dancing brave who sought not one pale-face wife, but shocked his interlocutor by wanting the entire Club to serve and entertain "him," to the hilarity of the diners.

One of the especially-taking "hits" was the rhyme concerning the conversations among members, by telephone, in which they sputter and sputter and sputter, and the question as to who gained, was answered by the refrain, "Why, the telephone company," and another showed how "busy" are club members in all manner of avenues, when the listener became so "dizzy," that the only refuge was to go to bed.

The tables, decorated by nations, with brilliant embroideries, handsome brasses, and pottery, made the dining-room a most attractive "bazaar" in effect, although really the setting for individual luncheon groups. These tables were arranged by a committee headed by Mrs. Charles E. Quinn. Prizes were presented by Mrs. Keefe to Mrs. James W. Messenger and Mrs. Henry L. Goodman, who decorated the table representing Norway and Sweden which was voted the best.

The afternoon program was in the hands of the Law Observance department; Mrs. Arthur Teulon, chairman. The president, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, introduced two of the honor guests, Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, president of the Newton Federation, and Mrs. Selden E. James, Twelfth District director, both of whom spoke brief and cordial words of greeting. Mrs. Braham also explained the petition in regard to moving picture programs.

Mrs. McLean then presented another honor guest, Miss Emma D. Coolidge, Women's Club Editor of the GRAPHIC, who read her patriotic poem "Our Torch," the one which she read at Mr. Schrader's request, at the Massachusetts State Federation Convention in Swampscott, last June, this being particularly suited to the day's program, since it exemplifies all good citizenship. Mrs. McLean, in introducing Miss Coolidge, said that to many in the Club Miss Coolidge was an old friend, due to her work in the Clubs, and to some of the newer members she was known as the Club editor, but that her friends liked best to think of her as an author and poet who was gaining fame by her writings. Mrs. McLean was pleased to receive an autographed copy of the poem from Miss Coolidge when she had finished reading it.

Beautiful bouquets of vari-colored chrysanthemums were presented to the three guests of honor.

Next in order was the report of the last State meeting of Club Institutes, covered adequately by Mrs. Arthur D. Batson.

Several groups of songs were enjoyed, led by Mrs. George N. Abbott, with Mrs. G. Howard Frost at the piano.

Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield requested donations of jellies for the hospital, and toilet articles to be sent as Christmas gifts to ex-service women in the Government Home in Dayton, Ohio.

The speaker of the afternoon, Miss Doris Greenwood, of the Massachusetts Safety Council, introduced by Mrs. Teulon, discussed with much enthusiasm the work being done to promote safety in the home and school. She paid special tribute to Mr. Ernest Hermann—along and his accomplishments—among safety lines, among children of the Newton schools.

Newton Community Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Community Club was held in the auditorium of the Underwood School, on Thursday, December 8th.

The president, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, presided at the business meeting, after which Mr. Wilfred L. Husband gave an interesting and unusual lecture, with motion pictures, on his extensive trip through Hawaii, Japan, China, Korea, the Strait Settlements, India, Ceylon, Egypt, and the Holy Land.

A social hour followed, when Swedish "Kaffe och bröd" was served by the Social committee, Mrs. Ralph M. Patterson chairman. Mrs. C. Burton Coting and Mrs. Alvah C. Cummings were the pourers.

Mrs. Fred H. Loveland, chairman of the Conservation committee, has announced a group of four meetings, with paid speakers, being sponsored by the combined efforts of the Conservation committees of the Newton Community Club and the Social Science Club. More details of the course will be given in the January bulletin of the Club.

On December 13th, the American Home committee of the Senior Club, Mrs. Clarence H. Spike, chairman, featured a delightful and educational event in the form of a lecture and demonstration on the Art of Sandwich-making. There were fancy and unique sandwiches for the lunch box, afternoon teas, luncheons and bridge parties; also a t t r a c t i v e hors d'oeuvres, canapés, and cornucopias. Tea and samples of sandwiches were served.

Members of the Junior Club have been working hard making Christmas stockings for the Christmas party, and are making baby clothes for the Red Cross.

If anyone has pictures for scrapbooks which they cannot use, the Juniors would greatly appreciate it if they would contribute them, for they could make excellent use of them.

Community Service Club of West Newton

On Wednesday, December 7th, the Community Service Club of West Newton held an all-day meeting. At 9 a. m., an emergency sewing meeting, under the direction of Mrs. Gardner I. Jones, brought out a large number of club members who worked diligently and effectively on garments urgently needed by the Red Cross for relief work.

At 2:30 p. m., the regular monthly meeting took place, with Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. F. S. Tower.

Mrs. Ladd presented an appeal from the Red Cross for books and cards for the use of veterans in hospitals.

A gratifying report of the financial returns of the November 30th entertainment was given, practically all of which was at once voted to the Community Chest.

Particularly fitting at this December meeting was the Christmas Cantata by the Club Chorus, which was received with appreciation by the audience.

The Chorus is under the leadership of Mrs. Marion Kingsbury, with Mrs. Tower as accompanist.

Following the musical program, Professor Kirtley F. Mather spoke to the Club, his subject being "The Quest for Security."

Professor Mather states that man's best day is in the future. At present we suffer from a depression different from the economic one, a depression of philosophy and pessimism has swamped our land. He stated that our hope for absolute success in the "Quest for Security" is for man to build so much of spiritual value in his life that nothing can destroy it; to find some goal so fine that he will devote his life to it. IF YOU WANT

Useful Practical Gifts

Let's not get the idea that to be practical we've got to be dowdy. Quite the contrary! Apparently, some wives or sisters have whispered in Mr. Manufacturer's ear that they like color, style, and snap, as well as usefulness. For the dozens of useful electrical gifts that your Edison Shop and other dealers are now showing for Christmas are quite the smartest we've ever seen.

THE NEW EUREKA

—This is the cleaner you've read about that makes the "sand dance and soda boil." The phrase is intriguing, and the demonstration at the Edison Shop is even more intriguing. Don't miss it! This Eureka, for the first time, combines high vacuum with a motor-driven brush. And remember, we make you a generous allowance on your old electric cleaner. Free trial—liberal terms . . . Price, $54.50.

NESCO CASSEOLE

—This tidy little electric casserole cooks delicious stews, fricassees, cereals, desserts, escalloped and baked dishes—via the waterless method. Last summer, when it first appeared, ten thousand women bought one . . . Price, $4.95.

WHIRLDRY WASHER

—The Whirldry is a portable electric washer for small families, or for the mid-week odds and ends of larger families. It rinses, damp-dries—yes, even dry cleans . . . Price, $39.50.

UNIVERSAL ELECTRIC RANGE

—They call this the Table Top model because a convenient surface to work on is thoughtfully provided in its design. Think of the steps this saves you! Come in and let us show you how it banishes guesswork . . . gives much more delicious food—how fast, clean, and economical it is. Price, $148.50.

Convenient terms on all purchases that total $15 or more—at a slight additional charge

DALY POST, V. F. W.

The first regular meeting under the new officers, Commander David L. Keefe, presiding, was held at Post Headquarters, Washington street, West Newton, last Monday night, a large attendance being present. Commander Keefe announced the various committees, and urged all members to co-operate with their endeavors in every way possible.

John Hickey, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, announced that in conjunction with the Turkey Whist to be held tonight, a 45 party would also be held for the benefit of those desiring to play that particular game. A door prize of a turkey will be presented to the lucky ticket holder, as well as turkey prizes for those holding winning scores.

Past Commander John Keefe, chairman of the Smoker Committee, announced that plans were well under way for a smoker to be held at Post Headquarters on December 23, 1932, at which time several boxing and wrestling bouts are to take place as well as other high class entertainment. It is hoped to hold smokers throughout the winter months at the Post Headquarters, which will give Newton people a chance to see Newton Talent in action, and encourage our own local boxers and entertainers.

Owing to the fact that our next meeting falls on Dec. 26, 1932, on which day Christmas is to be celebrated the next regular meeting will be held on Dec. 28, 1932.

world the best you have, and the best will come back to you."

Following Professor Mather's address a social hour was enjoyed with tea served by a committee, of which Mrs. G. F. Larcom was chairman.

Shakespeare Club

At the last meeting of the Shakespeare Club, Miss Edith M. McCann was hostess. The president, Mrs. Allan McIntosh had charge of the work, this being Acts I and II of "Twelfth Night."

Many interesting points were admirably drawn by Mrs. McIntosh; among them the name, source, and setting of the play; and even if Shakespeare was indebted to the Italian play "Gliuquanni," for some of the main incidents, the principal characters are entirely his own creation, and what gives the minor characters life and individuality is due to Shakespeare's hand.

She also brought out that this comedy is of a pastoral and poetical cast, and vividly portrayed how humor, love, and poetry are all intermingled—the clown being the philosopher of the play, and the poet running riot in a conceit and idolizing a quibble.

All joined in rendering the amusing incidents in the various scenes which appealed to them, thereby provoking much merriment, for the afternoon's very enjoyable program.

Newtonville Woman's Club

A most finished and artistic production was the annual dramatic offering of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Friday evening, December 9th, when the play "As Husbands Go," a comedy in three acts, by Rachel Crothers, was presented in the Newton High School auditorium. An enthusiastic audience greeted this play so ably presented by the Village Players for the Woman's Club. Each member of the cast played with a sincerity and convincing skill that was most satisfying.

"As Husbands Go" was certainly an evening's entertainment of amusing situations and attractive in artistic stage settings.

The scene opens in a cafe, in Paris, a very realistic setting for the Prologue which creates the atmosphere for the events which follow. The action of the play centers around Lucile Lingard, a middle-western wife, who while traveling in Paris suddenly discovers that she is in love with Ronald Derbyshire, a rising young English author. These two, with Emmie Sykes, her friend, and Hippy Lorie, who they have met in Paris, are enjoying a last evening of pleasure at the cafe, before the two Americans leave for home; Lucile to return to her husband and Emmie reluctantly going back to her daughter, Peggy.

Upon their arrival, Lucile finds it quite difficult to confess her love for Ronald to her husband, Charles Lingard, because of the deep regard she feels for his unselfish devotion to her. Emmie's daughter, Peggy, is not, however, so easily deceived, and she insists upon knowing the reason for the apparent change in the two women. Hippy, who has returned with them, is quite sincere in his affection for Emmie, but Ronald's love is not so lasting when he discovers that it might interfere with his literary genius, and also when the genuine love of Lucile's husband in all its unselfishness is made known to him. The usual happy ending is reached with the husband and wife reunited, Peggy and her lover reconciled to the admission of Hippy into the family, and the curtain falls on the comedy which expresses Rachel Crothers' perfect understanding of human nature.

The cast was selected from the experienced players of Newton. Lucile Lingard was a very appealing character and when played by Hazel Sholley her type was interpreted with deep feeling and intuition. Ronald Derbyshire, playing opposite Lucile, was portrayed by William S. Parker, with sympathetic understanding, ease of manner and poise that gave naturalness to his part. His scene in the third act with the husband alone, was very well done. Emmie and Hippy supplied the lighter side, and many humorous situations were created through the clever handling of their lines. Emmie was a very likable person when portrayed by Helen Brown, and Donald McKay gave life and character to Hippy. The cafe scene was made complete with Montague P. Ford, who used his French as a perfect waiter. Abundant sympathy was felt for Charles Lingard, the husband, and the character was admirably interpreted by Wesley Dynes who made the audience smile and then feel sorry for him by turns. An appealing note was struck in the character of Wilbur, the small nephew, and Brooks Dietz gave promise of many more fine interpretations. Peggy Sykes, the sophisticated daughter of Emmie, typified a modern young miss, whose devotion to her mother was shown when put to the test. Verna Dynes gave a very definite and convincing picture of what the younger people really stand for when occasions arise. Jake Cannon, played by Harry B. Cummings, supported Verna Dynes very ably. Ethel Sutton as Christine and Kathryn Ford as Katie, the two maids, completed this cast which gave such a splendid and well-balanced performance.

Between the acts music was supplied by Dr. Anton Fried, violin; Mrs. Henry Stanley, piano; Mrs. Kenneth Hastings, violin; and Miss Doris Forte, cello.

ELECTED TO COUNCIL OF MIDDLESEX BAR ASSOCIATION

At the recent annual meeting of the Bar Association of Middlesex county, Thomas Weston of Valentine street, West Newton, was elected to its council to serve for three years, and William H. Best of Prince street, Newton, to serve for two years.

Swimming Meet

One hundred and twenty-five Scouts swimming their best, to bring home the Swimming Meet Shield, with 200 Scouts and Scouters cheering them on, formed the scene at the Y. M. C. A. pool on Friday night last. It was the largest swimming meet the Council has ever held. The Committee in charge was composed of Mr. Morgan H. Harris and Mr. C. G. Hess of the Y. staff.

The Meet started off with the 20 yard Junior Dash, won by Scout Newbert of Troop 9, with Scouts Hartpence of Troop 1 and Scout Davis of 4A, second and third respectively. Scout Myers of 11 won the 20 yard intermediate dash with Smith of 7C second and Fitchett of 5, third. Scout Anderson of 11 came first in the 20 yard senior dash with Wilder of 5 second and Olier of 18, third.

In the 40 yard junior dash, Jarvis of 22 forged in ahead, with Prescott of 4A next and Newbert of 9, third. The intermediate dash was led by Myers of 11, with Parker of 22 next and Burns of 1, third. In the senior 100 yard swim, Anderson of 11 won, with Olier of 18 second and Fitchett of 5, third.

The breast stroke dash, 20 yards, was the next event. For the Juniors, Prescott of 4A won with Merchant of 7C second and Barry of 11, third. No one placed in the intermediate. The senior dash was won by Skauen of 11; second, Noble of 5; third, Potter of 7B. The pool was filled with splashing arms and legs during the backstroke swim. For the Junior event, Hartpence of 1 came first; Reidy of 4B second and Day of 11, third.

The intermediate was won by Englehardt of 11; second, by Marcy of 4A and third by Austin of 1, Wesley. Senior was led by Whipple of 5; second, Clark of 11; and third by Craig of 2.

Because of time, the Obstacle race and the Red Cross Life Saving demonstration had to be omitted. The meet closed with the most exciting event of all the relay races, four men to each team. The Junior Relay Race was won by the team from Troop 1, Newtonville; second, by Troop 4A, Highlands and third, Troop 18, Center. The Intermediate event was won by Troop 22, Newton; second place taken by 7C, West Newton and third, by 4A, Highlands. The Senior Relay, Troop 5, Center and third, Troop 4A, Highlands.

The final score showed Troop 11, Newton, the winner with 45 points; second place, Troop 4A, Highlands, with 24 points; and Troop 5, Center and Troop 1, Newtonville, tied for third with 19 points each. The Shield will be awarded to Troop 11 on Friday evening, December 16th, at the Court of Honor.

The purpose of the Meet is to develop more interest in swimming among Scouts and to help reach the goal of "Every Scout a Swimmer." For weeks before the Meet, Troop teams go to the Y through the courtesy of that organization, and practice for the various events. Due to this competition, there has been created a great interest among Scouts in swimming than ever before. The improvement in swimming among Scouts of the Council is very marked.

Troop 6 Charter Night

Troop 6, Newtonville, meeting at the Frank A. Day Junior High School, is the newest of the Troops in Newton. It is sponsored by a committee consisting of Dr. Waldo Walker, Chairman, and Messrs. Richard Cooley, Frederick Kite, A. Ellis Hunt and Russell Burkhardt, principal of the Day Junior High School. The Scoutmaster is Mr. Chester K. Hill; the Assistant, Mr. W. Bradford Gove, and the Senior Patrol Leader, Eagle Scout Lloyd Walker.

The meeting was attended by many parents, every Scout in the Troop being represented, by members of the Troop 1, Newtonville, Committee and its Scoutmaster, Mr. Norman MacConnell; the Scout Commissioner, Mr. G. D. Marcy and the Scout Executive, L. A. Bruce, Jr.

The meeting was opened with assembly of the Troop, followed by Colors. Dr. Walker welcomed parents and friends. Troop 1 put on a stunt and also the Scouts of Troop 6. Mr. H. Wilson Ross, Chairman of Troop 1's Committee, welcomed the new Troop and promised full cooperation of its older members in the village. Scout Commissioner Marcy told the parents about Scouting. The Scout Executive gave the Oath of Office, the Scout Oath, to the members of the Troop Committee and to the Scoutmaster, awarded their certificates of membership to each Scouter and the Charter to the Chairman of the Committee of the new Troop. The program and spirit at this affair were excellent; the unusual feature of singing was tried and the "rafter" rang. Troop 6 is now a member of the official family of Norumbega Council. It is holding hikes regularly at the Nobscot Reservation and is planning an Adirondack shelter there as soon as possible.

Court of Honor

The first Court of Honor of the Scout year will be held at the John W. Weeks Junior High School on Friday evening, Dec. 16th, at 7:45. All parents and friends of Scouts and Scouting are cordially invited to attend.

The program will include Scout awards and features of Scout demonstrations of rope-spinning and whipsnapping; fire by flint and steel and a surprise stunt.

Colonial "Dead Room"

In Colonial times a "dead room" was the room in which a body lay in state.

Girl Scouts

Keen anticipation is being felt by the Girl Scouts of Newton as at their annual mid-winter frolic, which is to be held at the Newton High School Friday evening at 7:30 P. M., they journeyed "East to West by Song Way." This year they are portraying typical music of localities and periods in the United States. West Newton and Upper Falls—Negro Spirituals; Waban and Nonantum—Sea Chanties; Newton—Gypsy Songs; Newtonville—Gay Nineties; Newton Centre—Indian Music; Auburndale—Cowboy Songs; and Newton Highlands will bring the program to a close with a typical Camp Mary Day scene.

Julia Harvey of Troop 15, Senior troop in West Newton, will be presented a Golden Eagle by Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, Commissioner. She has been an active member in the troop and this year is a freshman at Vassar College.

The Newton Girl Scouts felt that they would like to know more about the Community Chest and what it is trying to accomplish in Newton. Representatives of the Campaign Committee of the Community Chest in each village visited the troops and explained the purpose of the drive. At this time the girls were asked to vote as to whether they would like to give their dues and it was unanimously voted to co-operate; each girl deposited her nickel in a miniature chest and was presented with a Community Chest pin.

Saturday morning Girl Scouts representing their villages met with Miss Freeman and Mrs. Redfield in West Newton where they called on Mr. Rogers, President of the Community Chest, and presented their contribution.

Troop 18 reports that they had a mothers' day at which the girls entertained their mothers and served them refreshments after the meeting. The previous meeting was devoted to the customs of foreign countries and each girl wore a hat and scarf representing them.

GETS SIX YEARS FOR KIDNAP THREATS

Ettore Pellegrini, 44, of 360 Langley road, Newton Centre, in the Thompsonville section, was sentenced to serve from 6 to 12 years in State Prison by Judge Hammond in the Middlesex Superior Court on Tuesday. Pellegrini had written letters to Frederick H. Kennard of 246 Dudley road, Newton Centre, and Leslie Hawkridge of 230 Dudley road, Newton Centre, making threats against them unless they placed large sums of money near the street railway waiting-room shanty at the corner of Boylston street and Dudley road at specified times. Inspector King and Special Officer Feeley of the Newton police hid near the shanty at the time specified in Pellegrini's letter and captured him when he drove up in an automobile, alighted, and started to search for the letters. Pellegrini is married and his wife and children reside in Italy.

NEWTONVILLE COUPLE KILLED

head, Mr. Jonah awakened and he, too, was killed in a similar manner. The youth then used the razor on his victims and then broke one of his own wrists with a blow from the hammer. He then slashed both of his own wrists. He remained in the house until about 6 o'clock and then dashed across the street where he lay in the snow for a couple of hours, clad only in his pajamas and using his overcoat for a blanket.

The youth was adopted by the Jonahs when he was two years old. He attended the Day Junior High School and the Newton High School. He left the latter school in his second year and for the past couple of years had performed much of the house work at his home because of the long illness of Mrs. Jonah. Because of his weakened condition and the fear that his exposure in the cold might threaten him with pneumonia, young Jonah was kept in the hospital under police guard yesterday and last night. If his condition permitted he would be arraigned in the Newton court this morning. He has always borne a good reputation.

Mr. Jonah was born in Winton Mills, New Brunswick, and had been a carpenter by occupation. Mrs. Jonah was a native of Clinton, Mass. The couple formerly resided in Newton for 12 years and then moved to Clinton. Twelve years ago they returned to this city and resided in a half duplex house. The other half was occupied by William Jonah, a brother of the dead man. The funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Jonah will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 in the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church. Burial will be at Clinton.

NEWTON CONTRACTOR TO BUILD SEWER COSTING $375,000

pendable work. The terms of the contract are regarded by Metcalfe & Eddy, consulting engineers in charge of the project, as decidedly advantageous to the city.

It is estimated that about seven months will be required for the job. The city unemploys in the sewer job will be paid the going rate of wages; from 40 to 45 cents per hour. They will be given sufficient work each week to bring them wages which will equal the amounts they have been receiving from the Welfare Department.

EPWORTH LEAGUE PRESENTS THREE-ACT COMEDY

Shaw, Warren Hilton, John MacMasters, Walter P. Martin, Miss Copeland, Miss G. Fowler, Elizabeth M. Martin, Ruth M. Hartshorn.
Music was furnished between the acts by a four piece orchestra. Harvey Charmichael presided at the piano. Edward Wildman, clarinet and saxophone; Louis Remond, trumpet; Vaughan Shedd, violin. The stage directors were Mrs. Noyes Meara and Miss M. Olive Duval. Stage managers, Mr. Frank Mordo, Mr. Noyes Meara; business manager, Gardner Duval.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

In 1922, the strange truth was forced upon the music lover of Boston that wonderful scores written as far back as the 1100's were lying buried, because no one seemed to be interested enough to bring them to the light. Signor Italo Maria, an organized orchestra for the purpose of playing these long forgotten and neglected masterpieces and its first concert was held June 11th, 1922, and proved an epoch in the history of music in Boston. It was the first of a series of concerts to be long remembered.
On Sunday 3:30 p. m. a Quintette from this now famous Eighteenth Century Symphony Orchestra will render a Candle-Light Concert in colonial costume at the Children's Museum of Boston.

Admission by ticket only. Free tickets which are available at the Museum will be sent upon receipt of a stamped, addressed envelope.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

The GRAPHIC has received a letter written by a young woman in Kansas who says "I read in a paper the other day where your town had lots of rich bachelors and widowers. I'd like to find just one that I could marry so I could get my mother well again." The writer states that she can learn to love any man who will be so kind as to give her $5000. She gives the information that she is 28 years old and has a 14 year old son. She enclosed a photograph and asked the paper to print it, but as the GRAPHIC has no photo engraving department we can't comply with this request.

The young woman who believes that Newton contains many eligible bachelors and widowers probably did not see the figures of the last census which gave the information that in Newton there are 2000 more females than males. But this disparity might not discourage her. Possibly the unmarried women in Newton, charming though they are, may not appeal to some of our local bachelors and widowers. Our eligibles may prefer a little prairie wild-flower. So here's a chance for some lonely man in Newton who can obtain an attractive life-partner from the wide open spaces of Kansas where the corn tassels wave in the breezes.

Some old-time residents of Newton have asked me to mention about a practice of some boys and girls who are pupils at the Newton High School. They say that these pupils walk along the sidewalks on Walnut and other streets three and four abreast and force to one side even aged persons. Although it is the duty of parents to train children to have common courtesy and respect for old people, obviously this duty is quite neglected by some Newton parents. Possibly the school authorities may be able to instill into the sidewalk hoppers consideration for the rights of other pedestrians.

Possibly the teachers in our schools might endeavor to influence their pupils to cease from rummaging in waste barrels on their way home from school. By doing this our streets would have considerably less litter blowing about, or lying by the wayside.

The City of Newton should emulate other cities which have passed ordinances levying heavy fees on itinerant merchants who rent vacant stores or lots of land for a week or two during periods of the year such as the Christmas season. These itinerant vendors compete unfairly with established merchants of the city who must pay high rents and taxes.

Mayor Weeks did the proper thing in awarding the contract for the big sewer job to a Newton contractor. Frank H. Stuart has earned a reputation for dependable work. He will employ mostly Newton men, and will pay from 40c to 45c an hour for labor instead of 30c as some other contractors have been paying on public works.

Driving on the streets of Newton has been difficult since the snowstorm. Unlike previous winters the snow was not scraped off the streets after the storm. It was dry snow, no thaw came, and it has remained on the streets to make driving hazardous and break springs on automobiles. Much money is saved to taxpayers by not hiring private trucks by the wholesale. By not spending much money hiring trucks, more work can be given this winter to the employees of the Street Department. This is also commendable. But, if the weather continues cold, the hardened, icy snow now on the streets will form an uneven foundation for future layers of snow and the streets will continue in a dangerous condition. Nearby cities and towns scraped the snow off their principal streets after the recent storm; even small towns. If these smaller, less wealthy towns can safeguard travel, certainly Newton should take some measures to make its heavier travelled streets safer for automobile traffic. It would seem that this could be done to a large degree with city-owned equipment.

THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS

A story of New York young people in the time of the Revolution by Leonora Hill Ashton and entitled "The Pursuit of Happiness" is one of the foremost semi-historical novels of the fall book season published by Lothrop Lee & Shepard Co., Boston. How the pursuit of happiness went far beyond social activities and took on the vital meaning of the Declaration of Independence is told in the story of David Henry, friend of Nathan Hale, Alexander Hamilton and favorite of George Washington, and his group of companions, who take part in the thrilling events of the Revolution. Beginning with the discontent at the Stamp Act and ending with the evacuation of New York by the British troops the story pictures many famous historical events. The figure of Washington, the ruling spirit of the period, marks the book as a tribute to him in this bicentennial year as well as a work of permanent interest and value for young people.

NEWTON CENTRE MEN GET JAIL SENTENCES

Herbert S. Mabey, 40, of 16 Grant avenue, Newton Centre, and Harry R. Coshnair, 34, of 430 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre each was sentenced to serve two years in the Middlesex County prison by Judge Hammond in the Middlesex Superior court on Monday. Each was also fined $1000. Sentence was stayed pending exceptions taken to the Supreme Court. They were found guilty of conspiracy to steal and conspiracy to defraud in connection with the sale of stock of the Medford Trust Company during 1930. This trust company subsequently closed. Asst. Dist. Attorney Crafts, who prosecuted the case argued that the defendants had sent out radio broadcasts and circulars about the stock which were deliberate misstatements. He said that the type of crime committed by Mabey and Coshnair is of the worst kind, leaving a trail of heartaches, desolation and sorrow among its victims, which in this case included elderly women and a blind man. Coshnair's brother Samuel of Brighton was also found guilty and received a year's sentence and a $1000 fine.

THE TAXPAYER AND THE PUBLIC EMPLOYEE

A reduction of 7½ percent in pay for all city employees in Newton will go into effect on January first in order that the tax rate may at least be kept at its present level. Newton has long been one of the wealthiest cities in the State and its citizens proud of its financial condition. The past few years have witnessed unparalleled changes in the financial affairs of business, industry, municipal expenditures, and individual prosperity. The struggle has been one that has left its mark on many. A great number of Newton residents and taxpayers, who in previous years were little concerned with the cost of municipal, state, and national government, are facing problems of the future. The list of unpaid taxes is growing longer. Publicity has frequently been given to the financial condition of communities where "payless paydays" have been experienced. Mayor Weeks apparently is striving to keep "the house in order" so that it will not be a case of "killing the goose that lays the golden eggs." There is a direct relation between the tax payer and the public employee that cannot be overlooked. Under any conditions it is regrettable that salary reductions are made and we trust that improved conditions will permit a speedy return to the present rate of pay to public employees.

Recent Deaths

ROBERT D. HOLT

Robert D. Holt, 66, residing for about thirty-five years at 483 Centre street, died Friday, Dec. 16, at the Newton Hospital, having suffered a shock the previous Sunday. The funeral was held Sunday, the 18th, at his late home, Rev. Alfred S. Cole, minister of Channing Church, officiating. The remains were cremated at Mt. Auburn and the ashes are later to be deposited in the Lowell Cemetery. Mr. Holt was born at Lowell, Dec. 12, 1866, son of Dr. Daniel and Mary Greenleaf (Dunlap) Holt. He graduated from Amherst in 1889. A frequent visitor to the college, he attended the inauguration of President Stanley King last November.

After the death of his parents he came to Newton to make his home with Dr. and Mrs. Jesse F. Frisbie, his aunt. He had various business interests in Boston and for nearly twenty years he had been treasurer of Channing Religious Society. He was a member of the University Club, Appalachian Mountain Club, Boston Art Club, Unitarian Club of Boston and Unitarian Laymen's League, and a trustee of the Frisbie Memorial Hospital of Rochester, N. H.

Mr. Holt never married. His only brother, Dr. Edward Holt of Lowell, died some years ago and his only surviving relatives are cousins. Mr. Holt had traveled extensively in this country and abroad, visiting Europe in 1928 and again a year ago, when he spent Christmas in London.

Letters To The Editor

HAMMOND POND PARKWAY

Dear Editor:
Bids for continuing Hammond Pond Parkway from Boylston to Beacon streets were opened by the Metropolitan District Commission last week. The lowest bid for the original route, skirting the shore of Hammond Pond and known as route No. 1 was $99,769.00. For the alternate route, known as route No. 2 the bid was $123,386.00. As the original route No. 1 is more beautiful, more practical and $23,617.00 cheaper, it would seem that it should be the choice of everyone.

Route No. 2 as shown on the plans has much less scenic beauty and almost immediately after crossing Boylston street curves sharply to the left and up a 7% grade, making a very dangerous traffic condition which certainly should be avoided.

Three hearings were held last winter at the State House, one before the Committee on Rules, one before the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, and the third before the Committee on Ways and Means. At these hearings it seemed to the writer that public sentiment was very much against route No. 2 and the only objectors to route No. 1 were a few residents of Chestnut Hill, who seemed to feel that the beauty of Hammond Pond should not be profaned by sharing it with the multitude who would use the boulevard.

As Newton has to share the Metropolitan District expenses, it would seem that this year of all others any extra expense should be avoided and that economy as well as common sense should dictate the cheaper route No. 1 as originally planned.

Very truly yours,
JAMES KINGMAN.

MRS. ELLEN MORGAN

Mrs. Ellen Morgan of 24 Elmwood street, Newton, wife of Michael Morgan, died on December 21. She was born at St. John's, Newfoundland, 63 years ago and had been a resident of Newton for 45 years. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, William E. and Austin G. Morgan, and two daughters, Mrs. Evelyn McIsaac and Blanche Morgan, all of Newton. Her funeral service was held this morning at the Church of Our Lady and burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

CHARLES H. OSGOOD

Charles H. Osgood of 2295 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, died suddenly of heart failure at his home on Dec. 19. He was born in Lowell years ago and had been a resident of this city for years. For 22 years he operated the lunch room and other concessions at Norumbega park. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice Osgood; a sister, Mrs. Otis White of Newton; and two brothers, John A. and William G. Osgood of Lowell. His funeral service was held at his late home on Wednesday afternoon.

Ground Broken For Sewer

Falls is $755,000. The estimated cost of that portion east of the Walnut street connection is $385,000.

Newton has a separate system of sewers, that is, one system of conduits for sewage and an entirely independent system for storm or surface water. Its construction began shortly after 1890, in which year, Mr. Albert F. Noyes, then City Engineer, described at length in his annual report the then proposed system.

In general, the principal conduits follow the natural brook courses towards the Charles River. Before reaching the river, however, the flow is intercepted by the Metropolitan District Commission's Charles River Valley Sewer which carries the sewage of Waltham, Newton, Watertown, Brighton and parts of Brookline and Back Bay, to the Ward Street Pumping Station in Boston. Here it is raised about 40 feet into the so-called High Level Sewer, through which it flows to an outlet in Boston Harbor, off Nut Island.

The Charles River Valley Sewer was built between May 1890 and the spring of 1892, originally discharging into the Boston Main Drainage System, and thence into the harbor at Moon Island; and was designed to be adequate for conditions estimated as of 1900. Upon the completion of the High Level Sewer and the Ward Street Pumping Station in 1904, the discharge of the Charles River Valley sewage through the Boston Main Drainage Works ceased.

Near Jamaica Pond, a branch of the High Level Sewer was extended northwesterly in the years 1907 to 1909 to serve the portions of Newton, Brighton, and Brookline which lie at sufficient elevation to permit discharge of the sewage into the harbor by gravity, thus avoiding the cost of pumping. This sewer terminates in Oak Square, Brighton. It was designed for conditions estimated as of 1940.

In 1932 the Legislature authorized the Metropolitan District Commission to extend the High Level Sewer from Oak Square to the Newton-Brighton Boundary line, a distance of about 1800 feet, at which point will be connected the High Level Sewer now proposed to be constructed by the City of Newton.

Newton's population increased at the annual rate of 2 per cent from 1900 to 1920, 3½ per cent from 1920 to 1930, and 4 per cent from 1925 to 1930. Probably the rate of growth heretofore will not be as great.

Considering all the conditions, it is our judgment that it is reasonable to expect Newton to have a population of 150,000 by 1970. This is equivalent to an average density for the entire city, of 13.8 persons per acre.

While there will be some variation in the densities of different small areas, the proposed sewer will serve so large a proportion of the city that it is unnecessary to vary the allowances for purposes of design. Therefore, a uniform density of 13.8 persons per acre has been adopted as a suitable average.

The total area of Newton as given in the annual report of the City Engineer is 11,406 acres, of which 300 acres are water area. An area of 6586 acres, or 58% of the total can be made tributary to the high level sewer. The corresponding net tributary area after deducting parks, cemeteries, river and pond areas, railroads, aqueducts, and Commonwealth avenue and Boylston street reservations, is 5926 acres.

It is assumed that the 245 acres now owned by golf clubs and tributary to this sewer will have been developed as residential property by 1970.

The diameter of the sewer, starting at the Boston City line in Tremont street will be 63 inches all the way through Park and Vernon streets to the foot of the hill in Eldredge street. At Centre street and Winchester road, the diameter will be reduced to 60 inches, and this size will be maintained to Walnut st.

The easterly portal of the tunnel under Mt. Ida will be at a point near Newtonville avenue and Mt. Ida street. From this point the tunnel will extend to a straight line to the corner of Lenox street and Winchester road. The westerly portal probably will be in Winchester road.

From Winchester road the sewer will extend in open cut through Salisbury road and Cabot street to Walnut street where connection will be made to the Walnut street 24 in. x 36 in. eggshaped sewer. Beyond this connection the size will be reduced to 45 inches in diameter.

The sewer probably will extend through Walnut street, Otis street, Lowell avenue, and Elmwood Park to Austin street where the diameter will be reduced to 42 inches. From Austin and Mt. Vernon streets private land, Greenwood street, Armistice avenue, Margin street, Lincoln Park and Washington street to Auburn street. The portion west of Walnut street will not need to be constructed for some time, and therefore, final decision as to route between Mt. Vernon street and Chestnut street has not been made. An alternate route exists in Austin, or in Austin street, Greenwood avenue, private land and Armistice avenue.

From Washington street at Auburn street the sewer will extend through Washington street with a diameter of 36 inches to its upper end in Newton Lower Falls, where a connection will be made in Quinobeguin road, with the existing 20 in. x 30 in. brick sewer. For most of the distance in Washington street the sewer will be constructed in tunnel.

Figuring by the Pound
Isn't there, or should I ask wasn't there a nursery jungle about pounds, shillings and pence. Probably the time I heard, or felt, that to remember I heard it now so far distant that it may be said "Hardly a man is now alive, etc." Nevertheless, there's been a lot of talk about the money of Great Britain the last few weeks. O, I am not going into the matter of foreign debts. Not at all. Merely the interest displayed in the rate of exchange that has been noted in practically every fair-sized postoffice of our land.

People send money abroad Christmas time. Usually they're mailing a bit of change as a gift. One of those always acceptable, thank you very kindly remembrances. And all this has meant a lot of figuring for the money order clerks, if you don't happen to know it. The value of a pound (I can't find the commercial figure for that on this typewriter so I'm obliged to spell it out) has fluctuated and day by day the problem

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Kemball of West Newton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Virginia P. Kemball, to Mr. Elliot W. Howard, of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Howard, also of West Newton.

Oddments

Yours truly remains among the obtuse. I still fail to understand why the barbers were selected of all classes of working people to be compelled to pay an individual license. For what? Namely the right to work. The law says that everyone who cuts hair or shaves or both for gain must pay the State $2 a year. They have barely started the law working and collected fees when along comes a "warning" that all barbers must pay for their 1933 license before Jan. 1. When the law was passed in 1931 one county and a Senatorial district were exempted because the Senators from those districts fought the bill. You haven't seen any attempt to have the law amended to include these sections. If it was desirable wouldn't there be a call for it?

I have just learned something about wrestling. Haven't watched a wrestling match for a long time. However, the other day I was compelled to give ear to an office associate who has been studying the tactics used by professionals. "Stand up," said he, "and I'll show you a few holds." Why I complied I do not know. Nevertheless, I permitted him to twist my arms and upset me just to prove he had acquired a knowledge of wrestling. Later I discovered the crystal and hour-hand had been knocked from my wrist watch. Naturally I hastened to a repair man. The thought occurred to me that I might strike a bargain with the watchmaker. Would he be willing to take his pay in a lesson or two? His size discouraged me and I settled in cash.

The Mayor of Newton took the trouble to issue a proclamation in which he urged attendance of 100 per cent of the voters at the polls at the city election. The number fell considerably short of that figure. What would you advise the Mayor to do? Write letters thanking those who voted or letters to those who failed, condemning their lack of interest? Or would you do both or nothing?

"Handle With Care"

Here we are at Christmas, having a good time, making merry and frisking about just as if there wasn't a depression and acting as if prosperity had at last turned Newton Corner. Close on the heels of Santa Claus is the New Year and Father Time with a big book all ready for 1933 resolutions. There stands the venerable old gentleman, pen in hand, like a high-pressure salesman, expecting us to sign on the dotted line.

If ever there was a period when good resolutions may be gathered with comparative ease I'll say it's here and now. As far as that goes they are easily gathered at any time, but I have in mind the keeping of them which is, after all, the thing. Nineteen hundred and thirty-three ought to be a better year for salting-down or rather settling-down than most. The fact is that many of us are in a position where we must refrain from expensive indulgences. We've been in this very position a long time but there hasn't been as much talk about it and few have realized its need. We're getting economy-minded, made so by this or that—why bother with details, everybody tells the same story with variations.

If I should start sermonizing I might place myself on the spot so I'll leave each to his own. My only suggestion is that a broken resolution is better than none at all. O, yes, and one good resolution kept intact is of greater value than several which have been cracked or soiled by misuse or neglect.

Isn't there, or should I ask wasn't there a nursery jungle about pounds, shillings and pence. Probably the time I heard, or felt, that to remember I heard it now so far distant that it may be said "Hardly a man is now alive, etc." Nevertheless, there's been a lot of talk about the money of Great Britain the last few weeks. has presented itself. One day you'll find you get more and the next day less for the equivalent in Yankee cash.

The biggest kick about it came from a man who is a stamp collector. The word is philatelist, isn't it? At any rate he's one of those. Says he gets better stamps, meaning the condition thereof, for less money when he orders from some firm in London. I couldn't argue with him for I haven't the remotest knowledge of such things.

"I never know which day to pick to send my remittance," said this man. "The value of the pound varies. Only a few cents perhaps, but there's very often a difference."

I really didn't pay much attention to the rest of his complaint. Just put it down as one of those over which much valuable time is wasted. Guess you've got to have a hobby for gathering stamps to understand.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM AT THE STONE INSTITUTE

Thursday, Dec. 22nd, Miss Carroll and students of her Private School for Girls in West Newton gave a musical entertainment at 4.30 p. m. at the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People which was followed by refreshments and the presentation of gifts to all the ladies. Friday afternoon at 2.30 the Women's Educational Club of West Newton were the hostesses. A Christmas entertainment which was followed by a gift of a basket of fruit for each lady was a pleasant surprise for the ladies.

Mrs. Charles E. Riley of 93 Bellevue street, Newton, will be the donor of the Christmas dinner for the ladies of the Home. Sunday evening, members of the Epworth League of the First M. E. Church, Newton Upper Falls will sing Christmas Carols.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

The prison sets shown in "I Am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang," coming to the Paramount Theatre next Sunday for 4 days are said to be the most startlingly realistic of anything seen on the screen recently. These include a whipping post where men are flogged, bloodhounds to chase escaped convicts, the great mess hall where prisoners eat in chains, the bunk house where prisoners are locked to posts while they sleep, the great rock piles where they break stones from morning to night. These form the background of a spectacular story based on the novel of Robert E. Burns, until recently a fugitive from a prison camp. Paul Muni takes the stellar role, with a noted supporting cast including Glenda Farrell, Helen Vinson, Preston Foster, Edward J. McNamara and Sheila Terry. Mervyn LeRoy directed.

The management wishes to announce a New Year's Eve Show starting Saturday evening at 7:45 and lasting until midnight. The vaudeville, which will be five headline acts, will open the evening's performance. There will be no advance in prices. The seats will not be reserved this year.

Boy's Division

The younger members of the Boy's Division held their Annual Christmas Party on Friday evening, December 16th. The outstanding feature of the party was the fact that every one of the presents given as admission were presented to the Newton Welfare Bureau to be given to underprivileged boys. This gift idea was presented three years ago by the Younger Boy's Council and has been continued ever since. At the close of the party, there was a large box of toys ready for the Welfare Bureau.

Plans are already complete for daily programs. These special events will be conducted under the supervision of capable leaders. The program will start on Friday morning, December 23rd, at 9:30 with a Skating Party at Bullough's Pond. The return will be made about noon and the boys will again gather at 2 P. M. for a Sliding Party in the "Y" field.

Saturday will mark the last Gym period before Christmas and the boys rooms will offer the last opportunity for the members to finish making their "dancing dolls" in time for Christmas. On December 26th, in keeping with the policy that this should be a family day, the Boys' Department will be closed all day.

The program will reopen again on Tuesday, December 27th, with a trip to the Germanic Museum at Cambridge. The party will leave the "Y" at 9:30 A. M. Wednesday, at 9:30 the boys will gather in the game room for a big Game Tournament. Prizes will be given to the winners in Ping-Pong, Cue-Roque, Checkers, Chess, and Pool. On Thursday the members will make a trip through the Raytheon Production Corporation. At 9:30 on Friday the boys will leave the "Y" for a hike to Norumbega Tower where they will spend the day, returning late in the afternoon for a swim in the "Y" pool. Saturday, December 31st, will find a group leaving the "Y" at 1 P. M. to visit the East Boston Airport. Efforts are being made to visit the hangars of one of the companies there and boys who have their parents' consent will be allowed to make flights.

New Year's Day is always a gala occasion in the Y. M. C. A. The Boys' Department will start their program at 9:30 with a Pet Show. Members have been invited to bring their pets, no matter what they may be, and enter them for the ribbons offered as prizes.

Newton Hi-Y Club
On Tuesday evening the members of the Newton Hi-Y Club played the role of Big Brothers to a group of colored children from West Newton. Each boy was assigned a "big brother" for the evening and the boys agreed to be having the time of their lives. A chicken dinner was served at 6 P. M. followed by an hour of fun and entertainment. Charles Thatcher, was chairman of the committee.

Duncan Cotting took the part of Santa Claus and gave each boy a woolen skating towel and a toy. Following the distribution of the toys the boys all entered into a peanut hunt. A story ended the evening's festivities and the Hi-Y Members took the children to their homes.

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

COMING EVENTS

Newton Centre Woman's Club

At the Newton Centre Woman's Club regular monthly meeting on December 30th, at 2:30 p. m., the president, Mrs. John F. Capron, will preside, and Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, president of the State Federation, will be the guest of honor. On this day the Senior Club entertains the Junior Club and is inviting all Junior Club presidents as special guests. Mrs. Bennett chose this day to be the guest of the Newton Centre Club because of her great interest in the advancement of Junior work in Massachusetts. Miss Martha P. Wright, Junior Club president, will be on the platform, and members of her club will receive the Junior guests.

This is "Daughter's Day" and all daughters of Club members are invited. The speaker will be Mr. Edward Weeks, of the Atlantic Monthly Press, whose subject will be "The Editor's Easy Chair." The tea hostesses will be Miss Jane A. Grant and Mrs. Thomas A. Seabrook.

On Monday, January 2nd, from 3 to 6 p. m., the Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold Open House in a New Year's Tea, with dancing and an Art Exhibition. Mrs. Ernest W. Dearling will be tea hostess for the afternoon.

Auburndale Review Club

On Tuesday, December 27th, the Auburndale Review Club will present a play. Those taking part are Mesdames Winslow, Patterson, Braithwaite and Miss Elizabeth Wells. Miss Margaret Haskell, of 5 Vista Avenue, will be the hostess.

AD TO R E—Folio N. Hids W C Newtonville Woman's Club

Christmas cheer and joy were brought to sixty small children on Tuesday afternoon, December 20th, when they were guests of the Newtonville Woman's Club, at the Annual Christmas Party, at the Club House. Following a short business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, a program suitable to the entertainment of small children was given. Richard Whitney played several selections on the xylophone accompanied by Walter Abbott. William H. Fish, Jr., presented his Marionettes in "Rumpel Stiltkin" and "Varieties," closing the program with the favorite of all children, "Punch and Judy." These young men are the sons of club members and they assisted very ably in making this program one of joy and delight to all the small guests.

Miss Marion Drew Bassett, with the aid of a red suit and several pillows, made a jolly and delightful Santa Claus, and with two Brownie assistants, Alice S. Kelley and Paul N. Elicker, distributed gifts and a box of clothing to each child.

At the close of this program, the little guests were served a supper by Miss Mary Rolfe and the Social Committee. The supper was taken to their homes in cars by members of the Volunteer Service committee, of which Mrs. Georgina M. Harlow is chairman. These committees worked with Mrs. Howard M. Waybright, who had charge of the general arrangements for the party.

State Federation

RADIO. On December 31st, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, president of the State Federation, will give a New Year message to clubwomen in a talk entitled "High Speed Ahead," during the radio half-hour 11:30 to 12 noon, over WBZ. The Haydn Harp Duo, of Cambridge, will furnish the music of the period. Mrs. Bennett is sure to give many inspiring ideas to her hearers, and clubwomen will have pride in listening to their chosen leader.

On the 24th, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, chairman of the National Economy League, will speak, clubwomen are reminded. Of interest to Newton clubwomen, especially, too, is that the reader of that morning, Lila Newdick, is a resident of Newtonville. To Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation, came the distinction of being the first woman to be elected to the Executive Committee of the League.

The aims of the National Economy League have been so misunderstood and misrepresented that it would be well if all citizens could hear this address by Mr. Byrd.

It may be pertinent at this time to quote from an article by Mrs. Bennett, State president, in which she urges active interest of Women's Clubs in the aims of this League, and in which she explains its purpose. "There is no organization which is awakening more genuine interest among people in all parts of the country. We have always found it possible to organize a group of men and women to appear before Legislature and Congress, asking that appropriations be made for new roads, new buildings, new waterways, new parks, and many other expensive things, but never before have we known a group who were organized for the special purpose of saving money and thereby lowering the tax rate.

"The League is a non-partisan, non-political organization with no dues and no required fee, sponsored by a group of able, efficient business men, serving without pay, and whose object is to eliminate governmental waste and to ease the burden of the taxpayer.

"It has been said that it is an anti-veteran organization, but it is no more anti-veteran than it is anti-Catholic, anti-Jewish, anti-Greek, anti-Irish, anti-anything, which spends money unnecessarily, and which will benefit the minority, to the disadvantage of the majority of our citizens.

"The reason that the question of the veterans' bonus has come into the discussion at all, is because, in their proposed legislation, they find a small group for special benefits, which are to be paid out of the earnings of all our people. No other proposed spending has taken concrete form, therefore we cannot obtain figures and cite definite examples as we do in this question of the bonus. It is not, however, primarily an anti-veteran movement.

"A letter has been sent to each local club president, signed by Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, asking that a chairman be appointed whose name shall be sent to the National Economy League Headquarters, at 43 Federal Street, Boston, also to Mrs. Bennett. This letter quotes at length from an article by Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, telling of her interest and belief in the principles of the League.

"We hope that every president will respond to this appeal, so that literature and membership cards may be sent to the chairman for distribution among club members and throughout the community. It is desired that every club woman shall sign a card and become a member of this organization, for no group is more intelligent or more alive to advantages of state and national economy than the home makers of the nation."

PRESS AND PUBLICITY. An innovation on the program of the State Federation will commence in January, when Mrs. Reuben Gleason, Jr., chairman of Press and Publicity, with members of her committee, will conduct an informal discussion for Press chairmen, other clubwomen and club editors at Federation Headquarters, 687 Boylston Street, Boston. The discussions will be held on the second Monday afternoon of each month, and tea will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

CO-OPERATION WITH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. The co-operation of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs and other organizations has been requested by the Retail Board of Trade of the Chamber of Commerce for the sponsorship of a series of lectures on "The Changing World of Ours," which will take place during February and March at the Gardner auditorium, Boston. The exact dates and subjects will be announced.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The great Radio Carnival which the Activities committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Walter S. Wells, held on Tuesday, December 13th, was a day full of surprises.

Six Broadcasting Stations: F. M. L. (For My Lady) S. F. Y. (Something for the Young) W. K. L. S. F. Y. and A. K. B. offered attractive holiday gifts and useful articles for sale. At noon the cafeteria, F. O. B. (Fresh Oven Baked) served delicious home-cooked foods.

There was tea in the Lounge at 3:30 p. m., followed by "Television on the Stage," a feature not soon to be forgotten. This humorous program was designed to advertise merchants who live in Auburndale and own their own homes. Mrs. Edwin Prellwitz wrote the continuity.

Slam Bangamee (Mrs. W. A. Stiles) introduced the program, and Oscar Blotch (Mrs. Alfred D. Becker) was the main announcer. Ben Burnt Up (Mrs. Ernest F. Drew) advertised local grocers and led the marvelous Blue Davidson orchestra; Mrs. Charles Valentine and Mrs. Frederick Goode advertised a new skirt-maker for home dressmakers; the famous Blues Singer (Mrs. Dona Kennedy) accompanied by Mrs. Lowell MacNutt, won much applause; and Edna Wholes' Chopper (Mrs. Herman Krueger) talked on "How To Be Young and Beautiful." The pianist of the Blue Davidson orchestra played a selection; Mr. Ian Fraser sang; and then the Famous Bilge Brothers (Mrs. Charles Floyd, Mrs. Austin Fisher, Mrs. Walter Amesbury and Mrs. Stuart Southgate) impersonated four dinky zootemen—entertained. The Rose Bud Trio, (Messrs. Dewitt, Perry, and Zola) three boys, attired as three fair maidens received hearty applause for their singing. Mrs. W. A. Stiles announced a contract bridge tournament with Mrs. Arthur Lane, Mrs. Lyman Gore, Mrs. Herbert Farwell and Mrs. Wilbur Givartie as players; Mrs. Arthur Shaw and Mrs. Charles Grover were kibitzers.

West Newton Junior Women's Educational Club
The Juniors of the West Newton Women's Educational Club held their Christmas meeting Tuesday evening, December 13th, in the Community Room of the West Newton Library. In the absence of Miss Kate Black, the president, Miss Eleanor Rhoads, factotum took charge of the business meeting. The Welfare committee has been doing some very fine work, and for Christmas the Club is helping a needy Newton family, giving clothes and pleasing gifts and toys. Some of the girls have offered their time for story hours in various parts of the city.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Slippery travelling did not prevent a large number of parents and children in the community visiting the Workshop, Sunday afternoon and evening, December 11th, to see the Annual Creche Exhibit, which was more artistic and beautiful than ever. The creche made entirely by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice A. Reldy attracted a great deal of attention and interest, as did the carving by Mr. Ernest J. Weaver, the plaque by Mrs. Herbert W. Stetson, and the Swiss conception of the Nativity by Mrs. Roscoe A. Carter. All of the exhibits showed much thought, study, and artistic ability.

The exhibitors were Mrs. Emil F. Haberstroh, the Reldy children, Mrs. Edward I. Brown, Mrs. Ward I. Cornell, Mrs. Don J. Edwards, Mrs. Herbert W. Stetson, Mrs. Donald D. McKay, Mrs. Roscoe A. Carter, and Mr. Ernest J. Weaver.

Very beautiful wreaths, made by the Garden committee, decorated the walls of the Workshop. Tea was served in the afternoon by the Art committee and carol singing in the evening was led by the Music committee, with Mrs. Harry P. Forte, soloist.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

On Monday night, December 12th, the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club celebrated its Christmas party in the club rooms of the Emerson School. Mrs. Albert Proctor was chairman of the evening. Mrs. Walter H. Wood, State chairman of the committee of Co-operation with War Veterans, was the guest of the Club again this year. Donations were received for the filling of the Veterans' stockings. Mrs. Wood told many interesting things about her work with the Veterans and just how much these stockings mean to them. Christmas carols were sung and games were played. Delicious refreshments were served. Everyone enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Bitter Controversy Over Gas Station

different character. He concluded by stating that it would be a great mistake to grant the petition; it would tend to break down the character of this community.

Herman Holt, Jr., of 45 Pleasant street also representing the Newton Centre Improvement Association, said he saw in the petition a scheme to smash Newton's zoning law, and once a hole is made everything will rush through. Commonwealth avenue will be spoiled and property values along it reduced 50%. If the bars are let down the character of the avenue will be changed and the beautiful homes along it spoiled. He said that until tonight he had not met one person who favored the granting of the petition, but this evening he had met a man and his wife who said that they had changed their attitude on this matter, because they are selfish. Mr. Holt said there are already too many filling stations in the city and at Newton Centre.

Carl Kothe of 926 Commonwealth avenue said he had bought his property several years ago because of the restriction which applied to the avenue, but if the Standard Oil Company gets this permit he and 90% of property owners along the avenue will have "for sale" signs on their property and perhaps only 50% of the value of their properties. He said if the petition is granted the man who has conducted the alleged gasoline station for 12 years will be forced out in the interior of a greedy corporation. F. A. Schirmer of 332 Commonwealth avenue said the Standard Oil Company for selfish purposes would destroy beautiful homes along the avenue. Samuel Sussan, attorney for the Lincoln Realty Company, owners of the building where the proposed station would be located, questioned the sincerity of Mr. Proctor and Mr. Holt in their arguments that a filling station would be more objectionable on Commonwealth avenue than the block of stores now there. He said some of the stores are vacant, the windows in them dirty and the yard at the rear of the building a fire and health menace, because of the litter there. Replying to the sympathy expressed for the man who will be forced out of business after having sold gasoline at the locus for 12 years, Sussan said that this storekeeper will gain by being forced out of his store. Alderman Pratt told Sussan that the owners of the building have reason to rent their stores because of their intention to dispose of the property to the Standard Oil Company.

Herbert Parker, in rebuttal, resented the statements made by Mr. Proctor and Mr. Holt. He said that no one who claims to be a lawyer can further his cause by making insinuations and quoting hearsay. He said he has not been accustomed to be accused of scheming. He said he is a lawyer, and the law of this Commonwealth is not what he has known it in his 50 years' experience as a lawyer.

Louis Tichnor of 176 Commonwealth avenue said that for 17 years he has tried to keep his property attractive and his neighbors have done likewise. If this petition is granted it will serve as a precedent for the establishing of other gasoline stations along the avenue. He said that if he were to rent his property, he would feel it a filling station were established near his home.

Later in the meeting the Board took a long recess and when it reassembled the Claims and Rules Committee recommended that the petition be referred to next year's Board of Aldermen. Alderman Pratt objected. He said already two public hearings have been held on this matter; 40 people were here tonight to oppose it. It is not fair to compel them to come here again. He moved that it be taken out of committee and acted upon. Alderman Floyd seconded the motion and inquired why the petition had been referred to next year's Board? Alderman Grebenstein, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, said the motion to refer it to next year's Board had been made by the member of the committee from Ward 7. Alderman Murray, the member referred to, said he made the motion because the committee was divided, 3 to 3. Mr. Murray has been opposed to the petition. Alderman Sproat, member from Ward 1, on the committee, said new features regarding this matter have been presented which deserve consideration, and that the direct abutments are not opposed. Alderman Pratt said that some of the abutments have been approached and inducements have been offered them which make it worth their while to change their attitude, and that for selfish reasons they are willing to allow the avenue

The regular weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held at the Charles River Country Club, Tuesday, December 20th.

With President Charles A. Mahoney presiding, Hugh Boyd and Ray Green were asked to lead in the singing of Christmas carols and this they did amid much enthusiasm.

Under the thoughtful and efficient management of Wilfred Chagnon every member present addressed a Christmas card of good cheer to Kiwanian Dr. Everett L. Pierce, who is at home recuperating from a serious accident.

Several members were asked to speak extemporaneously and among those who acquiesced in usual fine fashion were Lieut. Gov. James P. Gallagher, E. A. Robertson, Manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, Wilfred Chagnon of the Hubbard Drug Company and Peter Turchon, local realtor. The eminent Dr. Doherty when called upon responded, but not audibly.

A meeting of the 1933 Board of Directors followed the regular dinner, at which meeting L. Frank Perkins was unanimously re-elected Secretary of the Club.

to be spoiled. On a voice vote the Aldermen refused to reject the recommendation of the committee and the matter was referred to the 1933 Board.

Rotary Club

Rev. Dr. John Nicol Mark, of the Rotary Club of Arlington and minister of the Unitarian Church in that town, was the speaker last Monday at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at Brae-Burn. With his inimitable Scotch burr, he drew upon his inexhaustible fund of stories and kept the members in an uproar. The serious phase of his talk was on "The Compass." He told of its use by the Chinese about 2200 years before Christ, for land travel and its adaptation to use on the water by an Italian about 300 A. D.

He quoted from Henry Van Dyke, stating that the poem by that famous Dominie might well constitute our compass for the journey through life: "Four things a man must learn to do if he would make his record true; To think without confusion clearly; To love his fellow-man sincerely; To act from honest motives purely; To trust in God and Heaven securely."

Hearing Today on Cut of Newton Policemen's Pay

Police Will Be Represented by Officer Committee

A public hearing is being held this morning at the aldermanic chamber in City Hall on the matter of the 7½ per cent cut in pay of the Newton policemen. The reduction is scheduled to go into effect on January 1st in conjunction with that of all city employees in Newton. The policemen will be represented at the hearing by George A. McLoughlin, counsel of the Massachusetts Police Association. City Solicitor Joseph Bartlett will represent the city.

The police held a mass meeting last Saturday at the guard room in police headquarters. They were addressed by Mr. McLoughlin. A committee was appointed to represent them in the matter of the reduction. It is comprised of Lieuts. Moan and Vedeucio; Sergeants Leehan and Mahoney and Patrolman Condrin. The police made the suggestion that they be permitted to contribute a percentage of their salaries to the city for welfare purposes rather than have a direct salary cut.

Woman, 80, Evicted

Mrs. Maria Amendola, 80, of 373 Boylston street, Newton Centre, was forcibly evicted from her home on Tuesday afternoon and carried to the Newton Hospital in an ambulance. The eviction writ was obtained from the Newton court by Mrs. Antonetta Amendola of East Cambridge wife of a son of the woman, who owns the property. A complaint was made that the old woman was interfering with other tenants in the house and adjoining houses which are owned by her son. The woman has two sons and two daughters, but none of them expressed a desire to keep her at their homes.

Police Chief Michael Hughes of Newton and his family seem to have had a hoodoo hovering over them at Waltham the past week. Tuesday night the chief's automobile was hit in the rear, while he was driving on Crescent street, Waltham, by a car driven by Frederick Sanford of 35 Crescent st., Waltham. Sanford was arrested charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and his case will be tried on January 12.

Many Bring Joy To Patients at Newton Hospital

Entertainers and Nurses Join In Making Christmas a Happy Time For Those Shut In

Christmas is always a festive season at the Newton Hospital. Since the early days of the Hospital the trustees have provided a Christmas fund for patients and employees, and this Christmas was no exception for the 160 patients and 40 professional workers.

First through the generosity of the Jordan Marsh Company came Santa Claus, Santaron, Remi, the friendly Clown, and a full-blooded Sioux Indian, Crazy Bull. There were patients of all ages in the Hospital that day and Santa's bag contained a gift for each child, even the sixteen shut-ins housed in the scarlet fever ward. On Saturday morning, in the Out-Patient Department, a Christmas tree welcomed the patients and after the clinic all went away happy with a bag of candy.

After the nurses had completed decorations which included: Christmas trees, realistic fireplaces, festoons of bells, stars and green, and a beautiful manger scene, Christmas Eve was ushered in by a group of student nurses singing "Silent Night" throughout the wards. They were followed by carollers from St. Mary's Church, Lower Falls, and from Grace Church and Eliot Church adding greatly to the spirit of the evening.

The Hospital celebrated Christmas on Monday. At 5:30 in the morning the nurses left the Nurses' Home for carols at the "Hill"; then came on through the old and new Hospital arriving at the dining room at 6:30 where they found a Christmas tree and a shingle gift from the trustees for each one. It was really an impressive scene to see and hear those sixty students in blue and white, followed by the white clad graduates and internes march through the corridors singing.

In the night, while the children slept, a sparkling Christmas tree had been smuggled into the ward. At 10 o'clock, Santa Claus, one of the nice big internes, arrived with his pack filled with gifts. He visited each ward after receiving from the trustees the gifts which he personally presented to ward and private patients alike.

At noon a wonderful turkey dinner was served. One saw the smile of the patient who is allowed a small slice of turkey with salt on it after weeks of a salt-free, meat-free diet, a real Christmas present.

No holiday for the nurses at the Hospital. That day is gladly given to the patients.

Newton School Committee Reports On Survey Made In Endeavor to Reduce Expenses

State Newton Well Below Average of Cities of Its Size—Oppose Salary Reductions, Unless Necessary

Last January the School Committee of Newton appointed a sub-committee for the purpose of making a general survey of the entire school system with the hope of discovering ways and means for reducing expenditures without decreasing the efficiency. The committee, consisting of Walter R. Amesbury, George H. Fernald and Kirtley F. Mather has issued a preliminary statement of the progress made during the spring and summer of 1932. Several meetings were held and conferences with Mr. U. G. Wheeler, at that time superintendent of the Newton Schools, and with other members of the School Department. Reports from many principals and supervisors of special subjects were received and the entire problem of school expenditures was investigated.

The committee notes with satisfaction that the school expenditures of the city of Newton are well below the average for cities of its size, although the Newton schools are recognized quite generally as unusually effective in their educational activities. A tabulated comparison has been made showing the percentage of total city expense allotted to schools for the sixteen year period from 1915 through 1930. In 1915 the United States Bureau of the Census, Financial Statistics of Cities shows that 95 cities with population between fifty and one hundred thousand spent an average of 36.3% of their total expense on schools. In that same year Newton spent 35.5% of its total for education of its children. The average of the 95 cities increased irregularly and with one or two slight decreases to a peak of 46.3% in 1930. A total increase of ten per cent in the entire period, more than half of which occurred between 1915 and 1921. In comparison Newton's school costs increased but 1½ per cent between 1915 and 1921 and but 1% in the entire period to 1930. In that year Newton spent 36.5% of its entire expenses upon its school system. Last year the percentage dropped to a low mark of 32.1% and this year rose again to 37.7%. This represents a 2.2% increase in percentage of amount expended for all city purposes in the entire period 1915 to 1932. The report continues:

"It is apparent that in comparison with other cities of its size the expenditures of the City of Newton are by no means extravagant. It is further apparent that there has been no extraordinary increase in the percentage of city funds devoted to the school system during the last few years.

"The committee wishes to stress the principle that reductions in school expenditures should be effected only with the utmost care. Education is necessarily an expensive business, but the future of the community depends upon the proper education of its youth. A temporary economy which would jeopardize the future welfare of the community would, of course, be very foolish.

"By far the largest item in the budget of the school department is that pertaining to salaries. It is therefore natural that any attempt to reduce the school budget should focus immediately upon the question of salaries of all members of the school department. The salary scale in the Newton School System is a comparatively modest one, well below that established in many other cities with which Newton may properly be compared. Nevertheless, it has proved adequate to draw into the Newton Schools a splendid corps of efficient teachers, upon whose morale and attainments the success of the school system obviously depends. Reduction in the salary scale within the School Department should be made only if the financial condition of the City of Newton makes absolutely necessary such a drastic move, and then only in conjunction with similar reductions in salary in other departments throughout the city administration.

"Fortunately, there are other ways of economizing in the outlay for instruction, and some of these have already been put into operation since this committee began its work. The usual increases in salary of teachers whose work was highly satisfactory and whose salary had not yet reached the maximum established for their grade of service, were not granted for the school year 1932-33. Moreover, during the spring of 1932, in a report submitted by Mr. Wheeler, the School Committee decided to increase the size of classes assembled for instruction and thus absorb the increased enrollment of the year 1932-33 with fewer teachers than were employed in 1931-1932. The economy thus effected is indicated in a report submitted by Mr. Wheeler on July 26. This report states that the total pay roll for 1931-32, as of January 1, 1932, amounted to $1,111,765. If neither of the economies mentioned in this paragraph had been effected, that is if normal increases in salary and staff had been made, the pay roll for 1932-33 would have totaled approximately $1,145,500. Actually, the pay roll for the current year, as of September 1, 1932, is approximately $1,085,565—a reduction in salary expenditure of $59,935 beneath that normally expected for the year, and of $26,200 beneath that actually made during the preceding year. Mr. Wheeler states, however, that he feels no special pride in regard to the drastic reorganization which has thus been made. "The money thus saved may result in lessened efficiency. The experiment should be carefully watched and results noted."

The committee wishes to emphasize the danger suggested by Mr. Wheeler. If the new set-up involves classes of such size that the teachers are unable to give the individual students the attention which they need, the saving will prove to be a false economy. "The size of classes in the Newton schools has been increased this year to such a figure, thirty-two and one-half (32½) pupils per teacher on the average, that the danger point may already be reached or even passed. There is, however, one arrangement, well nigh unique among city schools, which makes us hopeful that the present set-up will prove satisfactory. In nearly all of the schools there are so-called building assistants. These are recent graduates from the normal schools or in certain instances are normal school seniors, whose salaries are much smaller than those paid to the regular teachers. They are not placed in charge of rooms or classes, except temporarily. They are free to assist the school principal and the room teachers in many ways. Although this system is not commonly followed in other cities, we believe that it has marked advantages and leads to real economy in school administration. We therefore recommend that the employment of "building assistants" be continued. We would further suggest that such assistants should not be utilized for the work any more than is absolutely necessary. Their time should be kept largely available for instruction under the supervision of the principal and the regular teachers. Such "building assistants" may then give special attention to individual students where their aid is desirable.

"The reference to office work in the foregoing paragraph suggests another subject which has come under the attention of this committee. It has been suggested that an unnecessarily large part of the average teacher's time is spent in the making of reports or in other so-called "red tape" activities. Obviously, if the amount of time devoted to the keeping of records could be reduced, the burden of a somewhat enlarged teacher load would be counterbalanced. This committee, therefore, recommends that the entire matter of reports, records, and "red tape" be thoroughly investigated by the superintendent of schools to see if there is unnecessary duplication of records or if unnecessary reports and records are demanded.

"Certain possible ways of effecting economies were considered and rather promptly rejected by this committee. Among them are the following: the expense of maintaining certain of the smaller schools in outlying districts is far greater than would be the expense of teaching the students from those districts if they could be concentrated in larger units. This could be accomplished by transporting the boys and girls from outlying districts, such as Oak Hill, to the larger schools. We understand that great opposition was offered by the citizens of such districts when this plan was suggested two or three years ago. We therefore have abandoned further consideration of this possible way of effecting economy. Similarly, it would be possible to decrease the expenditures for Newton Schools materially by dispensing with kindergarten instruction. Kindergartens are not maintained by the public schools in many other cities, such for example as Malden. It is, however, our belief that the citizens of Newton would strenuously oppose the abandonment of kindergarten instruction for boys and girls below the age for entrance into the grade school. Kindergarten instruction has been thoroughly justified itself and is a necessary part of a school system such as we hope to maintain in Newton.

"This committee has given careful consideration to all of the many courses of study which are now a part of the school curriculum, but which were conspicuously absent from the school curricula a generation or two ago. "Among these are the special classes for retarded or deficient students. These are required by Massachusetts state law and are in part supported by state funds appropriated for this special purpose. Even if we wished to economize here, it would be impossible for us to do so. As a matter of fact, this committee believes that the special classes for mentally inferior and physically handicapped children are essential to the adequate completion of the task of instruction which falls to the lot of the school system.

"Similarly, physical training is required by state law. Nevertheless, certain economies should be effected in the physical training department. Careful consideration should be given to the possibility of reducing the amount of supervision and administrative overhead in this department.

"Art and music are subjects which develop an extremely important phase of human personality and should certainly be continued in the Newton schools. It would appear that the curriculum of the new system of junior high schools, now perfected, it may be possible to reduce the expenditures of this department. Domestic science, including sewing and cooking, is another subject which has justified itself as a necessary part of the school curriculum. The only question here pertains to the grade at which such instruction should commence. At the present time instruction in cooking is offered only in the junior and senior high schools, and this is where it belongs. Instruction in sewing is now being offered in the sixth grade in certain schools, although it has lately been removed from the sixth grade in other schools. This committee recommends that the proper officials of the school department give careful consideration to the question of removing all instruction in sewing from the sixth grade and concentrating it in the junior high school.

"As the natural counterpart to domestic science, the practical arts such as printing, shop work, woodworking and typewriting are included in the curriculum of the modern junior high school. We recommend that the detailed questions concerning the amount and the place of such courses of study be investigated further.

"Expenditures by the school department for items other than instruction are relatively small, but opportunities for economy are none the less available here. The cost of electricity would be materially reduced if teachers and others in charge of school rooms and halls would give constant thought to this item. Lights are frequently left burning in unoccupied rooms or in hallways long after they are needed. The officials of the school department should keep constant pressure upon all of their subordinates with the hope of materially reducing the expenditures for electric light and

City To Be Less Liberal With Ex-Service Men

Aldermen Reduce Weekly Veterans' Aid and Make Other Minor Appropriations

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Tuesday night at City Hall. It was called by Mayor Weeks for the purpose of having an appropriation made to provide soldiers' relief payments for the balance of this month. At the last meeting of the Board a recommendation from Mayor Weeks that $4000 be appropriated for soldiers' relief was held up after the Finance Committee of the Aldermen had decided that Newton has been paying too liberally for this purpose. At that meeting Alderman Bartlett, chairman of the Finance Committee stated that as a result of an investigation which had been made by Edward T. Dungan, who is in charge of soldiers' relief in this city, it was found that Newton has been paying more liberally in this aid than any of about 50 cities and towns in the State which submitted figures in response to the survey conducted at the request of the Finance Committee of the Newton Aldermen.

Until a couple of years ago the payment of soldiers' relief in this city was in charge of City Clerk Grant. Because of dissatisfaction with this method by some of the former service men, a conference was held by Mayor Weeks, City Solicitor Bartlett, Alderman Ball as Chairman of the Finance Committee and the then commander of Newton Post, American Legion. As a result, Mr. Dungan, who has been prominent in the Legion, was appointed to assume charge of soldiers' relief in this city.

Newton, during the past year or more has been paying $8 weekly to single men receiving soldiers' relief and as much as $16 weekly to married couples. Married men with large families have been receiving a maximum of $22 weekly. These amounts were appreciably more than has been paid by the Newton Welfare Department to men with families who were not eligible for soldiers' relief.

Among the cities from which reports were received and which paid less to recipients of soldiers' relief than Newton has been paying are Boston, Cambridge, Springfield and Waltham. As a result of the survey made by Mr. Dungan he informed the Finance Committee that in the future he will pay $6 weekly to individuals instead of $8 and $12 weekly to married couples. Payments to men with families will be lowered $2. As a result of this information, the Finance Committee on Tuesday night recommended the $4000 appropriation asked for by Mayor Weeks, and the Aldermen voted favorably on this matter. Other appropriations made were $1700 for workmen's compensation and $68.80 for a pension for the balance of this year to Horace Bailey, recently retired from the Newton police force. The only other matter granted upon at the meeting was the granting of a common victualer's license to Lena Iadonis at 372 Watertown street, Nonantum.

Rifle Bullet Kills Newton Boy On Christmas Day

Community Shocked By Accident to Son of Well Known Business Man

Hilliard C. (Bud) Johnson, 12-year old of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Johnson of 321 Tremont street, Newton, was fatally shot by a bullet from a 22 calibre rifle on Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The boy had received the rifle that day as a Christmas present and with the other members of his family he had gone to the home of his uncle, Sydney Chant, 41 Park st., Newton. Together with his cousin, Robert Blue, Jr., 8; and George Harris, 9, of 22 Elmwood street, the Johnson boy went into the cellar of the house to shoot at a target. The rifle was accidentally discharged and the bullet lodged in Johnson's right lung, severing a main artery under his right arm. The screams of the boys attracted their parents in the living room of the house and the Johnson's boy's father reached the head of the cellar stairs and caught his son as he struggled up the stairs. Dr. Charles A. Davenport, who resides at 25 Park street was hastily summoned and rushed to the house, but the boy died within a few minutes.

The boy's father is one of the owners of the Graphic Press at Newton. Besides his parents he is survived by a brother, Robert; and a sister, Corissa. He was a pupil at the Underwood School in Newton. His funeral service was held at his late home on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Richard Preston of Grace Church officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

HOCKEY SEASON OPENS TOMORROW NEWTON VS. MELROSE

With the opening of the scholastic hockey season tomorrow afternoon at the Boston Garden winter sport fans are offered four league games of which the Newton-Melrose contest is the headliner. Although it is early in the season these two teams will provide plenty of fireworks with the intense rivalry between the two at its usual peak. Other games include Rindge and Arlington, Stoneham and Belmont, and Medford and Cambridge Latin.

Melrose is a codefender with Medford of the 1932 title with Newton just missing out last season. In the coming campaign Newton will probably have the most powerful defensive team in the circuit. Captain Charlie Houghton and Natale Sostillo, both chosen for defense positions on the "All-league" sextet last year, are two of a trio of three defense players upon whom Coach Dr. Martin will rely this season. Alexander Kevorkian, the third member, will be converted into a centre ice player, at least for the time being and permanently if he develops the ability necessary for a position on the forward line. Houghton and Sostillo are excellent stick-handlers with the latter likely to be one of the most dangerous rushers in the league. Houghton has developed considerably more speed on the runners than he possessed a year ago.

On the forward line the only veteran back is Nelson "Bud" Manning who will take care of the left wing position. With Manning in the game the locals will have one of the biggest teams in the league for like his six-foot Jack Hennessy and John Lopez are making a close fight for the regular goalies' berth with the former having the edge at present through the experience he gained last winter as a reserve goalie.

The right wing berth is the most open position on the Newton team with Freddy Kennedy and Leo Burns the leading candidates. The forward material is greatly inexperienced and with little to worry about defensively. Coach Dr. Martin will concentrate his efforts in developing a potent offense. The offensive talent may be there as a scrimmage with the Rindge team the latter part of last week saw the Newton team tally four times. However, only one of these tallies was chalked up against Marty Roscio, Rindge captain, and the outstanding goaltender in the circuit at present.

On Monday or Tuesday the Newton team will play its first league game on an outdoor surface going to Medford to meet the 1932 holders of the title. On Thursday or Friday another outdoor game for the orange and black is scheduled at Cambridge with the Rindge Tech forces.

SERG. EUGENE JOSEPH DALEY

C 5th Mass Inf., on Mexican Border in 1916 and during World War left the State Army, W. N. together en route to France, Lt. Col. Henry D. Comerai was in those days Captain of Co. C.

Officer of the Day, Arthur L. (Bob) Gav makes a snappy appearance in that role and is gradually getting back into the swing of the days when he was a non-com. in Co. C. 5th Mass. Inf., also serving on Mexican Border prior to the World War, at which time he served in France.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for their many beautiful floral gifts and letters of sympathy during our recent bereavement in the loss of our son, "Bud," and we also wish to thank Troop 22 of the Boy Scouts for their kindly assistance.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Johnson.

Girl Scouts

Golden Eaglet Awarded

Julia Harvey, a member of the Senior Troop in West Newton, was awarded a Golden Eaglet at the Newton Girl Scout's "Sing Song." Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, Commissioner for Newton, awarded this badge which is the highest honor a Girl Scout may receive. The girl must be 16 years old, have passed her First Class Test and besides having earned 21 Merit Badges, she must have lived up to the high ideals of her Scout Promise and Laws in her home, church and community.

The second part of the program proved a huge success. East to West by "Song Way" was given by Newton Girl Scouts for their midwinter entertainment. As the curtain parted on the first stop, a southern plantation came in view with its cabin, and an old mammy sitting in the doorway, little pickaninies playing in groups, and boys and girls arriving from the cotton fields. They soon started singing Negro spirituals. A group of colored children ran on the scene and delighted the audience with a real southern shuffle and the scene closed with more singing in true darkey fashion.

The next stop was by the sea, when a group of jolly sailors sang sea chanteys and another group danced a hornpipe with great zest.

"In Romany" was a true gypsy scene. Basket making, telling fortunes and gypsy dances added much atmosphere to the songs.

The journey home was varied by a glimpse back into the Gay Nineties, when a group of Girl Scouts sang old favorites. "My Merry Oldsmobile" with a loving pair bouncing over bad roads in "one of the first" caused great merriment as did "A Bicycle Made for Two" also "In the Good Old Summertime."

We flew next to the Land of the Redskins and here a group of Indian maids and young braves around a campfire, with a lovely teepee in the background, gave us a glimpse of the Wild West and their songs were most alluring.

Cowboys with saddles furnished true cowboy songs, and lariat twisters and twirlers were watched with bated breath.

"Journey's End" brought all back to Camp Mary Day. Here girls were building a lean-to and others sitting by a campfire and as "Assembly" sounded a group of hikers entered singing "Strap Your Pack to Your Back." They greeted Mother Carey and Middy with the "Hello" song and then all joined in "Wind, Wind, Heather Gypsy." No camp scene in Newton is complete without "Come with Me to Camp Mary Day." Tatoo with "The Embers of Campfire Are Now Slowly Dying" as the stage grew dim and the fire glowed and "Taps" sung with an echo played in the distance on the bugle brought down the curtain and the "Sing Song" was over. Over 250 Girl Scouts took part and there were over 300 more in the audience of 1000.

The girls not taking part in the entertainment marched into the auditorium at 7:30 to music furnished by the Newton Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps and took part in the opening ceremony.

Santa Claus visited most of the Newton Troops just before Christmas, but instead of giving presents, he arrived with an empty pack. It was joyfully filled with presents—clothes and goodies by the girls, who sent him away rejoicing in alas, not a sleigh with prancing reindeer, but the camp beach wagon decked with a lighted was taken to the Newton Welfare Bureau and the Peabody Home for Christmas tree. The Christmas cheer tribulation.

MRS. SARAH L. BOYD

A simple funeral service was held for Mrs. Sarah L. Boyd, of Albion st., Newton Centre, on Monday, Dec. 26, at her late home. Mrs. Boyd had been a resident of Newton Centre for forty years and was loved by all who knew her. She died on her fiftieth wedding anniversary, as she lived, quietly, peacefully and happily. She had been ill with pneumonia for two weeks and died in her sleep.

She leaves her husband, Mr. Hiram J. Boyd and five children: Mrs. Hurbert F. Hall of New Haven, Conn., Mrs. George Felton of Waltham, Mrs. Frank Baker, of Lawrence, Mrs. William E. Flynn and Ernest R. Boyd of Newton Centre, fifteen grandchildren and one great granddaughter. Interment was in the Newton Cemetery, the Rev. John C. Wingett, of the Methodist Church, which Mrs. Boyd had attended, officiating.

A Patrol from Troop 4A, Highlands, then gave a humorous demonstration or dramatization of the "Life of a Day" including rising of the sun, high wind, a storm and then clearing and the moon coming up. Veteran awards were made by Mr. Marcy. To close the awards, Scoutmaster W. P. Harris of Troop 10, Waban, presented Scout David MacLellan to President John M. Brier, who spoke of the importance of the award and of the high qualifications of the candidate. As he was about to pin on the award, Scout Lavery called all to stand and, in a perfect silence, Mr. Brier pinned the Eagle Badge on David's uniform. Then the Scouts gave a resounding cheer and the new Eagle was welcomed into membership by the Eagle Circle. The Colors marched off, after the lingering notes of "Re-treat" and the Court was closed, having lasted 1 1/4 hours.

Following awards were made: The second class award was made to Burnett Bishop, Richard E. Dale, Philip Shute, Basil Babcock of the Viking District; W. Dyer, John Callahan, Richard Palmer, Walworth Williams of the Sachem District; Lyman Robinson, Charles Kellaway of the Quinobegun District.

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

State Federation

NEW YEAR'S PARTY. Under the auspices of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, the Newton Centre Woman's Club is hostess for a delightful affair, at their Club House, on Saturday afternoon, December 31st, when Grace Morrison Poole, of Brockton, president of the General Federation, will be guest of honor. For this closing day of the year, in a New Year Party and Luncheon, in honor of the delegates to the Seattle Biennial, women from all over the State, who attended the General Federation Biennial last June, and who enjoyed so many pleasurable and worthwhile experiences together in Seattle, will gather for this unusual get-together.

Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, of Belmont, past president of the State Federation, is chairman for the event, and she is assisted by Mrs. John F. Capron, president of the Hostess Club; Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter, State chairman of Conservation; and Mrs. Walter W. Winslow, of Winchester.

Each guest has been requested to bring a white elephant, which will be placed in the "jungle," and will be found in the "jungle hunt," a bit of plaything which is sure to be most amusing and sociable. Music will be furnished by the Newton Centre Woman's Club Chorus, which will sing Christmas carols.

CLUB INSTITUTES. Clubwomen who have to cudge their wits to supply entertaining and informative programs for their clubs, will be glad to learn that the subject for Club Institutes on Thursday, the 5th of January, is to be "Programs." Among the speakers is a Newton Club president, Mrs. Everett Kent, her talk being entitled "How the Social Service Club Plans Work." Discussion of this important item of club interest at this time is a wise thing, as March opens the campaign for supplying these programs for next year, and oftentimes hints and ideas have been offered too late in the past to assist Program chairman.

Club Institutes, a monthly event to which all interested clubwomen are invited, is held in the Auditorium of the Boston Y. W. C. A., corner of Stuart and Clarendon streets, Boston, from 10:30 to 12:15 o'clock. Mrs. George A. Mellen is chairman in charge.

RADIO. Each Saturday morning, at 11:30 o'clock, for a half hour, the State Federation gives a broadcast over WJZ, with Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, Radio director, presenting some interesting club features. On the 31st of the State president, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, will be guest speaker in a New Year message, under the title "High Speed Ahead." Music will be furnished by The Haydn Harp Duo, of Cambridge.

On January 7th, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, Massachusetts director in the General Federation, will speak on "The Value of Organization," and Mrs. Stewart A. Colpitts, director of the Fourth District, will speak on her district on the theme of the year "Working Together is Progress." A Musical Travelogue of the Sunny Lands—Italy, Spain and France—will be given by Elva R. Boyden, contralto, of Brockton; accompanied by Marian Leach Pulsifer, Pianist, also of that city.

General Federation

BOARD MEETING. For the Board Meeting of the General Federation, clubwomen from all over the United States, including many new chairmen of committees recently appointed, will gather in Washington for a stirring session from the 11th to 14th of January. Grace Morrison Poole, with her grasp on affairs at home and abroad, is sure to have many inspiring ideas and plans to present, in setting forth on her presidency, in this real launching, after months of laying of foundations of the clubship.

A most enjoyable social function precedes the business sessions, in a reception held Tuesday evening, the 10th, to which members are privileged to invite their Congressmen and their wives.

Projects which will be discussed during the session will be the government expenditures and waste and the election of men and women worthy to serve "These United States," as presented by Rear Admiral Richard Byrd, describing the aims of the National Economy League; Better Housing in America, and the contribution the General Federation can make to aid in welfare work this winter. Speakers will include Miss Florence Hale, former president of the National Education Association; Dr. Lillian Gilbreth, and representatives from the Departments of State, of Treasury, and of Commerce.

An interesting part of the program will be the presentation of two of the General Federation's scholarship girls, Miss Georgiana Jimenez, of Panama, the Pan-American Scholarship girl, who is pursuing her studies at Columbia University; and Miss Elizabeth Haines, of Washington, D. C., one of the medical scholars, who is studying at Johns Hopkins, both of whom will speak briefly.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Not only does the Newton Centre Woman's Club act as hostess for the New Year Party on Saturday, the 31st, to delegates to the Biennial, at Seattle, and to Mrs. Poole but it will hold "Open House" with a New Year's Tea and Reception, followed by Dancing and an Art Exhibit, on Monday, January 2nd, from 3 to 6 p. m., for the community. Mrs. John F. Capron, the president, and officers will receive.

Music for the dancing will be furnished by Wozberg's Orchestra. The hostesses will be Mrs. Ernest W. Dearing, Mrs. John H. Brandt and Mrs. William H. Raye, with Mrs. George H. Crossie, Mrs. Harold G. Giddings, Mrs. E. Hoyt Weston, and Mrs. G. Horace Williams serving as pourers.

The Art Exhibit will be open from January 2nd to 11th inclusive from 3 to 5 p. m. each day. The display offers an opportunity to view the works of such well-known artists as Aldro T. Hibbard, famous for his mountain and snow scenes; Anthony Thiele, known for his scenes of Holland; and Miss Elizabeth Withington for her tempera water colors. This occasion is open to all members, their families and friends, and they are urged to make this a community gathering.

On the first Saturday evening of the New Year, January 7th, 1933, the Newton Centre Choral Society, under the auspices of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, will give a concert and dance. The Choral Society is directed by the well known Madame Apolline M. Blair, formerly of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather is the Society's accompanist. The assisting soloist for the evening will be Miss Katherine Cunningham Gray, soprano, of Boston, accompanied by Francis Schumann.

The Dancing following the concert will be under the direction of Mrs. James Watson who has arranged a number of attractive features. Wozberg's Orchestra will furnish the dance music and refreshments will be served. Mrs. Walter Hartstone, a past president of the club is business manager of the event, and Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, well known musician, is chairman of the Music committee.

Newton Community Club

Mrs. Harry M. Weber, chairman of Moving Pictures in the Community Service committee of the Newton Community Club, is circulating a petition in an effort to secure more wholesome pictures for children to see, especially in the one moving picture theatre in Newton. The so-called bloc system, by which theatre managers have to sign to put on certain pictures by certain companies, in order to secure the excellent ones desired, often makes for a most objectionable combination.

Perhaps results can be obtained by this direct petition to a given producer, which Mrs. Weber offers for signature, if all clubwomen in Newton will give her the assistance of their names.

Indirectly, also, while this petition specializes in mention of programs for children, it may result in a better combination for adult audiences, for even if adults are supposed to be "sophisticated," there is the possibility that even they prefer to see something that at least leaves a pleasant impression, instead of a revolting one.

Needless to say, the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs endorses most heartily this petition, and clubwomen are urged to sign it and so make it effective, if possible.

The petition reads as follows: To Paramount Pictures Corporation, New York City Headquarters, Whereas, it frequently occurs that a picture unsuitable and objectionable to children is shown on the same bill as one particularly appealing to them, and, at the same time, prizes are offered as a special inducement to draw them to such programs:

Therefore, We, the undersigned, members of the Women's Clubs of Newton, earnestly request that you endeavor to correct this condition, particularly at the Paramount Theatre, Newton, where the majority of the afternoon audience is made up of children.

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Christmas party which the West Newton Women's Educational Club gave Friday, December 23rd, to the ladies at Stone Institute, proved to be a most joyous occasion.

The president, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, conducted a regular club meeting, and then turned the program over to Mrs. Henry L. Goodman, chairman of the day.

Mrs. E. A. Dockstader's readings of the "Christmas Story" from Ben Hur, and selections from Kate Douglas Wiggin's "Timothy's Quest" received much applause and were successful in awakening the proper spirit for the Christmas Carols which followed.

Supper was served to the members of the Institute, and each one received a beautifully-decorated hat box filled with fruit, candy, and daintily-wrapped gifts.

It would be difficult to say who enjoyed the party more, the Club members or the elderly people at the Institute, but all were unanimous in expressing their appreciation of Mrs. Goodman's efforts to make the day a success.

On Wednesday morning some of the members of the Board of Directors of the Centre and other friends enjoyed filling Christmas stockings which were given on Thursday afternoon to all those children who had not had a special party given them by some organization or particular friend.

On Thursday afternoon 150 children of the Centre met at the Stearns School for the party given for all the members of the Centre. Two plays were presented by the children "Christmas Candles" and "Star Bright." Stories were told and ice cream served. A number of the Board Members assisted as well as some of the teachers of the school and the school nurse: Mrs. Auryansen, Mrs. Cecil Clark, Miss Lucy Cobb, Miss Marguerite Fuller, Miss Esther Smith, Miss Mary Welch and Miss Hazel Stewart.

Dixie Jubilee Singers Here Sunday

This Quartette of Dixie Jubilee Singers Will Be Supported by a Negro Woman's Chorus of Eighteen Voices at the Newton M. E. Church Sunday Evening

The Dixie Jubilee Singers, a Negro quartet, supported by a Negro Women's Chorus of eighteen voices, will render a program at the Newton Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of Centre and Wesley sts., this coming Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Dixie Jubilee Singers are well known to New England audiences, having sung during the past years over stations WEEZ, WEEA, WAAAB and WEEI as well as for churches, clubs and in concert halls. They are one of the finest Negro quartets available. Within recent weeks they sang, supported by the chorus, at the Fine Arts Theatre and were received most enthusiastically. These Negroes are from the South and will sing the spirituals in an unforgettable way—as only the Negro can sing them. Rev. Mr. Hill will preach a Book Sermon based on Marc Connelley's ingenious play "The Green Pastures." You are invited to these inspiring and informing services.

NEWTON MAN GIVES VIEWS ON DEPRESSION

Here is what Mr. Thomas Gallinelli of Silver Lake Chevrolet Company of Newton has to say about depression. "There isn't any depression in this country. A country with depression is one that has no materials of brains. This country has both materials and brains but it needs money. Money can be manufactured cheaper than clothes, groceries or automobiles. Now why not give the people money when they are willing to work for it."

"This country talks about depression. A country with a depression is one that has no material but this is not true of our country as we are overstocked. Let me tell you how we can help this condition."
1. Give more wages.
2. Take the weight out of deposit vaults and start a small factory at a small profit. Instead of making your son a lawyer to fight criminal cases make him manufacture clothes for children that need them.
"I will tell you a story about a man that was looking for work in one of the Newton Hills. He was frozen and a lady called him to put her ash barrels out and she gave him fifty cents. The man went to the nearest dry goods store and bought a pair of gloves that the lady's husband had manufactured so she got her money back. This is what I am trying to bring out. It is up to you who have money to start something for the poor workers. The laborer spends practically all he earns and they are the ones who should enjoy the great wealth."
"Now, I operate a Chevrolet Sales & Service Station in Nonantum and employ eighteen men and my employees have automobiles for luxury and I like to see them enjoy themselves for they should."

"Here in Nonantum we have some factories that are idle and we would like to see somebody do something so Newton can keep her wealth. Buy in the Newtons so that we can pay our taxes next year, for in Newton we have everything for you, automobiles and department stores."
